Union Memorial Services.

Memorial services in honor of the late President in the Beaver Memorial church was heldlast Thursday. At 2:30 p. m., that place of worship which seats twelve hundred people, was filled to overflowing. The G. A. R. members occupied a prominent place and all the churches of town were represented by their pastor on the pulpit. The college and all business places of the town were closed. The address was delivered by Dr. Harris, of Bucknell University. We can give but a brief outline of it.

The event which we commemorate is a revelation, just as a flash of lightning will reveal for a moment a whole landscape and make it bright in contrast to the darkness, so this sudden event reveals important facts to the world.

(1.) It is a revelation of human depravity. It shows us the depth to which man can descend. There is no depth of degredation but what there can be a lower. It is characterized by "the bottomless pit." On the other hand there is no place of human goodness but there can be a higher, for the President has been promoted from the highest post of honor in the gift of men to a still higher.

The fact that the deed was done and the treacherous manner in which it was was committed startles us all, but we are startled most because it was done from principle. As this degeneracy was caused by wrong teaching, so its remedy is found in the teaching of correct principles. In this we see that none are safe unless all are safe.

This principle is not American. It comes to us from across the waters. It has arisen from years of tyranny and oppression. The continvance of our free institutions, and our freedom of speech and its spread will finally overcome it.

(2.) It is a revelation of the unity of the Christian church. The whole church of Christ is looking to God in faith and He will answer, as he did in the case of Stephen though "devout men carried him to the grave," yet the conversion of Saul of Tarsus soon followed. It was God's will to promote the President and he will answer the prayer of His people.

(3.) It revealed the unity of the nation. A feeling of national unity, and a thrill of national life passes through this great nation at a time like this. Bells are tolled from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from the Gulf to Canada.

(4.) It revealed the stability and strength of the nation, no break, no change, no fluctuation of market and no dissolution followed, calmly and quietly another takes the place of the fallen president.

(5.) It reveals the majestic self-control of the American people. Due respect to the law is shown in giving the assassin a fair trial and able counsel.

(6.) It reveals the brotherhood of man. Nations are not united because of the easy means of communication but because they are one in heart.

All nations were in mourning and sent messages to Mrs. McKinley and our nation. English soldiers wore crape and service were held in Westminister Abbey. All this was a revelation of the brotherhood man.

President McKinley was greatly blessed in his life and in his death. He lived through the war and long enough to see his country happy, united and prosperous. He did not fall as many other did before he saw the results of his work. He was successful in public life and in the solving of the many problems that confronted him. He fell when standing as chief and alone.

He was blessed in his domestic relations and in his friends and in the time of his death. It was a blessing to him and his country that he was spared to deliver that last address at Buffalo, which expressed such noble sentiment. The days of consciousness left to him were also a blessing.

While we lament our loss and have our sympathy for the widow, yet "it is God's way." We would like to have him with us, yet he went down as the sun full orbed. He died in the performance of his duty and takes his place among the great moral forces of the world.

The Football Prospects.

Observing the practice games of the past week and noting the material already on hand, one must come to the conclusion that the prospects for a good team this fall is very bright. Several of the old men are back and at their places among whom are Capt. Stanton, Taylor, Gillis, Barrett, Wilcox, Senn, Heidenreicht and Johnson. These were not all on the 'Varsity team last fall and may not all be on this fall, but they will keep the men hustling, who do get on. A great many new men are here also and many of them will be on the 'Varsity team.

There is Shipp, of Shamokin, who will be a candidate for centre, weight 203 pounds, Douglass, of Bradford, who expects to be a candidate for right end. He weighs 165 pounds and will make his rival hustle, whoever that may be. We also have McCormick, Lehigh's old full back, and he is a good one, his weight is 166, and his experience in that position promises to be very valuable to the team. We need not comment on his record at Lehigh, as that is well known to all.

Then Jones, of Williamsport, is a promising man for the future. It is not definite what position he will strive for, but no doubtwill be a strong man. Cockhill, of Kutstown Normal, will be in the race for quarterback. He will be a valuableman in the race. Reichart will make an effort for tackle and is a promising man. He comes to us from Wyoming Seminary. Ross plays well at end, and his outlook is bright. McCabe, comes to us from Dickinson, and will play for the present as a candidate for tackle. And Blackwood from Scranton H. S., also plays at tackle. McMahon, from W. & J. is also a promising man for some position on the team. He has not fully decided what position that will be. There may

Dr. Harris' Lecture.

The opening lecture was delivered before the students of the college by President Harris this morning. In his masterly way the President discussed the points of man's being for which we must strive if we would attain true success. A brief outline only can be given.

(1.) Kindness.

Kindness is one of the points which must be cultivated. Kindly feeling kindly expressed. It is partly a gift of nature but can be cultivated. Backwardness often keeps us from expressing our feeling. It is necessary that we look at the best there is in men. Again, it can be cultivated in our speech. Constantly speak of the good there is in our fellowmen. Speaking evil of persons has a debasing the speaker. In the third place, it can be cultivated by kindly actions. No man can succeed without friends. Man must be kindly always. It increases one's usefullness.

(2.) Moral Character.

This must be developed. Principles of Ethics can be taught, but each one must develop his own character. A man is greatly handicapped in getting a position of any kind by a bad character. "The fabric of our civilization rests wholly upon character." A man must be moral in character if he would succeed in any of the professions. In business no man can be successful, unless he is honest.

(3.) A certain breadth and efficiency of mind.

In this the faculty can help more than in the other two. In order to get breadth, a student must not confine himself to one department. A man can be a bigot in intellectual matters as well as in religion. Breadth of view is the cure for bigotry. A man must be able to see both sides of a question. Illustrated by the appointment of the Philippine Commission.

(4.) A certain presistence and efficiency of will.

We must get in the habit of meeting and conquering obstacles. This cultivates the individual's will, but we must also cultivate the social will. This is done by acting in concert. We must mingle with our fellow men. This is accomplished in our plays and in the various organizations.

Y. M. C. A. Reception.

The annual reception given by the Y. M. C. A. in their new rooms in West College was a complete success exceeding the expectations of the committee in charge. While the room is not quite ready for occupancy yet all were agreeably surprised, the surroundings being of such a nature as to insure a welcome to all. The early part of the evening was of a social nature, after which the speakers of the evening were introduced by the Vice President.

Dr. Hulley's address was not only entertaining, but very instructive. At the outset he stated that while his would be an informal talk, yet the subject chosen was "a three story house," the physical, intellectual and spiritual side of person's life. He said in part, that while physical culture was a necessity, yet it should not be carried to the extreme, that a certain amount of exercise was necessary, for a solid foundation upon which the intellectual was to be builded, that in that a solid foundation, the intellectual is insecure.

The intellectual said the speaker is very important though not the most important, yet the aim of all should be to develop this one story, this part of human nature. The most important, and that which is not to be neglected is the spiritual. "To be good is better than to be intellectual."

Edgar Shields, of the class, of '01, the next speaker, strongly emphasized what had already been said, that a college man should be a well rounded man.

Capt. Stanton the last speaker of the evening, prefaced his remarks with a stony continuing by saying, that instead of a three story house spoken of by Dr. Hulley he wished to present a four story one. That the Ideal College Man should be a well rounded man, developing all sides of his nature, physical, social, intellectual, and spiritual, that we should not become dwarfed. He closed by urging all to have a time for all things, a time for athletics, for social affairs, for books, for religious meetings. The addresses were followed by refreshments during which time Mr. G. Marsh, class '05, rendered some music on the banjo, also Mr. Livsy, class '04, entertained the company by giving several selections with his phonograph. Thus the evening closed, all having enjoyed not only an evening entertainment, but one of instruction, having gathered some lessons, which will be of assistance throughout the college course.

Bucknell-Indian Game.

At a meeting of those in charge of athletics at Bucknell, held last Tuesday evening, plans were outlined for making the Bucknell-Indian game, scheduled for October 12 at Williamsport, a big success. Among those present were Dr. F. E. Rockwood of the advisory board, W. C. Gretzinger of the finance committee, Capt. Stanton and Coach Hoskins.

Owing to the absence of Manager Chas. E. Goodall who was called to his home in Camden on account of the illness and death of his father, Ned Burrows, 1902, was requested to serve in the capacity of manager temporarily or until the return of Goodall.

Messrs. Gretzinger and Burrows were selected to perfect arrangements for the Indian game and they will spare no pains in order to make it a howling success.

A monster mass meeting will be held Friday evening in the Bucknell hall strenous efforts will be exerted to boom athletics at the University.

Mr. Burrows, acting manager of the team and Mr. Gretzinger were at Williamsport on Saturday making arrangements for the game. They have established Bucknell headquarters at the Park Hotel and all arrangements are complete. Visitors can get dinner and supper there at a reduced rate. All students should attend this game.

Once more The ORANGE AND BLUE extends its greetings to the students of the University. What we have always done for the students, and even more if possible, we will do in the future. So we come to you earnestly soliciting your patronage and support. We need the aid of the entire student body in order that we may keep pace with the advancement of the institution.

It should be the aim of every student to familiarize himself or herself with the customs and workings of the school as soon as possible. There is no better way of doing this than by subscribing to the college publications. The ORANGE AND BLUE will record with editorial comment all the current events of the year. So let every student be a subscriber to the college weekly.

Our manager has already received many subscriptions from the students for which we are grateful, and if he has not yet seen you he will call on you in the near future. Be ready to give him your subscription. You are needed in making the publication a success. We need your support financial and otherwise. We are always ready to receive notes and suggestions. The editors will try to please their patrons. May we not have your co-operation?

Saturday's Game.

The 'Varsity football eleven played its first game of the season on Saturday afternoon, having for its opponents a team representing the Lewisburg Athletic Club which, however, was composed chiefly of players on the college's second team. The contest resulted in a score of 18 to 5 in favor of the 'Varsity, two short halves being played.

The 'Varsity clearly out classed their opponents and would have prevented them from scoring but for a fluke play shortly after the game started. The ball was passed to Douglass, who was tackled by an opposition player. As Douglass fell, Joe Stanton took the ball from him and before any person could realize what had happened was speeding down the field with the pigskin. Vorse failed to kick goal. After that L. A. C. never came within sight of her opponent's goal, while the 'Varsity scored three touchdowns, McCormick kicking goal on each. The 'Varsity was at a disadvantage in that most of the plays were called off, instead of signals being given.

The college eleven showed a decided lack of practice and while there was good individual playing, team work was wanting. This is not to be wondered at, though, for the men are nearly all new. Coach Hoskins and Captain Stanton are confident that they can develope a good team out of the material at hand. Everything consided, Bucknell's prospects in football are very good indeed.

The two teams lined up as follows:

BUCKNELL.		L. A. C.
Wilcox	left guard	J. Stanton
Shipp	center	Thompson
Gilles	right guard	Marsh
Johnson	right tackle	Myers
Douglass	right end	Weigle
Cockhill	quarter back	Walls
MacMahon	right half	Carruthers
F. Stanton	left half	Darlington
McCormick	full back	Vorse

Substitution, Senn, for MacMahon; Jones for Reigord; Dougloss for F. Ross for Dougloss. Touch-downs, F. Stanton, McCormick, Wilcox, J. Stanton. Goals, McCormick 3.

The Literary Societies.

The two literary societies of the college, Theta Alpha and Eupia, have already posted their programs arranged for their first meeting on next Friday evening at 7.30. They desire that all new members be present and become active members. By an arrangement with the faculty the students are chosen to the society to which they are to become a member. In this way only can the societies be kept equal in number. The present officers and members hope that you will decide to take an active part in the society to which you are assigned.

The Zeta is also prepared to receive the young ladies and invite all such to join her.

Calicopean will look after the boys of the academy. It is important that all new men attend these first meetings.

Institute Items.

The Seminary opened with an unusually large number of new students.

Miss Grace Slifer, of the class of '98, has been secured as teacher for the coming year.

The College Settlement Association gave a reception Saturday evening in the parlors. This gave an opportunity to become acquainted with the students.

be a few others whom the writer has missed, as many of the men are strangers to us.

To say that the outlook is bright is putting it very mildly. Never before have we had so many good candidates for the positions as we have at present, and these are heavy weights too. Coach Hoskins is very busy training the men to work together. At present there is good individual playing but poor team work. This is just what one would expect from men coming from all parts of the country and never having played together, but with very little practice we will have one of the best teams that we have ever had at Bucknell. Our game next Saturday is with Wyoming Seminary and will be played here on our field. This will be a practice game and will reveal the strength or weakness of our team. It will be a hard task to select the team, having so many good men, but all will receive attention and the selections will be made without fear or favor. This prospect for a good team is the natural result of the increased attendance at the college, so Bucknell has a bright future before her in more ways than one.

OPENING GAME OF FOOTBALL.

Bucknell-5, Wyoming-0.

The first game of football on Bucknell's schedule for this fall was played last Saturday afternoon on the campus.

The result of the game was a victory for Bucknell.

Shortly after 2:30 p. m. the game was called coach Hoskins and Mr. Boll acting as officials, alternately referee and umpire. Although the visiting team was much lighter in weight than ours, yet to say the least, Wyoming made things decidedly interesting and only by the most careful playing was a touch-down finally made.

Nevertheless, we are more than pleased to record a victory and hope that it is but the first of many.

The whole game was greatly marred by constant fumbles on the part of Bucknell. Shortly after the opening of the first half, Bucknell had steadily advanced the ball close to Wyoming's goal line when a costly fumble lost the ball for Bucknell. Taggart, Wyoming's full-back, by a miss punt, returned the ball to the middle of the field. Bucknell again forceibly advanced the ball skirting the ends and bucking the line for big gains. Soon Wyoming's goal line was in danger. McCormick was given the ball and hit the opposing team's line passing over their goal line; but before the touch down could be made the ball was fumbled and again lost to Wyoming. The most of the playing this half was done on Wyoming's territory but Bucknell was unable to force the ball over their line.

The first half closed neither side scoring.

The second half opened, Wyoming considerably weakened. During this half Coxe took Frishy's place at left end and Winters relieved Simons at left half back. Bucknell took some what of a brace this half but again made one or two costly fumbles. The fumble made by Bucknell on Wyoming's fifteen-yard-line lost the ball for Bucknell and kept our team from making a touch down early in the half. Soon the pig skin was regained and this time Gillis was pushed over the line for the only touch down.

McCormick missed the goal.

Our boys were working hard for another touch down when time was called.

Score Bucknell-5, Wyoming-0.

The features of the game were the long runs made by McCormick, Barrett and Stanton. The bucking of the line by Gillis, Taylor and McCormick. Wyoming's ends also played a nice game.

The weak points of our team noticed were: luck of team work; poor interference and inexcusable fumbling.

However, we are not discouraged over this game but we believe that it is but the making of the team.

Following is the line up.

BUCKNELL	Position	WYOMING
Shipp	centre	Kranter
Gillis	right guard	Weatherman
Johnson	right tackle	Rogers
Doughlass	right end	Maxwell
Cockhill	quarter back	Hartman
Santon	left half back	Simons
McMahon	right hand back	Biddow
McCormick	full back	Taggart

Substitute Coxe for Frishys, Winters for Simons. Touch down Gillis. Time of halves 15 and 20 minutes. Officials Hoskins and Boll. Timekeepers Marsh and Johns.

A Mass Meeting.

The student body held a large and enthusiastic mass meeting in Bucknell Hall last Friday night. The object of the meeting was to create more of a spirit and interest in football on the part of the student body and particularly to make preparations for the Bucknell-Indian game to be played at Williamsport Oct. 12. Burrowes, '02, called the meeting to order and was duly elected presiding chairman. After a short but pithy address Mr. Burrowes introduced our famous coach Hoskins who in a manner becoming the coach, gave the boys many points to think about. He insisted that the team, in order to be successful must have the financial and physical support of the student body. Let more students attend the games; let a greater interest be taken in the daily practice and above all let us have a good strong reserve team. This is what the coach desires to see.

Taylor, Wilcox and Shipp each made a few remarks, which were attentively listened to: McCracken, president of the Athletic association, was then introduced. He gave a brief history of our athletic relations with State college; drawing a marked contrast between our old rival State and our new rival—the Indians.

Many suggestions were offered in regard to making the day at Williamsport a success.

College yells were given in order that the new men might have an opportunity to learn them.

Other meetings will be held from time to time and it is earnestly hoped that the student body will take an interest in them, creating an enthusiasm and arousing a spirit of loyalty, most needed at this time for the success of our team.

The Bucknell-Indian Game.

Last week we announced that Bucknell's headquarters were established at the Park Hotel, at Williamsport for the game on Oct. 12th. We have since learned that the Indians have also established their headquarters there. They expect to have their band there and no doubt will make things lively. The Indians and Bucknell are on the most friendly terms and this game will serve only to increase their friendship. It will indeed be quite a novelty in the football world to see two rival colleges establish headquarters at the same hotel and get along well.

That game is going to be one which no one should miss. The reduced rate for boarding and carfare will make the expenses very moderate and no student can afford to miss this game.

Bucknell will be organized and will have a great parade and no doubt the Indians are preparing in like manner so that day will be a great event in our college history. Some no doubt will remain at home and regret it always but the great majority of the students will be there.

Preliminary Hearing.

The preliminary hearing of Edward Arnold, charged with the murder of Wm. Denton (colored), took place before Squire Nesbit this morning at 10:00 o'clock. District Atty. Glover was assisted by W. R. Follmer, and Mr. Wilkinson acted as counsel for the defense. It appears that both these parties had been traveling with a show owned by Mr. Westlake until Saturday previous to the murder, when they were discharged. They happened to be in Lewisburg on account of the fair here. The first witness called was Dr. Frank Catherman. The doctor was coming down Market street at about 11:45 p. m. when he saw two colored men and one white man coming down the street quarreling.

At first the quarrel was about a hat, then later about a knife, witness passed them and went on about 75 or 100 ft, when he heard a noise, and looking back saw to men fighting. He ran back, but the two men had fallen before he reached them. Witness did not know which one was on top. He grabbed one by the wrist but it was slippery, and the witness could not hold him. After the witness pulled one off the other they got up and struck several blows at each other when the colored man fell dead. Arnold then begged the witness to send for a doctor, but on being informed that he was talking to a doctor he was anxious to know if the man was dead, lamented and wished himself dead. Witness took part in the post-mortem examination. He said several wounds were found upon the body, but the one that caused his death, was in the left side. The knife had penetrated the pericardium and entered the right ventricle of the heart.

Dr. T. C. Thornton was then called. He testified as to the condition of the body, and gave the same testimony concerning it as Dr. Catherman had given. Mr. Westlake was the third witness called. He identified the prisoner as the man whom he had employed.

Albert Watt (colored) was next called. He was the man who was with Arnold and Denton on the evening of the murder. He testified as to the places where they had been that evening but knew very little of the murder.

Irene Orndorf was called last. She had been awakened by the noise in the street, and looking out of the window saw the colored man had a brick but dropped it. He struck the man, knocking him down. Witnsss was sure that Denton was the aggressor.

The prisoner was committed to jail to await trial, and the witnesses gave bail for their appearance.

Y. M. C. A. Greeting.

To the students of Bucknell University. Another year has begun and with that begining have come new duties. Studies, doubly irksone in the warm weather, have been renewed; the athletic field with every attractive game of football upon it engages our attention, the literary societies also claim our attention for one night in the week at least and there are many other things to be done which lack of space forbids us from mentioning. All these should be engaged in, for they are a part of a man's college life.

But now with all these many diversions and tasks let us not forget our plain duty. We have been put in this world by a Creator whose only request is that we obey Him. The Y. M. C. A. is the means by which we may signify our obedience by working for Him.

Then on the other hand not only do we neglect our duty by not engaging in Christain work but we miss a good bit of the best that is in life. The Y. M. C. A. is the uplifting, inspiring part of a man's college course. It is there where a student begins to put in practice the everything for which he attends college, the helping and betterment of man's higher nature. It is there where the fellows talk over the problems met with in college, there the worrisome questions of the student life are discussed.

Now, no doubt a good many of the student body will claim no interest in this work inasmuch as they are not ministerial students. So much the greater reason why one should attend. If your life work is not to be for God then your odd moments should be more thoroughly filled with service for Him.

So let us not hang back with excuses upon our lips but let our religious duty be performed as willingly and joyfully as the football game is watched.

The Y. M. C. A. meets each Tuesday evening. We realize that attendance upon a religious meeting in itself is well nigh worthless but you do your part and come, and the Y. M. C. A. will endeavor to carry out its share of the responsibility by providing warm helpful, devotional meetings.

It makes no difference to what class a man belongs; neither is it taken into consideration to what branch of the Christian church he adheres, the Y. M. C. A. has need of him, and in turn will be a benefit to him.

So, to those who have been with us before we would say make this time of renewal of studied also a renewal of spiritual in spiritual life; to the new student this word—a right start is a most important thing and so let this beginning of college life be also the beginning of such a growth in grace that it will be a memorable epoch in the life of each one.

Resolution.

WHEREAS, It has pleased God in his infinite wisdom to remove from this life the mother of our beloved classmate, Charles Teufel, and,

WHEREAS, our classmate has sustained in this sad event an irreparable loss.

Be it resolved that we the members of the class of 1904 extend to our classmate our most heart-felt sympathy in this hour of breavement and be it further resolved that a copy of these resolutions be entered in the minutes of the class and that they be published in the "ORANGE AND BLUE."

The persons who have been disturbing the college by the shooting of revolvers would do well to stop it at once. While we are free from restraint in our conduct, yet we are expected to render "reasonable conformity to reasonable laws." We would say then for the benefit of our new men that this is quite an offense and that it will save very much unpleasantness both to the offenders and to the authorities if it is discontinued.

The managers in athletics are showing the proper spirit and taking the the proper course in holding mass-meetings early in the season. Our game with the Indians comes quite early and it is important that all of our boys should know the yells, songs, etc. We expect to have these printed and distributed at the next meeting so that all may learn them. Let every one turn out to this meeting. Bring along horns, cow-bells and any thing that will make a noise.

The class of '05 is to be congratulated because of the large number of their members who are taking an interest in the literary societies. At each of the societies the attendance on Friday evening was exceptionally large. This is the proper start to make, and we hope that each one will continue to attend and take an active part during his whole course. The benefit to be derived from literary society work is inestimable and almost indispensable to the highest success of a college man.

Increase Attendance.

Bucknell University opened last Friday under the most auspicious circumstances, with a larger number of new students enrolled than in the history of the college, and there are a number yet to come.

There were enrolled for the fall term about one hundred and thirty admissions to the college of liberal arts, one hundred and three of whom are Freshmen, the largest class ever enrolled.

The institution has broadened its scope, and has opened several new departments, which required several additions to the faculty force.

Great improvements have been made to the college buildings and grounds during the summer. The steam heating and power plant is about finished, and the pipes are laid to supply all the college buildings with warmth from the central plant.

Bucknell has made rapid strides in the last several years, and has forged to the front as one of the best institutions in the state.

Several changes have occured in the corps of instructers. Professor G. C. L. Reimer, of Harvard University, assumed the chair of Modern Languages. Other new instructors are: Thomas Johnson Morris and Miss Grace Slifer.

Some of them have returned and these, with other students of the University, have expressed their intention to complete the course. We hope they will be able to do so without going elsewhere and that the Engineering department at Bucknell will receive the same attention as that of law and medicine.

Academy Notes.

H. C. Munro spent Sunday with his parents at White Hall.

J. J. Owens, of Scranton, returned Monday, Sept. 23, from his summer vacaction.

The Calliopean Literary Society met Friday night, and was largely attended by old and new students. The interest shown indicates a thriving society this year.

On account of the county fair all classes were dismissed Thursday afternoon to recite on Saturday morning. Many of the students took advantage of the day off and spent the afternoon on the fair grounds.

Institute Items.

Messrs. Marsh, Hadyn Prout and brother, gave a music recital at the Seminary Friday evening. It was highly appreciated and enjoyed by all. The program was as follows:

Bible Study Class.

The session of Y. M. C. A. Bible classes will be resumed to-night at 9:00 p. m. The Seniors and Juniors will meet in the Y. M. C. A. rooms in the East Wing, and will be led in their study by Rev. J. T. Judd. The Sophomore class will be conducted in room V by Prof. W. G. Owens. Mr. Shields, the recorder of Union Co., will work with the Freshman class in room H. Come out to-night everyone.

Football at Bucknell.

The football prospects at the college this year are of a rather promising nature. The team will again be coached by Geo. W. Hoskins and captained by Frank Stanton. Of the old men who are expected to report are Brant, Gillus, Taylor, Stanton, Teufel, Wiegel, Sheppard, Wilcox and Johnson. To this will be added a number of the college men who did not report for practice last year but have had football experience, among this number are Joe Stanton, Galbrath, Tiffany, Sigel, Senn, Eisenmenger and Zerby. Some of last years "Scrubs" should be promising men this year.

Little can be said of the new men until they are given a trial, but from reports the Freshman class will furnish more football material than any class since the entree of 1902 which class brought, Matthewson, Stanton, Pritchard and Ammerman.

The schedule which Bucknell plays this year is a much more difficult one than they have had for years. Every game except the opening one is a college game. Three new games have been introduced. Carlisle Indians at Williamsport Oct. 12. Gettysburg college at Lewisburg, Pa., on Nov. 2nd, and Washington and Jefferson at Pittsburg, Pa., on Nov 6th. University of Pennsylvania is again on the schedule and if the reports be true of Pennsylvania's prospects Bucknell should give them a close game.

The game with the Indians at Williamsport and the game with Gettysburg at Lewisburg should be of much interest to the people of Lewisburg for for both the Indians and Gettysburg promise to be very fast teams. The schedule for this year is as follows:

Oct. 5th Cornell University at Ithaca, N. Y.
Oct. 12th, Carlisle Indians at Williamsport.
Oct. 19th, University of Penn'a at Phila.
Oct. 26th, Lehigh University at Bethlehem.
Nov. 9th, Washington and Jefferson at Pittsburg, Pa.
Nov. 16th, Susquehanna University at Lewisburg.
Nov. 23rd, University of Buffalo at Buffalo, N. Y.

Cornell Bucknell Game.

Bucknell's supporters, as a whole are very greatly pleased with the game put up by the orange and blue at Ithaca on Saturday, when Cornell obtained her only score on a fluke. Some may have hoped for a victory, but when we consider the long night ride to Ithaca, the playing on strange grounds with no rooters at hand, the other handicaps incident to a game away from home, and above all, the calibre, of their opponents, it must be conceded by everyone that Bucknell put up a magnificent game, certainly one for her followers to be proud of. And they are proud of it too.

The game called promptly at 3.30, when Cornell kicked off from centre. Bucknell returned the kick and Cornell at once began a series of short, steady rushes and end runs that carried the ball to Bucknell's ten yard line. Here Cornell was penalized for foul, Bucknell getting the ball. Bucknell attempted to kick out of danger, but a poor pass caused by interference at center sent the ball rolling along the ground and Cornell's ends were upon it back of our goal line, scoring their first and only touch down on a fluke. The goal was kicked, making the six points. This score came after ten minutes of play.

Bucknell now kicked off to Cornell, who rushed the ball back to the 30 yard line, where they made an unsuccessful attempt at a field goal.

Bucknell again kicked off and Brewster caught the ball for Cornell, running it back 30 yards behind excellent interference. On the 40 yard line Cornell again fouled, and Bucknell was given the ball. Bucknell tried her guards back formation, but Cornell's line held and they secured the ball on downs. Bucknell again got the ball on an off side play, and again found the Cornell line impregnable. On the third down Bucknell punted. Cornell secured the pig skin and had landed it on her own 50 yard line when the half ended—score 6—0.

When Bucknell kicked off in the second half Schellkoff, Cornell's fullback received the ball on his own 50 yard line and was quickly thrown. A decided brace was in our line and Cornell was unable to gain her distance, the ball going over to Bucknell. Gillis was given the ball for two substantial gains and McCormick kicked. Cornell brought the ball back 25 yards. Bucknell's line again held and Cornell lost the ball on downs. Cornell returned the compliment and recaptured the pigskin. Cornell at once began a spirited attack on the tackles and ends, carrying the ball to Bucknell's 2 yard line. Here the line put up a stone wall defense and Cornell was unable to gain a foot in her four downs. Bucknell at once kicked, Cornell catching the ball on the 35 yard line. Bucknell's line held well at this point, but suffered a penalty of ten yards for offside play. Cornell continued to pound the line, but could make only short gains. The half quickly ended with the ball on Bucknell's 4 yard line. Cornell having been unable to earn a single score in either half of the hard contested game.

The boys are deserving of the greatest praise for their fine game, and even Cornell is not slow in giving them full credit for their excellent work.

We desire to be no less liberal, and assure the men of the football team that they have the sympathy, support and confidence of the student body and faculty, and that we congratulate them upon their fine work on Saturday. Perhaps the best compliment we can give them is to say they did just what we expected of them, and the college is looking for a repetition of their magnificent work on Saturday next, at Williamsport.

Christian Endeavor Social.

For several years one of the leading social events of the opening of the school year has been the social given by the Christian Endeavor Society of the Baptist Church, which society is composed mainly of Bucknell students. And we are safe in saying that the social given on Saturday evening was one of the largest as well as one of the most pleasant ever held, there being in all nearly three hundred present.

Each person on entering was handed an envelope which contained several lines of classic mother goose rhymes. Each person was required to look for the missing lines of their rhyme. Then for an hour or more the timid freshman intermingled with the fair "Semite" and the dignified senior. After which Pres. Ulmer called the audience to order and introduced Miss Schillinger who in a very pleasing and entertaining way recited "Home Sweet Home." and "A Little Boy's Brave Story." Miss Knox was then introduced, who sang a delightful solo and responded to an encore. The committee on refreshments then waited on all present with ice cream and cake. The anxious eye of the Seminary teacher told all present only too soon that the time had come to depart, all feeling that they had spent a pleasant and enjoyable evening, and that much credit was due to the committee on entertainment Miss Martin, Miss Race and Miss Hall.

Orange and Blue Board.

At a meeting of the ORANGE AND BLUE Board held on Saturday the following officers were elected:

Pres.—T. L. Williams, '02,
Vice Pres.—J. E. Glaspy, '03,
Sec.—E. T. Stephenson, '03,
Treas.—E. P. Heckert, '02.

Bucknell Vs. Indians.

The Bucknell warriors are soon to meet the Redmen. Interest is being manifested on both sides; each school has its supporters and hopeful admirers while each team expresses a determination of winning.

Enthusiasm is running high, and it is expected that there will be a large crowd of sportsmen at the park in Williamsport to witness the battle.

Because last year's game was not played to a finish, it was feared by some that the proper interest would not be taken in the game by the Williamsport people; but the papers, from that city, state that enthusiasm is greater than ever and that everyone is looking forward to a nice, clean, scientific game of football.

The Indians are playing fast ball this year, but have the same drawback as Bucknell, in that few of their old players have returned, and quite a number of inexperienced players are there to take the place of those experienced in their positions.

Coach Warner has not yet decided in what positions the different men will play, owing to the fact that the team is undeveloped. It is probable that the men will play in the following order. Their weights follow the names:

Center—Scroggs, 190 lbs; Chesaw, Shuchuk.
Right guard—Dillon, 185 lbs; White.
Right tackle—Lubo, 168 lbs, Sannock.
Right end—Hare, 145 lbs: Coleman, Taliyopa.
Quarterback—Johnson, 140 lbs; Hare, Shelden.
Right halfback—Yarlot, 150 lbs; Saul, Wize.
Fullback—Williams, 175; Palmer.

Average weight, line 172½ lbs; average weight, team 160½ lbs.

Bucknell's line up will proably be as follows. The weights of the men, as they were in the beginning of the seasons follows the names:

Center—Shipp, 203½ lbs.
Right guard—Gillis, 196 lbs.
Right tackle { McMahon, 174 lbs. / Johnson, 160 lbs.
Right end—Douglass, 167 lbs.
Quarter back—Smith, 135 lbs.
Right half back—Cockill, 162 lbs.
Full back—McCormick, 167 lbs.

The promising substitutes are Senn, Heidenreich, Thompson, Carruthers, Monroe, Jones, Reichart, Barton and Vorse.

The officials chosen for next Saturday's game are George Young, of Cornell, and F. A. Godcharles, of Lafayette.

The relative merits of the two institutions in athletics in the past may be seen from the following records:

FOOTBALL.

The Literary Societies.

For the encouragement of literary society work we will give each week a very brief account of the work in our societies. On Friday evening, very interesting programs were rendered as follows:

In the Theta Alpha, Scoville, '05, gave the current topic and was followed by Sutton, '04, who gave a character sketch of President Roosevelt. Sheldon, '03, then gave a very interesting and humorous account of his experience at the Pan-American Exposition. The fourth number was an able discussion of the Schley-Sampson controversy. Roby, '04, defending Schley and Karge, '04, upholding Sampson. After a discussion of the football prospects by Thompson, '04, the question of enacting more stringent laws for the punishment and prevention of anarchy was debated, Messrs. Hunsberger, '04, and Sheppard, '05, taking the affirmative, and Messrs. Ealy, '04, and Blackwood, '05, the negative. The whole program was excellent and showed much careful preparation.

In Eucepia, the program was no less interesting. Hess, '05, was the first on the program with a declamation and was followed by Livezsy, '04, with a humorous selection. Gilmore, '05, gave the current events including some very local and recent happenings. Reilly, '02, in an extemporaneous speech, then gave a very good discussion of the "present condition of anarchy." The debate on the present movement in the Southern states in regard to the disfranchesment of the negro, was spirited and well prepared. Steininger, '03, and Griffith, '04, being opposed by Renn, '04, and Robinson, '04. Taking into account both the attendance and interest manifested, the society is to congratulated.

In another column is given the suggestion made by Mr. Rambo in reference to the Bucknell and U. of P. game on the 19th. We are pleased to give it attention and are glad to see that an interest is manifested by our old students and alumni. We urge all friends of Bucknell to act upon the suggestion. All students from here in attendance at that game should join this movement. We hope to give the public a good game on that day, and wish our friends and supporters a very enjoyable time.

We wish to say to our readers that we desire your help, your hearty co-operation in making our college paper a success. If you know of any news, write it up and hand to the editor. Have you a friend who pays you a visit; see that the fact becomes known to our local editor. If you are engaged in any business, insert an advertisement. Unless you are already a subscriber, have your name placed upon the list at once. The aim of the staff is to bring all of our readers into close touch with each other; to keep them informed on all the events of college life; and in short to make our paper the medium through which all may become acquainted with the life of our institution. We can succeed in this only to the extent of your co-operation with us. Do not fail, then, to assist us in getting the news.

There is a very great difference in the looks of a landscape caused by a change in the observer's point of view, Just so it is in life. If one always takes the pessimistic point of view, he mars the happiness of others, can not have comfort for himself, and utterly destroys his own usefullness to the world.

The habit of taking this point of view sometimes develops in college. It seems to develop from the habit of continually criticising adversely. In this way many become blinded to the good that exists all around them, and see only the bad. They are always finding fault with their friends; grumbling about every little error the athletic teams make; see only evil in all our college organizations, and in fact, are not satisfied with anything.

This is natural for men in college who have narrow minds and high ideals. We discover in college what things should be; that is, we set up a high ideal and expect everything to conform to it. However, we must learn to take things as they really are and do our best to make them better by our part in them, instead of standing off to condemn them. Adverse criticism is a good thing but it must not be allowed to blind us to the good things of life. The world grows better every day, socially, morally, and politically; and college men should be the first to recognize this fact.

Cross Country Run.

The cross country run which took place last Saturday afternoon was farely well contested.

In all, there were nine contestants, of which six were freshmen.

The race of 2½ miles was won by Elliott, academy student. Time 15 min. 32½ seconds. Flood, '05, came in second, fighting Elliott hard for first place. Laughorn came in third. The other contestants were: Tiffany, '05, Marsh, '05, Smith, '05, Lesher, '05, Buhl, '05, and Bartholomew, '03.

There will be another cross country run in three or four weeks and it is hoped that more students will take an interest in it.

All those desiring to enter the next race are requested to give their names to C. W. Tiffany, '03, captain of track team.

To Williamsport.

On account of the great Indian and Bucknell game to be played at Williamsport next Saturday, the Philadelphia & Reading Railway Co., will sell excursion tickets to the City at the low rate of single fare for round trip.

A special train will leave Lewisburg at 12.31 p.m. arriving at Williamsport at 1.30 p. m. Returning will leave Williamsport 7.00 p. m.

This special train is for the accommodation of the Bucknell students and rooters.

No student can afford to miss this great game of football. It will be the greatest game of the year. Since our team has made such a favorable showing at Cornell our hopes should run high, for victory surely perches on our shoulders.

Let all the students learn the college songs and yells; go to Williamsport and cheer our boys on to victory. At least two mass meetings will be held during the week for the purpose of getting organized for the parade and learning the yells, etc.

A Letter.

Mr. Oscar Rambo, a Philadelphia Bucknellite writes the following interesting letter:

Some of the alumni and former students have thought it would materialy encourage the team to have all Bucknell people who attend the game on the 19th sit in a body and do some cheering. As a means towards the accomplishment of this end it has been suggested that a note be inserted in the ORANGE AND BLUE for several issues prior to that date urging the attendance of all old students and B. U. sympathizers at the game, and requesting that they mobilize outside the college grounds, near the ticket office, so that seats together may be secured.

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY.
VOL. VI. LEWISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1901. No. 4.

The Game at Williamsport Carlisle 6 Bucknell 5.

The great game has been played. And a great game it was: for the 3000 enthusiastic spectator who watched the battle, pronounced it the greatest exhibition of football ever issued.

We feel proud of our team because of the defense put up for the orange and blue, and console our defeated warriors by the remarks made by many who witnessed the game:

"Surely, in such a defeat there can be no disgrace."

The game was won by a single point. Carsile, by a trick play, making a double pass, crossed our line for a touch down in the first half. Bucknell by end runs and hard fierce, bucking bucking carried the pigskin over the Carslie line in the second half. Both touch downs were made far to one side of the field, thus necessitating a punt out. In this the Indians were successfull and thus earned the privilege for a try for goal. On the same play Bucknell failed. Carslie kicked the goal, making the score 6 to Bucknell's 5.

The score indicates that neither side had a walk over. In the first half, Carlisle gained more ground by rushes and favored by the wind, had the best of the exchange of punts. In the second half Bucknell took a decided brace and although the Indians played with fierce determination they were unable to prevent their goal line from being crossed and were time after time swept to one side or the other, while Bucknell forced her way through for great gains.

McMahon's hurdling plays, McCormick's line bucking and Barretts end running were features of the game. Time nor space does not permit us to dwell upon the individual work of each man, but we are confident that each did his best and fought his hardest to win the game.

To Capt., Stanton much credit is due for the able manner in which he directed his team. We congratulate the captain and hope for continued success. Game in Detail;

FIRST HALF

The game was called promptly at 2:30 with the Indians defending the south goal, favored greatly by the wind. Bucknell took the north goal and kick off. McCormick kicked off; the punt was a long one and went to the 15 yard line and the Indians returned the ball 5 yards. In the first scrimmage they gained 3 yards through the tackle. Wheelock punted 20 yards, giving Bucknell the ball. McMahon rushed through the Indian's line for six yards, but fumbled. Johnson fell upon the ball for the Indians and Wheelock again punted. The ball went out of bounds and it was Bucknell's on the 25 yard line. Bucknell tried the line and end but could not gain. McCormick punted. The ball was the Indians at the center of the field. The Indians failed to gain and Wheelock punted. McMahon easily went through the Indian's line for 3 yards. In the next three plays Bucknell could not gain and McCormick kicked the ball thirty-five yards up the field. Indians make a big gain. Beaver carried the ball 7 yards through the line and two more plays netted 5 yards. Indians carry the ball straight down the field. They made 35 yards by straight line bucking.

Referee Young then gave the Indians ton yards for an off side play penalty. The ball was then on Bucknell's 13 yd. line. Johnson on a double pass took the ball around our left end, the end being drawn in permitted him to make an easy touchdown.

The Indians punted out. The kick was successfully heeled and Wheelock kicked the goal.

Score Carlisle 6, Bucknell 0.

McCormick kicked off 35 yds. and Wheelock returned the punt. Bucknell with the ball on her 50 yd. line could not gain. On an exchange of punts Bucknell again had the ball on her 40 yd. line. Bucknell then took a decided brace. Douglass, Barrett and Stanton each made nice gains around the Indians left end, Cockhill tried the Indians right end but failed to gain. Bucknell fumbled and Dillon fell on the ball for the Indians on the Indians 50 yd. line. Beaver gained two yards and Wheelock punted 28 yds. Bucknell's ball. Barrett gained 5 yards. Time for the first half called with the ball on Bucknell's 33 yd. line. Score, Indians 6; Bucknell 0.

SECOND HALF.

Teams line up Palmer taking Wheelock's place. Williams kicked off 50 yards. McCormick, in a beautiful run carried the ball back 25 yds. Barrett tore around the end for 25 yds. more. Two nice gains were made when McCormick fumbled, and it was the Indians ball. Palmer punted, McCormick returned. Even punts. Palmer punted 50 yds. Bucknell had the ball on their 20 yd. line, Barrett then made another sensational run and made 25 yds. around the left end of Carlisle. McCormick punted 50 yds. clear over the head of Palmer. Ball rolled on towards the Indian's goal. Palmer recovered it on the Indian's 15 yd. line. Indians gained 15 yds. and Palmer punted 45 yds. The signal was given for Barrett to take the ball, but he fumbled because of a poor pass and the ball rolled towards Bucknell's goal.

Bucknell finally secured it on their 40 yd. line. Barrett in two successive plays gained 50 yds. Bucknell then punted, the ball rolling behind the Indian's goal line, and was taken out to the 25 yd. line where Palmer kicked off. The ball was Bucknell's on the 50 yd. line.

Barrett made 20 yds. around the Indian's end. Other gains carried the ball to the Indian's 20 yd. line, Bucknell fumbled but regained the ball on the Indian's 15 yd. line and at once made a gain of 3 yards through centre. McMahon and Stanton each made gains. Indians worked hard but McMahon's hurdling was irresistable and half naked he soon carried the ball over the goal line. A punt out was attempted but failed leaving the score, Indians 6; Bucknell 5. Play had just been resumed when time was called.

Following is the line up:

Our Mass Meetings.

One of the features of the Bucknell-Indian game at Williamsport on Saturday was the systematic and constant cheering of our friends. This was evidently the result of our large and enthusiastic mass meetings held previously.

On Tuesday evening at the call of the football manager, the students gathered in Bucknell Hall for the purpose of organizing for the parade. This was effected by re-electing the field marshall of last year, McCracken, '02, and electing Bertolette, '03, as his assistant. Besides these, each class had its seperate marshall.

After the organization was completed, the college yells and songs were practiced and many enthusiastics speeches were delivered, among them one by our able coach. The meeting lasted until late in the night and then the boys were so enthusiastic that they were reluctant to break it up.

This spirit of enthusiasm again broke loose on Friday evening. The boys had decided to meet at eight o'clock for a parade through the town, but even before that time the study hour was broken by the sound of cow bells, tin horns, melodious voices, etc. At eight o'clock, some three or four hundred students had assembled in front of Bucknell Hall. Here the lighting of fire works soon disclosed the fact that all were attired in white robes. After the usual noisy demonstration, here, they formed in line and marched to the seminary, where they were greeted with much applause by the fair occupants of that building. From here, they marched toward the town, but were soon meet by the Lewisburg band. This band had learned of the parade and generously decided to head the procession. With the band at the head, a line of white figures, over three squares in length, was soon marching in a zig zag course down Market street. It was a pretty sight to see the whole line wind up in a circle under the glare of an electric light, give some college yells, sing a song or two, and then lengthen out into the old column and march off to the rapid strains of music.

After marching through all the principal streets of the town, the crowd dispersed and soon the boys were back in their rooms at the hill. It had been decided previously that all would go to Williamsport on the early train on Saturday morning and march in a body to headquarters.

As to how this was performed we quote the following from the Evening News.

"About 10.30 o'clock the streets took on for the first time the true apperance of a town given over to the mercies of the followers of the gridiron. At that hour a Reading train unloaded the Bucknell team and several hundred rooters, who marched in single file up Pine and fourth street to the Park hotel. While passing the post office the college lads took occasion to indulge in a walk-around on the broad pavement in front of the building. The lads formed all kinds of figures that would have caused a professional cake walker to turn green with envy."

Thus it is seen that the mass meetings had their effect and became a factor in game on Saturday.

Extracts From the History of Bucknell University.

For the benefit of those who have not had the opportunity of reading the history of our institution we will give a few extracts which may indicate its growth and developement.

Bucknell University was chartered by an act of the Pennsylvania Legislature and approved by Governor Shunk, on the fifth day of February, 1846. One brief extract from the charter may be of interest. "No religious sentiments are to be accounted as a disability to hinder the election of an individual to any office among teachers of the institution, or to debar persons from admittance as students in any department of the University." In accordance with this provision, as is well known, we have students and professors of all denominations and beliefs enjoying equal privileges.

The institution opened on the fifth day of October 1846, under the principalship of Dr. Stephen W. Taylor and in the following year the first college classes were organized. In 1851, on motion of Hon. James Buchanan, L. L. D. (afterward President of the United States), degrees were conferred upon the first class presented for graduation, seven in number. In that same year Theta Alpha and Euepla Literary Societies were established.

Want of space will not allow us to mention the attendance and the many beneficial changes made year by year as the college developed. However, in 1862, there were seventy-five students in the college and academy combined. On June 16, of that year, Co. A, Pennsylvania militia was organized numbering fifty-nine students. This company, under the command of Capt. Thos. R. Jones went out to meet Lee's invading army.

In 1880 the attendance in the collegiate department was but fifty-one and fifty-five in the Academy.

Dr. Harris was elected President in 1889 and the first Registrar, Wm. C. Gretzinger, was elected the same year. The rapid strides that the university has made since that time have been very great indeed. It is interesting to

The great game with the Carlisle Indians is over and all agree that it was a nice, clean game from start to finish. Our boys certainly proved to the people of Williamsport that when they get a fair deal, they can acccept a defeat just as gracefully as any team in the country. We regret very much that we were defeated by a single score, but are glad to say that we fell before a worthy rival. The teams were very evenly matched, each earning one touch down; our man failing on the kick. There was no slugging, no quibbling over decisions, no kicking the ball down the field before the whistle sounded, such as is not whooly unknown to the people of Williamsport. It is a pleasure to watch a game like this, and the spectators go to their homes fully satisfied with the day's sport.

The game was a success in more ways than one. According to the city papers, the crowd was the largest that ever witnessed a game of foot-ball at Williamsport; so that financially, it was a success. Special trains on all the railroads were packed to their full capacity. Every person in that mighty host went away satisfied that they had witnessed one of the finest games of the season. All this will bring an increased attendance next year.

The boys behaved well, and cheered systematically. Their march to the hotel, and their manners on the street were commended by the city papers. Both sides were quartered at the Park Hotel, and parted with the most friendly feeling toward each other. This is conducting a game as it should be conducted, and giving foot-ball its proper place in the athletic world.

The President of the Mirror Association has called twice for a meeting, for the purpose of transacting very important ousiness connected with that paper, but at each time failed to get a quorum. This surely shows a deplorable lack of interest on the part of subscribers. However it is not the fault of the staff, since they are doing all they can do under the circumstances.

We believe, however, that the organization is not formed on the best basis. Instead of allowing the staff to be elected by vote of all subscribers, and permitting the manager to retain all money above his expenses; we would suggest the following changes:

(1) That all positions on the staff be made competitive. Let the articles written for publication one year be made the basis of choosing the staff for the next year.

(2) That the Professor of Rhetoric and two other members of the faculty be chosen as a committee to judge these articles.

(3) That the manager be held to a strict account for all money or other valuables received, and if any is cleared above expenses, let it be divided among the members of the staff according to the work that each performs. Let the staff, thus chosen, act as the auditing board for its own manager.

We fully believe that such an arrangement would make positions on the staff very desirable; that it would draw out the literary talent now latent; that the staff would not then feel that they are doing the work and some one else getting the money; that the subscribers would feel that their money is being properly used to their benefit, and that the whole paper would undergo marked changes for the better.

Lecture by General Morgan.

General Morgan, of New York City, will deliver two lectures on Monday, the 28th, before the students on "Problems for America." General Morgan enlisted as a private in 1861 in the Union Army, and rose through all grades to the rank of Brigadier General, which promotion was given for gallant conduct at the battle of Nashville when he commanded a division. During the administration of Gen. Harrison, Gen. Morgan was commissioner of Indian affairs and introduced many reforms and improvements in that department.

John Davis' brother met him at the Williamsport game Saturday.

Extracts From The History of Bucknell University.

notice that in 1890 the total number of students in the college was one hundred and three, the exact number entering in the Freshman class this year.

We have merely indicated by these few extracts the increase in numbers at Bucknell. It would be more interesting to our students, perhaps, to trace the developement of the university in the work offered both in scope and character. However, that is something each one can do for himself. We would suggest that all students read up the history of our institution and see for themselves how that little school of 1847, with but a single course, has developed and broadened into our great Bucknell of to-day. See how she has added department after department until now she offers advantages equal to any other institution of like character. It is this broadening, and the maintaining of a high standard of scholarship that has brought the increase in numbers. Judging from past and present one must conclude that Bucknell has a bright future before her.

The Bucknell and U. of P. Game.

Our next game will be with the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia. This promises to be a very interesting game. Our game with the Indians last Saturday has shown that our team can make things lively for our opponents. Of course the distance is too great for many of our students to attend this game, but Bucknell will not be without rooters. All friends, students, and alumni of Bucknell, who are in the city on that day, are going to mobilize outside of the college grounds, near the ticket office, so that they can go in and secure seats together. This is for the purpose of cheering our team. Bucknell has many firm friends and loyal supporters in Philadelphia. Let every B. U. sympathizer attend this game and your encouragement will surely be appreciated.

"Bucknell was hard as iron even, harder than the well conditioned players of Pennsylvania."

"Bucknell is the hardest proposition that Penn has been up against this year."

When statements such as these appear in the columns of the Philadelphia papers, we may know that our "country boys," as the Penn students are wont to call them, must have made their presence felt; because never in the history of our athletic relations with Penn, have the Quaker city papers given us too much credit for our good work.

Penn scored but once during the long twenty-five minute halves, and the 9000 spectators who witnessed the game agree that the Quaker boys were mighty lucky to tally the six points.

Penn was weak both on the defense and offense, on the other hand our giant warriors stood like a stone wall while the red and blue tried time after time to find a vulnerable spot. In regard to our offensive work the North American states the following: "Bucknell went through Penn as water rushes through a seive, and not a single point in the line from right to left end was invulnerable. Time after time in the first half the Bucknell men hurled themselves at the line, and tore great holes in the defense. Runners were shoved through centre, dragged between guard and tackle, and rammed between tackle and end."

Penn came on the field in full strength, all their regular men being in the first line up; but unable to endure the irresistible hammering of our giants, substitutes were soon called for. Ludes took Crowther's place at left end; Dale took the place of Gardiner at right end; and Gardiner relieved Davidson at full back.

The first half was played very fast not more than seven minutes being taken out. The second half was not played so fast owing to the fact that the strain of the first half weakened Penn considerably and time was taken out repeatedly in order for the players to recuperate.

In the first half Bucknell completely outplayed Penn and the Quaker boys were kept busy defending their goal, for the ball, except on a kick, had not been in Bucknell's territory.

Penn played the game as best she knew how. Every man fought his hardest. Each man struggled with the same determination. Thus the low score is not due to Penn's poor playing but on the other hand is due to Bucknell's good, aggressive work.

Shipp and McMahon did good work in the tackle back formation while Barrett deserves special mention for the excellent manner in which he ran the ends. Frequently he made runs of ten and twelve yards. Near the end of the first half he made a sensational run of forty-five yards.

George H. Brooke has this to say of the game. "Well, they were dead lucky to win that game."

"Penn's ability to make a good spurt pulled her out of one of the tightest holes on record. With the exception of this one dash for victory the Quakers were outplayed man for man and team for team. In individual calibre, the eleven men of the Bucknell team were better than their opponents, bigger, stronger and more aggressive. It is a difficult thing for a small college to win from a big University with a splendid tradition and a great reputation to uphold even though the smaller college has a stronger team. The Bucknell material at Penn would have beaten the Penn material at Bucknell by twenty points.

The brilliant running of Barret, of Bucknell, was more like the Osgood style than anything that I have seen of late years. Every man on Bucknell tackled and ran low and hard. All they need is the finishing touch of scientific coaching to become a champion team. A big tradition behind them would have the same result."

STORY OF THE GAME.

Penn won the toss and chose to defend the western goal, with a strong wind in her favor.

McCormick kicked to Reynolds on Penn's 20 yard line. Penn unable to gain the required distance in three downs gave the pigskin to Reynolds who kicked it to Bucknell's 42 yard line. Barrett went around left side of the Quaker line for 15 yards.

Shipp and McMahon at the head of the tackle back play, battered their way toward the Penn goal. Without once forfeiting the leather they carried it to the 12 yard line where they were held for downs. Penn succeeded in rushing the ball to our 35 yard line where it was lost on downs. Bucknell hammered her way to Penn's 22 yard line and there forfeited the ball. Penn could not gain to any advantage through our strong line and soon Bucknell started off with the ball battering Penn's line until the Quaker's 4 yard line was reached, when time was called. Neither side having scored.

SECOND HALF.

The Penn boys rallied somewhat in the second half. Reynolds' kick off had gone over the goal mark and McCormick after bringing it out 20 yards kicked the ball back to mid-field. Penn then gained ground for some time. Gardiner started with a 10 yard plunge. Donaldson, Bennett, Reynolds and Teas helped to advance the ball. One yard from the goal our boys took a stand, but an off side play cost us half the distance. The next play sent Teas through our line for a touchdown and Reynolds kicked the goal. Score Penn 6; Bucknell 0.

McCormick kicked off to Snook, after a few short gains Penn lost the ball. McMahon made 8 yards on tackle back play, and Barrett gained 12 yards around Penn's left end 20 yards from the Quaker's goal Bucknell lost the ball on downs. During the rest of the half neither goal was in any great danger. Time was called with Penn in possession of the ball on our 33 yard line. Following is the line up:

PENNSYLVANIA.	BUCKNELL.
Gardiner, Dale..right end	Douglass
Donaldson	right tackle. McMahon
Teas	right guard Gillis
Jordan	center Wilcox
Howard	quarter back Smith
Snook	right half back Cockill
Reynolds	left half back Stanton

FOOTBALL.

Sunbury High Scool 6; Bucknell Academy 5.

The Academy team met defeat at the hands of Sunbury high school last Saturday afternoon.

The game was played on the campus and although the visitors arrived at a late hour quite an enthusiastic crowd witnessed the game. Our academy boys out-weighed the visitors nearly 40lbs. to a man; yet the high school boys out-played the preps at every point. The scoring was all done in the first half. Early in the half, Monroe was sent over the goal line, scoring a touchdown for the academy. Shipman, soon afterwards, made a nice run of 20 yards, scored a touchdown for the high school.

The academy failed to kick their goal, while the high school boys had no trouble in sending the pig skin between the posts. Score, High school 6, Academy 5. In second half neither side scored.

Officials were: Dershimer, '03 referee, Taylor '05, umpire. Singiser, timekeeper. Klotz '05 and Prout '05, linesmen. 20 min. halves.

Chemical and Physical Society.

The first meeting of the Chemical and Physical Society this term was held last Thursday at 4 o'clock in the Laboratory: Pres. Owens after calling the meeting to order gave a discussion of "Carborundum." This article is used for the same purpose as emery, and is manufactued, by mixing a quanity of coke, salt, and saw-dust; then putting it in an oven and passing a very powerful electrict current through it for 24 hours. After the mass has cooled, the crystals which have been formed are ground and are separated into grades according to fineness. "Carborundum" is sold on the market as "Carborundum wheels," "Carborundum cloth," and "powdered carborundum". Excellent specimiues and illustrations of the crystals and wheels were exhibited.

After the Professor had answered the many questions concerning his subject, Mrs, A. F. Derishimer '03, discussed the subject, "Rolling Lift-Bridges."

Many of these bridges have been constructed in the United States and they are attracting attention abroad. The mode of operating the bridge is extremely simple. Upon the appoach of a boat, the bridge seemingly splits across the middle, and each half raises itself upright on the bank on which its shore-end rests.

The great advantages of these bridges are: (1) No centre pier is necessary for the support of the structure, leaving the entire channel opened for navigation. (2) The bridge when opened forms a barrier to trains, by closing the railway, thus avoding wrecks. (3) The cost of operating it is slight. One of these large bridges is operated by electricity at the small cost of sixty-seven cents per day.

The following officers were then elected for the year 1901—02.

Pres.—Prof. W. G. Owens.
Vic. Pres.—T. L. Williams '02.
Sec.—D. W. Robinson '04.
Treas.—A. F. Dershimer '03.
Exec. Com.—Drum '02, Prof. Simpson.

The Literary Societies.

Theta Alpha rendered an interesting and well prepared program. Ammon, '05, opened the exercises with a good recitation to which all gave rapt attention. Webster, '04, followed with a well-written essay on, "The Negro" giving a vivid description of the characteristics of the colored race. Current Topics were brought before the society in a pleasing manner by Royer, '05. The principles involved in the platform of the Socialist Party were discussed in a spirited debate, affirmatively, by Sherbondy, '02, and Karge, '04, negatively, by Drum, '02, and Selbert, '05. In the limited time for general debate stirring speeches were made by Bliss, '03, Karge, '04, Robey, and Selbert, '05. It evident that the new membership contains excellent debaters and men who will develope into such. Snyder. '02, closed the literary program with an extemporaneous speech on "The Advantages and Disadvantages of Co-education." His pleasing manner, close analysis and fluent delivery held the attention of the society throughout his speech.

The Eucpian literary program was opened by Flack, '05, with a well constucted original story, following this Hayes read a humorous selection. Boswick then gave a synopsis of the leading events since our last meeting. "Restriction of Speech" was discussed by Boyer, '02, and Williamson, '05, against Reilly, '02, and Shaw, '05. After a few pointed remarks by Vice President Bartholemew, '03, the society adjourned. The parts were all well prepared, especially those by the new men. The new members are taking an active part in the society and some very promising material is found in the members of the class of 1905.

We are pleased to make mention of the work of our foot ball team on Saturday. We do not care to make any individual comments; the city papers have already done that, but much credit is due to the team as a whole for their brillant work.

We might question what such work means to us as an institution. Lack of space forbids any discussion along this line. Though we might add that the last showing of our team has placed us in a new position in the athletic world. It has attracted the attention of reputable foot ball critics, and helps to confirm before the public the wise judgement in our former disposition of athletic relations.

To us as students this event ought to come as a strong appeal for the future. We have a work to do at home. If we want our college to be at the front in athletics we must busy ourself with this work. We need more men on the gridiron and track. From the number of our students we ought to have more. The exercise in itself will be invaluable to the participants. If you can not be a winner yourself you can help to make the winners, winners abroad. You can, by doing your part well, accomplish a good work. Our foot ball team needs a good second team. Our runners need opposition. Our general athletes need good contestants. This is the work of all who can do it, and those who are not able to do this, if such there may be, should lend their presence. In short we need the presence, the support, financial and otherwise, and the individual interest of the entire student body. May we not have it?

Shekespere Club.

Last Thursday evening the members of the Shakespere club of the class of 1903 enjoyed another of Dr. Perrine's interesting and instructive lectures which he has so kindly consented to give from time to time. The following is a brief outline of his lecture:

The ideal student of to-day is not content with mere facts, but looks into the causes of facts.

Following this principle, we learn that Shakespere did not spring forth full armed as Minerva from the forehead of Jove, but that he was the consummate flower of the Elizabethan Age, the result of a steady growth in English Literature.

Among other influences we have these writers known as 'University wits.'

They were men trained in Universities and wrote dramatic literature immediately previous to Shakespere. They helped prepare the way for Shakespere in three ways:

1. Made it possible to use blank verse for dramatic purposes.
2. Threw aside classic models.
3. Reduced the drama to scenes of actual life.

The greatest of these 'University wits' was Chris. Marlowe. He was born in Canterbury 1564, the son of a shoemaker, had a complete grammar school education, afterward graduated in Cambridge. When the plague broke out in London in 1643, he left London with other actors and was stabbed and killed in a quarrel when only 29 years old. Considering the youthful age at which he wrote, he rivaled Shakespere as a literary genius.

Dr. Perrine then read some extracts from Marlowe's works illustrating the force of his writings and advised the club to read Marlowe's tragedy "Edward II."

VOL. VI. LEWISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, OCTOBER 29, 1901. No. 6.

The Bucknell-Lehigh Game.

Bucknell's eleven defeated the Lehigh team on the latter's gridiron by a score of 10 to 0 on Saturday afternoon. The score scarcely indicates with what ease the wearers of the orange and blue vanquished their opponents. Bucknell exerted herself only in the first half, when both touchdowns were made. In the second half Captain Stanton's men played almost wholly on the defensive, although a spurt near the close of the game, promised another touchdown for the visiting eleven, the ball being in Bucknell's possession on Lehigh's 12 yard line when the whistle was blown. On the other hand Bucknell's goal was never in danger, the ball being at no time beyond the 25 yard line. Lehigh lost simply because she was outclassed.

There was no lack of variety in the game. Line-bucks, end-runs, punts, and trick plays abounded, with enough interference from the officials to make the contest interesting. The referee was unusually strict and both sides penalized for most every offence known to the game. Referee Bergen refused to be reconciled to Bucknell's style of tackle-back formation, and early in the game the orange and blue lost the ball on that account. Both sides were penalized for holding and off-side play, while Lehigh once lost 10 yards because one of her men on the side lines attempted to coach the team.

Bucknell's principal gains were made by McMahon, Shipp, Stanton, Barrett and Douglass. Shipp and McMahon were almost irresistable in the tackle-back formation, while Barrett and Douglass made long runs, the former, one of 35 yards, which enabled Captain Stanton's men to make the second touchdown. Other players whose work was of the spectacular order were Smith and McCormick. The doughty little quarter-back caught punts in the most approved style and seldom did he fail to gain with the ball although he had but little interference. He also executed a neat quarter-back kick. McCormick had the pleasure of "showing up" some of his former college mates who were wont to roast him, by outpunting the Lehigh full-back at big odds. The other men on the team played in excellent fashion and and contributed as much to the victory as those singled out for special mention. A happy feature of the game from the Bucknell point of view was the playing of Johnson, who was substituted about the middle of the second half for McMahon, who was compelled to retire on account of a sore shoulder. Johnson was given the ball several times and never failed to make a gain, which is evidence that Bucknell is not weak where she was last season in—substitutes.

What gains Lehigh did make were through the visitors' line, although attempt after attempt failed. She did not make a gain around the ends, the few attempts resulting in the runner being thrown for either no gain or a loss.

The manner in which Bucknell started off indicated that the visiting team intended making a run-away race of the game. After three minutes and forty-five seconds of actual play, Barrett was sent over the line for a touchdown. Bucknell kicked of to Lehigh's 20 yard line, the ball being advanced 5 yards by Lehigh. On first down the brown and white made gain, but on the second pass fumbled, Bucknell getting the ball. Shipp, McMahon and Stanton made big gains through the line. With the ball on the 5 yard line Barrett was sent between the end and tackle for a touchdown. Douglass attempted the goal at an angle and failed.

Lehigh next kicked off and for about the next ten minutes the game resolved itself into a punting contest, in which McCormick excelled Person. There were at least two of the latter's kick's which Bucknell should easily have blocked; but they failed to do so. With the ball on Lehigh's 50-yard line Barrett was sent around right end for a gain of 35 yards. Had he not run into his interference, he would have scored a touch down. It was not long before Bucknell was forced to punt, but she again got the ball. Barrett made another run of 20 yards, which was followed by short gains through the line and a quarter-back kick. Following this the ball alternated between the two teams at short intervals. Finally Douglass was given the ball on Lehigh's 35 yard line and was making for a touchdown, when a Lehigh man in attempting to tackle the runner, knocked it out of Douglass' hands.

The ball however soon returned to Bucknell's possession and Barrett was sent around end for 15 yards. Successive plunges, the last of which was one of 7 yards by McMahon, carried the ball over for Bucknell. Douglass made a poor kick-out from the goal and Bucknell lost an opportunity for a goal. The half ended with the ball in Bucknell's possession in Lehigh's territory.

The second half was chiefly a kicking contest. Lehigh would try to gain through the line and failing, would punt, while Bucknell usually punted on first down. Toward the closeof the half however Capt. Stanton took the offensive and the ball was carried to Lehigh's 10 yard line, when the whistle blew.

A feature of the game and one from which Bucknell students should take a lesson, was the rooting of the Lehigh students, nearly 400 strong who occupied seats in a body on the bleachers and tore the air with their yells. About one-third of the students had hand-megaphones and the crowd made a noise that would have done justice to a throng twice as large. And they rooted just as vigorously when the team was in the rut as when it was making gains. Their songs and yells were exceptionally well executed.

As the busses containing the victorious eleven were leaving the grounds they were met by a fusilade of stones and acorns thrown by a hundred small urchins who had gathered just outside the gate. It is scarce likely that the Lehigh management would countenance anything of the sort, but they should see that a repitition of the affair does not occur.

The teams lined up as follows:

BUCKNELL.		LEHIGH.
Wilcox	Centre	McFarland
Gillis	Right guard	Kelley
McMahon	Right tackle	Johnston (Johnston)
Douglass	Right end	Hemphill
Smith	Quarter-back	Parsons
Stanton	Left half-back	Sinn (A Farabaugh)
Cochill	Right half-back	Fuller
McCormick	Full-back	Person

Touchdowns—Barrett and McMahon. Referee—Bergen. Prienceton. Umpire—Williams, Pennsylvania. Linesman—Lilly, of Lehigh; Johnston, of Bucknell. Time of halves—25 and 20 min.

On the trip home from Bethlehem Coach Hoskins and his men and a half-dozen friends of the team were compelled to wait at Tamaqua for six hours. Dr. Freudenberger and the Misses Freudenberger, sisters of Freudenberger, '01, took advantage of the occasion and invited the Bucknell boys to their home, where they entertained them in royal fashion, turning what would otherwise have been a most disagreeable wait into a very enjoyable time. This is the fourth successive year that the Bucknell team has been entertained by the Freudenbergers on the return trip from Lehigh.

The T Square Club.

Last Thursday evening about thirty students who are pursuing coures in engineering, met and formed a club. This club is to be known as the T Square Club. Its object is to promote the interest of those students who are expecting to enter the profession. One way of doing this will be to secure practical talks, from time to time, by men who are now in the profession. These talks will be given frequently and will cover all the various achievements of the day. Membership is restricted to those students who actually intend to enter the engineering profession.

The following officers were elected:
Pres.—Prof. A. B. Stewart.
Sec.,—A. F. Dershimer, '03.
Treas.,—C. Caruthers, '04.

Two committees were then appointed to look after the interests of the club. All students expecting to enter the engineering profession are cordially invited to become members. The secretary will post a notice of the next meeting.

The Demosthenian Club.

The officers of this club for the present term are Mr. L. Ulmer, Pres. and Mr. T. E. Cule, Sec. and Treas. The character of the club has been slightly changed within the last year. While its prime object remains the same, a closer bond of fellowship among the members is now aimed at. From all present indications the present year will be one of the most profitable years, in the history of the club.

Bresnaham, '03, was called home Wednesday on accout of the sickness of his father.

Dr. Morgans's Lecture.

The lecture by Gen. Morgan this morning on "The Negro Problem" was greatly appreciated by the students, and professors. The speaker after stating very clearly what the Negro Problem of to-day is, gave a historical sketch of the problem in its vairous phases; and then gave his solution of the problem. The question is, how can the whole of eight millions of negroes be made to harmonize socially and politically with the rest of the people of the United State? The negro stands unassimilable on account of color and other race characteristics. The phases of the negro problem that perplexed our nation are:

(1.) The Moral Phase.

The question as to the right of one man to hold another in slavery was once troublesome but has been settled. Slavery is wrong.

(2.) The Economic Phase.

It is now settled that Slavery is unprofitable. Labor must be free, if we are to develop the human race.

(3.) The Social Phase. This phase is not fully settled. Witness the criticisms of President Rosevelt for inviting Mr. B. T. Washington to dine with him. Here the speaker paid a fine tribute to Mr. Washington as a great statesmen Etc. The nation does wrong by separating the negroes and whites socially, by providing separate cars etc. The social problem will settle itself.

(4.) The Politicial Phase.

The first question here was on representation, but that is settled. This question divided parties and almost disrupted the Union. Slavery was made the basis of the Confederacy. A nation could not endure founded upon such a basis. It was against the trend of human thought and progress.

(5.) The Military Phase.

It is now settled that the negro is a civilized warrior, and will fight.

(6.) The Reconstruction Phase.

The trend of sentiment, is now that it was a mistake to enfranchise the negro, but it was not wholly a mistake. It gave him social and political advantages which he has maintained. We should not disfranchise the negro, but should have an educational qualification for both negroes and whites.

The great question to-day is: what shall be done with the negro? There are 800,400,000 negroes in the United States. They cannot be deported; physical conditions make that impossible. They cannot be re-enslaved. That has been settled. They can not be kept in ignorance, for they would drag down the rest of our citizens.

The negro will increase and drag down society unless he is educated. This is the true solution of the problem. We must have better public schools for him in the South. Large amounts of money must be put in higher institutions of learning for the negro.

The speaker closed with a strong protest against lynching, and showed its effect on the character of our people.

In the large entrance hall of the main building have been placed two bulletin boards. The one intended for the convenience of the students and the other for the faculty. Such boards are of great necessity to the school and should be used properly by all students. Their use is much depended upon and students soon learn to watch them closely. But this early in the college year we notice a tendency towards their misuse. Notices that are placed upon them should remain until their intended use is complete. Several have been torn down, and others badly cut and marked until the original intent of the notice is scarcely discernible. Thishas oeen done likely through lack of fore thought. We cannot think that it could be through any special intent. However the matter may be, the evils of the practice remain. Many students who have had occasion to post notices have refrained from doing so, sustaining loss of books, artlcles, and other conveniences, rather than post an notice and have it worked upon by the hand of some unthoughtful person. A little more forethought on the part of a few, and a little more effort on the part of each to consider each student as a brother, would soon remove all traces of objectionable practices of this kind.

Prof. Rockwood was at the Lehigh-Bucknell game on Saturday.

The Greatest Game of the Season.

The greatest attraction on the home campus, during the present football season, will be the Gettysburg-Bucknell game here on Saturday, Nov. 2nd, one week from to-morrow. This is one opportunity for the townspeople to see a first-class game this fall, between two first-class teams. Everybody should turn out to this game and not miss this opportunity.

It goes without saying that the game will be a close one and hence an interesting one. There will be none of that one sidedness that so detracts from the interest of a game. Neither team will have won this game until the whistle blows to end the second half and such uncertainty is bound to add the greatest interest to the contest.

It is easy to predict this when we compare the work of the two teams. All who have been following Gettysburg and Bucknell during the season know that both have the strongest teams in their history. The only games on which we can figure from comparative scores are the Bucknell-Carlisle and Gettysburg-Carlisle games. Gettysburg beat Carlisle and Carlisle beat Bucknell. The score in both cases was the same 6-5. The one point in both cases is of no moment. It proves only the ability of one man to kick the leather over the goal. What is important is that each team, in both games, scored a touch down against the other. This would indicate a strength both aggressive and defensive, that is almost a par between the three teams.

For those whose sympathies are local, there is much that is hopeful. The Indians were not so strong when they played Gettysburg as when they played us, they were not yet together as a team, and again our team did not play so well against the Idians as it did against Penn. which shows that it is getting constantly stronger. Granted that Gettysburg has also improved, the chances are yet in our favor as the Gettysburg-Indian game was so early in the season that their victory might easily have been an accident such as often occurs then. The real strength of the teams is just beginning to be shown.

Bucknell is fortunate, moreover, in having none of her men on the injured list so far. Still another factor that may have some bearing on the recent fact that the game is to be on our own campus before a friendly crowd, and such help as comes from such circumstances will all be ours.

We feel sure we can promise them a close game with the chances in Bucknell's favor and a game, moreover, that will be well worth seeing.

It is almost needless to speak of the different men, they are so well known, yet a word ought not be amiss concerning their work. Barrett has been call-

McCormick's line bucking and hurdling are also features, while McMahon and Shipp, the two star tackles, are the men who slammed through Pennsy's line for such great gains. Our guards back, too, is a great creation and a hard one to stop when "Big John" Gillis and "Doggie" Taylor get their 400 lbs. avoirdupois in momentum.

We all know "Capt." Stanton and his hard running with the ball and good defense.

Lack of space alone prevents further mention but everyone wants to see these players and their well known plays that brought dismay to Pennsylvania and Cornell.

SATURDAY'S GAME.

Bucknell, 51; Gettysburg, 6.

Bucknell won another easy victory last Saturday afternoon in their line-up against Gettysburg.

The orange and blue completely outclassed her opponents; the warriors not even showing her visitors the courtesy of allowing them to have the pig skin long enough to make one first down. With one exception our goal line was entirely out of danger. James stole the ball from Bucknell in the early part of the first half and with a clear field before him, crossed our line for a touchdown.

Gettysburg played with a vim and a dash yet Captain Stanton's men, as if unobstructed, crossed their goal line time after time only to increase the already large score.

The game was characterized by fairness on the part of the referee and umpire while both teams fought a clean scientific battle. Bucknell's agressiveness co t her 10 yards, two different times during the game; but she took advantage of all opportunities and being penalized at one time near her opponents goal line, placed the ball in such a position that Douglass dropped an easy goal.

Gettysburg must have been afraid of Barrett, for their whole team watched him with eagle eyes, in spite of the fact however, he succeeded in making his distance and frequently carried the pig skin for ten, fifteen and twenty yards. Captain Stanton was in form and played his old time game. He made four touchdowns one of which was made after a sensational run of 40 yards.

Gillis and Taylor executed the guards back play to perfection making great holes in their opponent's line and carrying the ball for five and ten yards at every effort.

Shipp and Johnson played like professionals. Johnson filled McMahon's position at right tackle, with credit to himself and to the team. His hurdling and line bucking were features of the game.

McCormick did good work at full back; punted well, and hit the line hard. Smith deserves special mention for his good work at quarter. His execution of the quarter back kick and the able manner in which he caught punts were admired by all the spectators.

Wilcox played a nice game at centre. He passed the ball with exactness and held his opponent with ease.

Cockill played a fast cunning game, and gives promise of being a great half back.

Senn, Caruthers, Bell and Smiley who were substituted in the second half played a creditable game; not once did the subs fail to gain when they were given the ball, but advanced it with the same ease as the regulars.

The game opened with Bucknell defending the west goal, Gettysburg taking the kickoff. Bucknell at once began to buck the line; in vain Gettysburg tried to hold but Johnson's blows were irresistable and time after time he went through their line, the whole team on his back, advancing the ball for long gains. Douglass, Stanton and McCormick carried the ball and in less than six minutes Johnson crossed the goal line for the first touchdown. Bucknell failed to kick the goal. Another touchdown was soon made by Stanton and Douglass kicked an easy goal. Gettysburg kicked to Bucknell. After a few hard rushes with the ball near the middle of the field, James stole the oval from Johnson and hurried over our goal line for a touchdown. This was the first and only time that Gettysburg got within seeing distance of our goal. James kicked the goal. McCormick kicked to James who returned the compliment, two downs were made. Bucknell fumbled and Gettysburg got the ball. Two attempts were made to advance the pig-skin but each time the runner was thrown for a loss. Gettysburg kicked and the ball was Bucknell's on her 40 yard line. Shipp, Johnson, Cockill and Stanton made big gains through the line, and the oval was sent across the goal for the third touchdown. Douglass dropped the oval between the goal post for a tally when the time for the first half was called. Score: Bucknell 28, Gettysburg 6.

The second half opened with Gettysburg considerably weakened. Bucknell wass trong and active The orange and blue crossed her opponents goal line for four touch downs during this half and from them, kicked three easy goals. Had the second half not been reduced from 20 to 15 minutes, it is difficult to estimate what the score would have been. The game ended with the score; Bucknell 51 Gettysburg 6 Bucknell students rooted systematical and their cheers and songs gave life and courage to the players.

Following is the line up:

The Princeton-Yale Debate.

The Princeton-Yale debate will be held at Princeton, on Dec. 6th. The Inter-Collegiate debating Committee at Princeton has chosen the following subject: "RESOLVED, That the adoption of the Fifteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States has been justified." Yale has the choice of sides, and will make known their selection on or about Nov. 4th.

Boyer, '02, and Snyder, '02, went home to attend election.

The Literary Societies.

At a well attended meeting of Euepia on Friday evening the following program was rendered. Essay "Lowell's Vision of Sir Launfal" by Bowen, '05. The writer called the attention of his audience to Lowell's admirable descriptions of summer and winter and how aptly the preludes to parts I and II prepares the reader for what follows. He was followed by Bartholomew, '03, who read Faraway Moses' humerous and instructive "Pulling the Cat Backwads." The next number was the debate the question being "Resolved, That prosperity is favorable to the morals of a nation." The affirmative side was discussed by Hylbert, '05, and Reily, '02, and the negative by Henry, '05, and Cule '04. The debate was interesting and instuctive showing that each contestant was brim-full of his subject. A very enjoyable Parliamentary Drill was then held. This was all the more enjoyable because it was not scheduled on the program. This exercise has shown that Euepia has quite a number of skilled parliamentarians as well as orators and debaters.

Theta Alpha also had a fine program. With but one member missing, it was from the point of preparation and execution, one of the best rendered this term. Interest was rife throughout. The attendance was fair and all were attentive, as the various topics were discussed. Roberts, '04, presented the current topics for the week in brief and concise statements. Taylor, '03, discussed "Robert Koch and his Work," giving a comprehensive account. The part of the program that attracted most attention was the debate. The question was, "Resolved, That stockwatering should be prohibited by law." The proposition was supported by Singeiser, '03, and Bliss, '05, (the latter as substitute) the negative was maintained by Cook, '03, and Sheldon, '03, (the latter as substitute). The debaters were well prepared and enthusiatic in their speeches, so much so that they drew the society into a most spirited general discussion, the best this year. Those taking part were McCracken, Taylor, Bliss, Singeiser and Sheldon. It is encouraging to notice a greater interest manifested in the general debates.

Turns Out Good Material.

The New York Sun says: Those two strong "minor" teams, Syracuse University and Bucknell, continue to keep their opponents guessing. Syracuse trimmed Amherst decisively on Saturday and has the excellent record of 101 points to 22 for opponents in five games. The Syracusians would be worthy opponents for the top notch teams, their only defeat this year being by Lafayette and that by only 5 points. Bucknell has not made so many points, but has had harder games. In four games they have made 15 points to 18 for opponents, having played Cornell, the Indians and Pennsylvania. An institution that can turn out athletes such as Matthewson and Weymouth must have pretty good material.

The At Home.

The first "At Home" of the term was held in the parlors of the Institute, this afternoon. Soon after 4 o'clock, the young men of the college, and other friends of the institution began to assemble, so that before one hour had passed the parlors were quite full of guests.

The reception was made just as informal as possible, so that all might, indeed, feel "at home." Each guest was greeted at the door by some of the young ladies, who had been appointed to perform this pleasant duty. The many plans and devices arranged for the purpose of making all acquainted with each other, show the genius of their inventor. After all persons had had a chance to become acquainted with each other the refreshments were served.

Time soon passed away and when 6 o'clock arrived scarcely anyone was ready to depart, but left feeling that they had spent a most enjoyable afternoon. The large attendance and excellent entertainment at this, the first "at home" of the season, made it one of the most successful of social gatherings.

Bucknell Vs Susquehanna.

Next Saturday our team meets W. J. at Pittsburg, and on the following Saturday Susquehanna University on our home field. Susquehannah has a strong team this year, and our patrons will have this one chance of seeing a game on our own campus. The attendance at the game on last Saturday was large, and no doubt it will be quite as large when we play Susquehanna.

The last game was very much one-sided, but from present indications, the next one will not be so much so. The public can depend on seeing a fine game on that day.

Bucknell already has a game for Thanksgiving day, and it is stated that State is scheduled to play Buffalo, on that day, so the newspaper talk of these two teams getting together at the above time is out of the question.

There is a strong sentiment both in the town and college against resuming athletic relations at all with State College.

It is surely gratifying, to all friends of Bucknell, to notice the great improvement in the team since the game played here in the beginning of the season. The game on Saturday was so much one sided that the spectators grew tired seeing touch-downs. Considering the fact that we were playing a team commonly supposed to be our equal, it is plain that we have an extraordinary team this year. Bucknell is now taking her true position in the athletic world. It takes a great deal of money, however, to support a good team. The coaching must be first class, good clothing and other furnishings are necessary; in fact everything should be done that can be done to make the players comfortable and contented. The large attendance was also gratifying to us and shows an increasing interest in our games.

It is a good thing to have "college spirit" and enliven the air of the university once in a while. A good rousing celebration; such as we had last week, breaks the monotony of the regular routine of college life, infuses new life into the boys and sends them back to their work in good condition. Some things are done, perhaps, that would be inexcusable, looked at from the outside world, but this is sport for college boys. These customs are sacred to the college man. They have been preserved for centuries and have been practiced by the best men of all ages To be sure, they have undergone many changes since the lawless mobs ruled Oxford and Cambridge, but the same spirit shows itself in the college lad of today. These hallowed customs we instinctively love, cherish and perpetuate.

There is, however, a very great distinction between college customs, endeared to us by centuries of usage, and mere wanton destruction of property in a malicious manner. This is especially true when the latter is practiced only by a few to the great inconvenience of the many. Some person who "loves darkness rather than light," persists in smashing or taking away the electric lights from the halls of West College and from other parts of the buildings. This is something which might justify a revival of the ancient custom of hazing. True college men say, "have all the fun you like, be one among us, help us to perpetuate our college customs, but don't get smart."

Lectures By Doctor Moss.

The subject of Dr. Moss's lectures this year will be "Jesus Christ and the Social question," and will be based on a work by that title, by Prof. F. G. Peabody, published by MacWilliams.

The lectures will be six in number, and the first will be given Wednesday morning, Nov. 20th. An honor is offered by Doctor Moss, which will consist of the reading of the book with analysis, a report of the lectures and thesis on some related, topic of 2000 words.

Football Subscriptions.

The Finance committee will consider it a very great favor, if those who have subscribed to the football fund would pay up this week. There are some bills which should be paid by these subscriptions, and it will greatly facilitate the work, if all persons will pay up this week if possible.

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY.

VOL. VI. LEWISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 12, 1901. No. 8.

W. & J., 11; Bucknell, 5.

Bucknell went down to defeat last Saturday afternoon in a hard fought game. The opposing team was Washington and Jefferson's strong eleven which is made up of professionals, taken from athletic clubs and other college teams. Weight and years of experience gave the red and black of W. & J., advantage over Bucknell. In face of these advantages however, Captain Stanton's men played a hard, fierce game and showed their strength by holding their giant opponents down to a remarkably low score.

All the scoring of the game was done in the first half. In the second half the ball was in our territory only on punts.

One discouraging feature of the game from the Bucknell point of view, was our fumbling. Our aggressiveness also cost us ten yards two different times during the game while the officals seemed blind to the off side plays made by W. & J.

At 2.40 p. m. the Bucknell team arrived at Exposition Park. The orange and blue was welcomed with cheers as it went on the field to run through a short signal practice. Not many minutes later the W. & J., team accompanied by several hundred rooters, appeared and the air was rent with college yells as the western boys filed out for their preliminary work.

Captain Stanton won the toss and chose the south goal. Promptly at 3 o'clock the teams that were to do battle lined up and the game was on.

Forkum kicked off to Bucknell's 15-yard line. Cockhill carried it back 18 yards. Wilcox passed low to McCormick. He dropped the ball. W. & J. secured it. Forkum made 10 yards. Montgomery made 10. Forkum made 10 more.

At this point of the game Bucknell fought stubbornly but was unable to hold her opponents, who in two more downs sent Lang through the line for a touchdown. Hays failed to kick the goal. Score W. & J., 5; Bucknell, 0.

With the game yet young McCormick kicked to W. & J. 10-yard line. Reed carried it back 10 yards. Forkum made 12 yards. Forkum then punted to Stanton who carried it back 20 yards, Stanton then made a nice run of 30 yards. On the next play a fumble was made and W. & J. got the ball. Forkum punted and Cockhill carried it back 10 yards. McCormick made 8 yards. Bucknell braced up and played good ball.

Smith made a nice quarter back kick. McCormick got the ball and made a sensational run to the W. & J. 15 yard line where they were held for downs. Forkum kicked 20 yards and the ball was Bucknell's near the middle of the field. Shipp made 8 yards. By successive plunges the ball is carried down a stubborn field and McMahon is sent over W. & J's. goal line for a touchdown. Douglass attempted a goal at a hard angle and failed. Score, Bucknell, 5; W. & J., 5.

Forkum kicked to Bucknell's 10 yard line. McCormick ran the ball back 15 yards and was there forced to kick. W. & J. got the ball and in two plunges had the ball in such a position that Forkum dropped back to kick a goal from the field but failed in the attempt.

McCormick kicked from Bucknell's 25 yard line. Forkum caught the ball and carried it back 20 yards. Montgomery made 10 yards. Bucknell was penalized on the 3rd down W. & J. then had the ball on Bucknell's 35 yard line. Montgomery made 8 yards. At this point of the game Shipp was forced to retire on account of injuries and Johnson took his place.

Montgomery made 8 yards more and the ball was in the centre of the field, in the posession of W. and J. Again by hard line bucking the ball was carried down the field, Captain Stanton's men disputing every inch of the way, but it was all in vain, our line was crossed, Hays kicked the goal: and the score was 11 for W. and J. to Bucknell's 5. Bucknell had kicked off and the ball was in the hands of W. & J. when time was called.

The second half opened with McCormick's kick to the opponents 12 yard line. W. and J. by line plunging brought the ball up to their 27 yard line and there kicked to Bucknell's 50 yard line. On first down Bucknell kicked to W. and J.'s 20 yard line where Forkum was downed in his tracks. W. and J. kicked to our 45 yd. line, Bucknell carried it back to W. and J.'s 40 yd. line. Line plunges by Bucknell carried the ball 16 yds. further, and a touchdown seemed to be certainly coming when our boys were penalized for off side play. From this line on until the end of the game the ball repeatedly exchanged hands, neither team having its goal line eminently in danger. The final score being; W. and J. 11, Bucknell 5.

In the early part of the second half Smiley was substituted for Johnson who was put out of the game on account of a badly crippled wrist. McMahon, McCormick and Johnson did good work in bucking the line, while the whole team is to be congratulated, because it was a fiercely contested game, and to hold the opposing eleven down to such a small score in the face of such odds is a credit to any team.

The teams lined up as follows:

W. & J.	Bucknell.
Sutter	Left end	Barrett
Long	Left tackle	Shipp
Hosmer	Center	Wilcox
Sifton	Right guard	Gillis
Hays	Right tackle	McMahon
Schrontz	Right end	Douglass
Akin	Quarter back	Smith
Montgomery	Left end	Stanton
Reed	Right half	Cockhill
Forkum	Full back	McCormick

The officials were: Dr. Jackson, umpire: Dr. Carl Williams, referee; 25-minute halves; linesman, Phillips, W. & J.; Leen, Bucknell; timekeepers, Brownlee, W. & J.; Goodall, Bucknell.

Judge Armstrong, of Camden, a member of the Board of Trustees, gave the students a short address on Friday morning.

The Literary Societies.

Eucpia still continues her interesting and instructive programs. Interest is increasing as is shown by the thorough preparation of each participant and the increase in attendance. The session last Friday evening was the best attended meeting this term. The program was as follows: Green '05 read a most excellent article by a president of one of our Ohio Colleges, on "How a student should live while at College," Bieber '02 then followed with a character sketch of Alfred the Great. The speaker showed himself to be well accquainted with the characteristics of this great man, and presented them to the society in a clear, forcible manner. Eisenmenger '03 was assigned, as the subject for his extemporaneous speech, "What general reading a college student should do." The gentleman defined "general reading" and then by the process of exclusion, demonstrated to his audience what they, as students, should read. Then followed the debate The question was "RESOLVED; That our Navy should be increased." The affirmative side was discussed by Robinson '02 and Snyder '05, while Reilly '02 and Wood '05 upheld the negative. Those who think the above question, has become old, and therefore unprofitable and uninteresting to the hearers, should have been present to see with what skill and spirit the various arguments were advanced by both sides.

Theta Alpha rendered an interesting program in the presence of an appreciative audience. Good preparation was evident and the various speakers did justice to their topics. Jones, '05, read an essay on "McCauley as a writer." It was an excellent discussion of this famous English author and his works, put in condensed form. "Yellow Journalism" was discussed by Bentz, '02. The subject called for a great degree of originality, and Mr. Bentz met the requirements. The American newspapers receive a just amount of criticism. The society now was most pleasantly entertained by Knapp, '04, with a humorous recitation in German dialect. It was perfectly well prepared and rendered in a manner not to be improved upon. The debate followed: "RESOLVED, That voting at primary elections should be compulsory." Both affirmative disputants being absent, substitutes were found in Drum, '02, and Ealy, '04. The negative was supported by Hart '03, and Lesher, '05. It was a good debate and followed by a very interesting and spirited general discussion. Those taking part were Royer, Seibert, Drum, Thomas, Bliss, Lesher, Roby and Ealy. Our Freshmen show themselves good and ready debaters. The last number on the program was filled by C. G. Sheldon. Extemporaneously he spoke upon "The American election—some good and some evil features of it." He handled his subject in an able manner.

Thomas Evans, '01, was in town a few days ago attending to some business.

Chemical and Physical Society.

The regular meeting of the Chemical and Physical Society was held in the lecture room of the Laboratory at 4 o'clock Thursday, Oct. 31st, with President Owens in the chair. After the minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved, Blackwood discussed the "Report of the Experts on the Causes of the Breaking of Nine Consecutive Suspender Rods in the Brooklyn Bridge."

The accident happened July 24, 1901. Causes (1) Rusting of the trunions in the suspender blocks. (2) Wearing of the stay-saddles in the towers and the lateral wind pressure.

The walk for foot passengers is pushed 2 in. north, by the pressure of the wind, while the bridge is carrying 40 per cent. more weight than it was originally inteded to carry. There has been such reduction in the weight of the bridge that the excess weight is only 3 per cent. The bridge is still considered safe by the engineers.

After several questions were answered, "the manufacture of paper," was discussed by Weiser, '02. He described the process of the largest factory in Maine, at which 700 men are employed.

The paper is made from Hemlock logs. The logs are from 4 to 12 in. in diameter and cut 2 ft. in length, ¼ of the logs are cut to chips and ⅝ are ground to dust. The chips are placed in a vat and Sulfuric acid added. Steam heat is then applied under pressure for 10 hours. The acid is now washed out. The two parts are then thoroughly mixed. After the process has been completed, the pulp is placed on a blanket and run through the paper machine. It runs first through cold rolls and then warmer ones until finished. It leaves the machines in rolls ready for the printing press.

Bucknell and Susquehana.

The people of Lewisburg and vicinity will have one more opportunity to see our fine Bucknell team, the strongest in years, play ball at home. This game is with Susquehana University on Saturday, Nov. 16th, and it is the last one scheduled for Bucknell on the home grounds this season. Susquehenna has a good team and in previous years always put up a good, hard game with Bucknell. No one doubts that Saturday's contest will be much closer than the game with Gettysburg was a week ago. Bucknell has a remarkable record this year and draws big crowds at all her games, whether at home or away. Judging from the attendance at the games already played, from the great interest and enthusiasm manifested by all at these games, and from the fast ball spirit pervading the very atmosphere, an unusually large crowd is expected on the college campus on Saturday. The game will be called at 2:30 p. m. and will be over in time to make both the Reading and Pennsylvania trains.

Taylor, '05, and Wescott, Acad., were in Williamsport a short time on Saturday.

Business Manager,
JOHN DAVIS.
Assistant—Lewis B. Custer.

On Saturday, the 16th, our team will play its last game for the season on the home grounds. The contesting team will be the Susquehanna eleven. Susquehanna has always put up a good defense on our grounds and this year promises to be no exception. We may with fair reason expect a harder game than was played here by Gettysburg, as they will strive to keep the score low.

The management is pleased with the good attendance at the last game. Again they appeal to the student body for united support and effor. in bringing out a large crowd. There have been but few games here this s ason and few will miss this one.e Already the prospects are favorable for a good attendance, and the students ought to assist in calling the attention of their friends to this opportunity of witnessing a good game. Bucknell's team has won laurels on foreign fields this season. Few teams have had on the average as strong and heavy teams to meet as our boys. Few have done it with as much credit to themselves and the institution they represent as the defenders of the Orange and Blue.

The admission fee is low compared to that of other places. Most places the admission is 50c while here we ask only 35c. Those who desire to help on the work will not complain At this price the management will scarcely come out even at the end of the season.

There is a tendency on the part of new students coming into college to neglect their work in English and literary culture. In the beginning of their course they take up the study of two or three languages foreign to themselves, and the mother tongue, as it were, is entirely forgotten. They seem to think that it is of little importance, and soon brand the study as a special and give little or no, heed to it. The result is that this indifference follows them through their entire course, and they go from the college leaving behind the brightest jewel.

This is a mistake. The student cannot afford to make it. The work ought to mean more to the student than just the little that is asked for, by his instructors. There is nothing which contributes better to the growth of the student. Excellent courses are offered. Beside, the literary societies offer opportunity for practical work. Every student ought to be anxious to have a chance to perform literary work in the societies. It is an important element in the training of every professional man. There has been a fair attendance at the literary societies thus far in the term. However, there are usually a few empty chairs showing that there might be a better attendance. Students must be in attendance if they wish to find work to do. The committees will find them if there, and the student who absents himself is missing a splendid opportunity.

Institute Items.

The Senior rhetoricals took place in the school-room Tuesday evening.

Prof. and Mrs. Stewart, Mrs. Owens and Miss Mary Wilson were the guests of the Institute Friday evening.

Miss Hattie Godcharles entertained the members of the Pi Phi sorolty at dinner at her home in Milton on Friday evening.

Last Tuesday evening, the College Girl's Mandolin and Guitar Club gave a concert in the Danville Y. M. C. A. Hall. A large audience was present, and after the concert a reception was given the members of the club. Ice cream and cake were served. The girls were pleasantly entetrained at the homes of the patrons of the Y. M. C. A. The next morning before coming back they enjoyed a delightful trip through the asylum grounds, buildings and green-house.

The third entertainment of the Y. M. C. A. free course, was an excellent mandalin and guitar concert given by sixteen young ladies of Bucknell University, in association hall last evening. Every available seat was occupied and at 8 o'oclock it was impossible to find even standing room. It has been a long time since a program with guitars and mandolin has been rendered in this city, and it proved a most interesting diversion. The concert throughout was delightful. Prof. Aviragnet's ability as a music master being as evident as on the several other occasions he has favored this city with entertainments.—From the Danville Morning News.

Freshmen 21—Acaaemy 12.

One of the most exciting games of football played at Bucknell this season was that played on the campus last Friday afternoon. The contest was between the Freshmen and Academy teams.

Each team, confident of victory, fought with a determination that would have done credit to a greater and more important contest. Wild freshmen and mad prep, filled the air with yells and songs, while their respective teams were fighting the battle fierce and hard.

No game of the season has caused so much excitement and none has been more interesting from the spectator's standpoint. No time during the game did interest lag. The determination on the part of the players was the same from the first minute till the last. What the result would be, no one ventured to predict, because the teams were evenly matched and both were fighting hard for victory. The line up showed that the freshmen had somewhat of an advadtage over their opponents in weight, but what the preps lacked in weight was made up by their speed and aggressiveness.

The game opened with the freshmen defending the west goal. Academy kicked off to the freshmen 20 yard line. The ball was carried back 15 yards. After two line plunges, Capt. Vorse signalled for an end run. The ball was carried to the prep's 20 yard line; another end run by Anderson scored the first touchdown. The freshmen failed to kick an easy goal. Academy again kicked off. The freshmen advanced the ball but a few yards when a fumble gave the ball to the preps. Freshmen soon got the ball and made big advances toward the prep's goal line.

Up to this time the prep team seemweak. Good individual work but poor team work. From this time on until the end of the game, the freshmen found themselves struggling with a worthy foe. When on the prep's 15 yard line, the freshmen fumbled and Hennessy got the ball for the prep's, and carried it back to the freshman 3 yard line, where he was downed by Anderson. In two rushes, Monroe carried the pig skin over the goal line for a touchdown. Remensnyder kicked the goal. Score: Preps 6 Freshmen 5. No more scoring was done during this half; neither side having its goal line in danger. Early in the second half each team scored a touchdown and both goals were kicked. No more scoring was done until near the close of the half, when by a long end run, Anderson crossed the line making the third touchdown for the freshmen. Capt. Vorse soon crossed the line for another tally and time was called. Score; Freshmen 21 Academy 12. We have not space for the line up.

We have but two games of football, for the season, yet to play; one on the 23d with the University of Buffalo, at Buffalo, and the other with the Athens Athletic Club, at Athens, Pa. Thus far, the team has scored 95 points to 38 by opponents.

Death of Hon. John A. Gundy Class 1856.

On Wednesday evening, Nov. 13, Jonn A. Gundy entered into the higher life after a short but severe illness. He was the son of John and Eliza Grace Penny Gundy and was born in East Buffalo Township, Union county, Pa., on the 23rd day of June, 1837. His boyhood days were spent on the farm and he never lost his fondness for farming and the freedom of country life.

In the class of 1856 he was graduated from Bucknell University, then the University at Lewisburg, at the age of nineteen, among his classmates were Dr. George Frear and Prof. F. W. Tustin, Ph. D. and of his class of ten only four now survive him. He has been closely allied with all the interests of the University since its organization. His father, John Gundy, was a member of the Board Curators from 1847 until 1863, at which time he was succeeded by John A. Gundy who held this office until 1882 wh n the board was abandoned. He was well known, not only in his immediate neighborhood but throughout the state and was prominent in many affairs of interest to the state. As an active member of the State Boaad of Agriculture he was called upon to make many experiments and the reports of these were of great importance to those engaged in agricultural pursuits. His good judgment and remarkable common sense greatly enhanced his labors. He was Vice President of the Farmer's Exposition at Mt. Gretna and much of its success depended upon his energy and enthusiasm. At the organization of the Buffalo Valley Mutual Fire Insurance Company he was elected secretary and contained in office until his death. In connection with this he became acquainted with most of Union county's best citizens.

After graduation from college he engaged in teaching in Lewisburg and neighboring districts for a short time and afterwards worked on an engineer corps. As a surveyor he won for himself an enveable reputation for honesty and for accuracy of work, and was engaged often where skill and intelligence were particularly needed.

March 7, 1869, he became a member of the Lewisburg Presbyterian church, and on the 23rd day of Feburary, 1890, he was ordained and installed as an elder in the church which position he held at the time of his death.

The New Physical Laboratory.

All of the students are pleased to notice that the new physical labatory is now under roof. When this building is completed it will add very much to the comforts and convenience of the students, as well as increase the facilities for the pursuit of scientific studies.

There will be two rooms fitted out with the latest improvements. One of these will be forty by forty and the other twenty by fifty. In the basement, the larger room will be used for a boiler room. From the boilers in this room, all of the twelve buildings of institution will be warmed. This will be a very great improvement on the basement system which is now in operation. The boilers are already in place and the connections will be made.

The other room in the basement will contain the apparatus for electric lighting. This will be placed as soon as steam work is completed. This will afford much better facilities for the study of that line of work than we now have. Since it is being arranged with that object in view.

After the steam connections have been made, facilities for bathing will be introduced into the Main college, the West college and the Academy. The facilities now in the Gymnasium will be retained and improved. This will surely add to the comfort and convenience of all, as the bathing facilities are at present scarcely adequate to meet the increased number of students.

The erection of this building and that of West college, last year, shows that the trustees of Bucknell are determined to provide means to accommodate all who wish to come here for their education. A great many other improvements on the grounds and buildings have also been made during the last two years.

The Games on Saturday.

It is to be regretted that the students and patrons of our athletics were deprived of seeing, what would have been the last game of the season, on the home grounds. However, it was no fault of our management that we have no game to report.

The scores made by other colleges were not surprising, barring one or two exceptions. The University of Pennsylvania defeated the Indians by a score of 16 to 14. Some of the writers think, however, that Carlisle was treated unjustly by the officials. The Record holds that the game clearly belonged to the Indians.

Yale clearly outplayed Princeton and won by the score 12 to 0. The game was clean, straigth-forward, old-fashioned football. Our friend Weymouth was decidedly in the game, making one of the touchdowns.

Harvard played Dartmouth, the score standing 27 to 12 in favor of Harvard. It is said that Harvard played nearly a whole team of substitutes, which accounts for her being scored upon. Both scores were made as a result of block kicks, the ball in each instance being picked up by a Dartmouth man and carried over the goal.

Cornell defeated Columbia by her superior force and excellent team work. The score was larger than was expected even by Cornell's most sanguine supporters, being 24 to 0.

Other scores of the day were as follows:

Michigan, 22; Chicago, 0.
Wisconsin, 18; Minnesota, 0.
Homestead, 48; Lafayette, 0.
Naval Cadets, 17; W. and J., 11.
State College, 38; Lehigh, 0.
F. and M., 40; Jefferson Medical, 0.
Medico Chi., 11, Dickinson, 6.

Northwestern, 11; Beloit, 11.
Williams, 21; Amherst, 5.
Wesleyan, 11; Trinty, 0.
Maine, 22; Bowdoin, 5.
Brown, 24; Union, 5.
Iowa, 17; Grimell, 11.
Tennessee, 12; Georgia, 0.
Alabama, 45; Mississippi, 0.

Business Manager,
JOHN DAVIS.
Assistant—Lewis B. Custer.

This week we are again called upon to make explanation in reference to the game scheduled for last Saturday. Much disappointment has been felt by our people. The game promised to be a good one and our committee went to a great deal of labor and expense in preparation for it. Considering this; it is just that some explanation should be made, both that inquiries may be met and that no censure falls, except where it is due.

Our manager expected the game to be played up until a late date and completed all arrangements in good faith. The first warning of the trouble, however, came on Thursday when Mr. Shambauch, Susquehanna's manager, telephoned our manager asking that twenty minute halves be agreed upon. This is not in keeping with football regulations. The limit is usually taken as thirty-five minutes, and at this time in the season when teams are hardened to the work, they ought not to ask for so short a time. But after consulting our advisory board, our manager offered to play the first half at twenty-five minutes and the second at twenty minutes. The response was on Friday afternoon, that many of the players were on the sick list and that only ten available players were to be had. To meet this objection our manager offered to allow them to play their coach, Mr. Lang, a professional, or any man that they could secure, either a professor or town sympathizer. He also offered to secure, for them if need be, two or three men from the L. A. C; team. and a Bucknell's expense too, in order that the game might be played. Saturday morning about eight o'clock the following telegram was received in answer: Lang will not come. Can not.

F, E. Shambaugh.

Our offers and replies were repeatedly evaded. It seems that Susquehanna was afraid to meet our team and to avoid it resorted to this plan. We are told, though not officially, that the report that no game would be played on Saturday was current in their college as early as Thursday.

This seems to us to be uncalled for. Bucknell has the reputation of always giving good treatment to her visiting teams. This one has always been well received and fairly treated. Our team is by far their superior, but yet has always tendered them the privilege of a game each season. This time they have taken, we think undue advantage of our magnanimous spirit.

Our students and friends are greatly disappointed in not having a game on Saturday. It is ubt natural that a little censure should come from them. But a little consideration of the facts already stated, we think, will remove this from our men who have done their best to offer to our people this the last scheduled game of the season.

As to the future, that is a matter of question. Our management in the various departments, and many of our students think that we ought not be so liberal with small college teams. We gain nothing in the way of reputation by playing them, while they gain everything; first, they gain in being recognized by us; and secondly, they gain a very high standing if by any trickery or unfairness they win from us. We think that to our athletes a fair amount of reserve is due. One of our first duties is protection to our own institution.

VOL. VI. LEWISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 26, 1901. No. 10.

Bucknell, 34; Burlingame; 0.

Bucknell scored another victory last Saturday afternoon in their line up against Burlingame. The weather was very inclement and as a result, the game which otherwise would have been largely attended, was witnessed by very few spectators. In spite of the rain, however, Bucknell's admires turned out and cheered the giants on to victory.

The game was not an interesting one from the spectators view point, partly because of the disagreeable weather and partly because the game was not played with the vim and dash that generally characterizes the Bucknell contests. Not until the second half did the giants begin to make things interesting for their visitors. Then, with a determination to score, they found it an easy task to carry the ball over their opponents goal line.

The poor punting and frequent fumbles can be accounted for by the wet and smeary condition of the field. The fumbles made were not at all costly to either side, but the punt made by Johnson, near the end of the second half giving the ball on Bucknell's four yard line made the contest quite interesting for a short time. At this point of the game, however our boys did noble work. The visitors in an effort to make a double pass were thrown for a loss of 10 yards. A goal from the field was tried but the ball was blocked and Bucknell had the oval in her possession. A moment later Barret made a sensational run of 100 yards and the pigskin which a minute before had threatned our goal was carried over the visitors goal line for a touch-down.

Sebring a former Bucknell student, played a nice game for the visiting team while Bucknell's chief ground gainers were Barrett, McMahon, McCormick, Taylor and Johnson. Shipp was out of the game on account of the injuries received in the W. & J. line up at Pittsburg. Late in the second half Bell relieved Douglass at right end; Johnson took McCormick's place at fullback and Smiley filled the position at left tackle while Senn was substituted at left half-back for captain Stanton.

The game opened with captain Stanton's men defending the eastern goal, Burlingame taking the kick off. Applegate kicked off to McCormick who carried the ball back 25 yards. After two rushes Burlingame got the ball on a fumble. One rush and Sebring made a first down, the only one made by the visiting team during the game. Burlingame punted to Smith. Barrett made an end run of 15 yards. Johnson bucked the line for 8 yards and Barrett again carried the ball around the end for 10 yards. Cockhill, McCormick and Stanton each made three, seven and twelve yards respectively. Barrett then carried the ball back to the opponets 8 yard line, after which the visitors got possession on a fumble. Burlingame punted. Barrett and Stanton each took a hand in advancing the ball, after which Johnson bucked the line for 8 yards and scored the first touch-down. Douglass failed to kick the goal: Bucknell, 5; Burlingame, 0. Bucknell, by end runs and center rushes had the ball in the middle of the field when it was lost on a fumble. Opponents punted at once. Gillis got the ball. Burlingame broke through our line and blocked a kick on McCormick. Here the visitors were penalized 10 yards for off side play. On a fumble Bucknell lost the oval. After two downs failing to gain the distance, the visitors punted. Cockhill made 4 yards. Taylor bucked the line for 8 yards more. Burlingame was then given 10 yards on off side play. Bucknell tried the quarter-back but failed. The visitors got possession but fumbled in first the play and Bucknelll again had the ball. Two rushes and Johnson was sent over the line for the second touchdown. Douglass kicked an easy goal. Bucknell, 11; Burlingame, 0. Burlingame kicked off and McCormick had punted in return when time was called for first half.

Bucknell opened the second half by kicking off. The visitors seemed weak; captain Stanton's men played a more spirited game and manifested more life. Long rushes by McMahon, Taylor and Johnson brought the ball to Burlingame's 12 yard line. McMahon in one rush made the distance and scored a touchdown. Johnson failed to kick the goal. Barrett was soon sent over for another touchdown. McMahon kicked the goal and the score was, Bucknell 22, Burlingame 0.

After Burlingame kicked off, Bucknell relieved some of the regulars by making use of her substitutes. Bell, Cockill and Barrett carried the ball to Burlingame's 8 yard line. Taylor was given the pig skin and rushed it through the opposing line for tally. McMahon kicked the goal.

The next and last touchdown was made by Barrett after a long run of 100 yards. McMahon kicked the goal. Score: Bucknell, 34, Burlingame, 0.

The Avon Club.

On Thursday evening, Nov. 21 another Shakespere club was organized and will be known as the Avon Club. The officers elected were as follows:—Pres. John Eisenhauer; Vice Pres. W. E. Roberts; Sec. J. Robert Hayes; Treas. Frank Daniels. There are sixteen members enrolled. It was decided to use for a text book "As You Like It." This is the second club in the class of 1904, organized for the study of Shakspere. After the organization, a very interesting talk was given by Dr. Perrine.

Dr. Moss' Lectures.

A series of six lectures was delivered by Dr. Moss during the past week on "Jesus Christ and the Social Question." The attendance was even larger than in former years, and quite a large number of students are taking up the honor work given by Dr. Moss. We can merely indicate, in the briefest possible manner, the trend of thought followed in this course of lectures.

In the beginning the speaker asked the question: what is the social question." This he answered by giving many concrete examples. Labor questions, the proper investment of capital, the housing of the poor, and the liquor question all were used as illustrations.

Some would solve the problem of government, by abolishing all government. This leveling theory is responsible for our late President's assassination. This doctrine is that all men are on a level, and no man has a right to rule, even if he is chosen by his fellowmen for that purpose. It is impossible to establish such a theory. It is contrary to the laws which govern the social world. It is opposed to the teachings of Christ. The church and all its teachings would need to be annihilated. This can not be. God still is on his throne and has no intention to abdicate.

The teachings of Jesus deals with all these questions, and if followed would put an end to them. We are troubled with these question when civilized society fails to follow his teachings. The fact that there is a social question, is encouraging and indicates that it will be solved. If one lived in Africa, Turkey or any less civilized country, there would be no social question to him.

There is no distinction between the secular and religious. All things, all occupations, all days should be regarded as sacred. Enter into all work of life as a sacred calling.

Here the speaker brought out very forcibly the individuality of man. No man should care to change places with any other man. If we are to be anything it will be in our own personality. Each man bears upon his soul the autograph of God, and all the sin, and powers of darkness can not change it.

In the second lecture the subject of "redemption" was discussed. This was the purpose of Jesus in the world. He redeems society by the redemption of individuals. Redemption is, primarily to put man in the right relation with God. The whole conception of the universe is dependent on this relation. Jesus did not organize, but trusted this to individuals. Each individual must contribute his share to the redemption of the world.

The third lecture was on "service." The world demands something of each one of us. Any one who is in the true relation with God, wants to see the world better when he leaves it than when he came to it. To get our rights is secondary. Service is the principal object of life. Jesus did not demand his rights in the world. Life is a failure unless it is a life of service. True service is the doing each day the duties that come to us.

"Principles of Service" was the subject of the fourth lecture. Jesus does not lay down specific rules of conduct, but formulates broad principles. From these are to be worked out our specific duties. Each one of us is commissioned to contribute his share to the salvation of the world. We make our estimates of men accoading to the service they perform for society. The value of man is not estimated by his ability to make money.

The fifth lecture was on "brotherhood." This is the basis for the solution of all our social questions. Christ shows in all his teachings the spirit of brotherhood. Civilization grows out of our meeting and solving the problems of life. The best way to help any one is to join him on a common level and then bring both to a higher plane. God has not made us all equal, but he has made us all of the same family. The arrangement of labor and capital is for the benefit of man. As college men, we must be leaders, and the responsibility is great. Let us be sure that we lead and do not mislead.

The last hour was taken up by the Doctor in giving answers to the many questions which had been handed in by those interested.

Chemical and Physical Society.

At the Chemical and Physical society the manufacture of iron was discussed by Prof. Owens. A brief historical sketch of the industry, from the time of Tubalcain, was given. In early times goat skin bellows were used. These were operated by two men treading alternately. Practically the same method is still in use in India.

The construction of a modern furnace was then shown. The ore, fuel, and flux are introduced at the top of the furnace. The blast is furnished through tuyereo. Hot blast is used and to prevent melting, the tuyeres are surrounded by water. The flux is limestone, if the ore contains clay, or the reverse. When the mass melts the slag floats on the top of the iron and is drawn off. Mineral wool is made from slag. The iron is drawn off into "pigs." The iron is now in the form of cast iron. There are two kinds of cast iron, the white and the gray. The "white" is highly crystalline and contains carbon in combination. The "gray" iron is more granular and contains carbon as graphite.

Malleable iron is made from cast iron by the process of "puddling." There are two objects in "puddling" 1st, burn out the carbon: 2nd, destroy the crystalline structure. The iron is placed in a reverberator furnace where it is melted and stirred to bring every part of it into contact with the air, as soon as the carbon is burned out the iron is squeesed into a solid mass and made ready for rolling.

Steel is made by several processes. By the Bessemer process the melted iron is poured into a convertor. The carbon and other impurities are burned out. Then spiegeleisen is introduced.

We read with interest the report of class spirit as found in many of our schools and universities. When we think of it as found in our own institution, the one which ought to be most dear to us, we are led sometimes to question whether or not it finds much place among us. The class spirit we refer to is not that braggartism sent forth in vociferous acclamations lauding themselves and depreciating others, which is so often mistaken for class spirit; but that determination of the respective class to surpass all others, to have it attain a higher standard in intellect and athletics than any preceding class—and this determination carried forth in fair, open, honest contest as becometh men.

Along the line of regular college work there is not given the opportunity, perhaps, to show this spirit as well as in the course of athletics in the usual college games. The usual prizes are awarded in the several classes, but there is no good way of measuring a class by this. Nor is it easy to arrange any regular contest in which the whole school can be measured and still preserve class unity. Interclass debates are some times employed for this purpose, and when properly conducted, with good result. A similar plan, and known to our institution, is the inter-society debates. They have in time past been watched with much interest, and there is no reason why we should not all look forward to them with much interest in the future.

In the way of athletic contest much opportunity is given to show the strength of the several classes. In the various games the final score tells the winner, and the comparative strength of each class, in any line, can be told by the various scores. The contests can be carried on fairly and openly that the best men in each class may have an opportunity to participate.

We wonder why this work is receiving so little attention this fall. As yet there has been but one contest—a football game between the Academy and the Freshman class. It is needless to say that this was an interesting game. Not only the "preps" and freshmen attended it and viewed it with interest, but many of the students of the other classes. Every person present was pleased. The teams were urged on by their sympathizers, cheering was prolific, and every one had a general good time.

We learn that a game of football between the freshmen and sophomore classes is arranged for on Tuesday evening. It has been placed in the hands of the athletic committee in order that the proper arrangements may be made. This promises to be a hotly contested game, as each class will have a good team on the field and each will go there for the sole purpose of winning. Many will be pleased to learn this, and will not fail to be present. The usual custom will be followed and an admission of ten cents will be charged—this is to be for the benefit of the Athletic Association. Every one will be pleased, too, to learn of this little admission fee. Every one wants to be a helper and here is where you can cast in your mite.

The basketball season is now at hand—at least the time for systematic training is here. Every student who has any ability along this line should come out and get in practice. Now is the time before the gymnasium is crowded because of cold and inclement weather. Each class will surely have a basketball team. Some class will win the cup. Following these are other contests for which the men ought to be training. This year ought to excel every other in this line of work.

The Washington Jeffersonian says of the game with Bucknell. "The game was clean and interesting from start to finish, and was charcterized on the part of both teams by that which a true lover of sport most admires—all team work and no individualism. After the second half was over the Bucknell pennants were rolled up and the score stood 11 to 5 in W. & J.'s favor. This was a great victory for us, and our team is deserving of great praise." In the local column we also see this expression. "The rooting at the Bucknell game was something fierce."

Chemical and Physical Society.

The carbon of the spiegeleisen acts upon the iron and turns it into steel.

Cast iron contains as high as 6 per cent. of carbon, malleable iron has only a small fraction of one per cent. Steel contains more carbon than malleable iron but less than cast iron; the amount varies according to the use for which the steel is intended.

The open hearth process of making steel, the tempering and testing of steel and the welding of iron were also discussed.

Our football team will play at Minersville on Thanksgiving day. The Minersville boys promise the members of our team a warm reception and a stiff game.

The literary society conducted a mock trial Friday night, and it was carried out quite successfuly. It was a commonwealth case. Prof. Edward Bell acted as judge of the case. The attorneys were as follows: Commonwealth, J. J. Owens, Harry Munro. Defendant, James Elliott, S. J. Black. The prisoner was acquitted, because of lack of evidence on the part of the prosecution.

The meeting was largely attended, there being about sixty present.

Euepia Literary Society.

In Euepia the meeting was well attended and an interesting program was rendered. Shaw, '05, gave in clear, concise statements, the current events of the week. Only such events were mentioned as it is well for college students to know. Bilger, '03, then followed with an original story. A quaint wholesome humor pervaded the whole story, the subject of which was, "Brown's Remodel of the Context of Mark Antony's Speech over the dead body of Caesar."

The subject for debate was: "Resolved: That a student should not specialize until his senior year." Terrel, '03, and Daniels, '05, spoke on the affirmative, and Dunlap, '03, and Williamson, '05, on the negative. The speakers were well prepared and gave one of the best debates of the season.

VOL. VI. LEWISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, DECEMBER 10, 1901. No. 11.

THE LAST GAME WAS A VICTORY

Bucknell, 17; Athens, 6.

Bucknell closed the most successful football season in her history by winning from the Athens Athletic Association last Thanksgiving afternoon. The game was marked by brilliant plays on the part of the orange and blue representatitive from beginning to end.

The temperature bordering on zero put snap and life in the game which made it exciting throughout, while a large crowd of spectators shivered in the cold and gave cheer after cheer for both teams.

The opposing team which is an aggation of professionals was much heavier than the Bucknell eleven and that together with their long years of experience gave them many advantages. But Captain Stanton's men did good work on the defensive, in fact better than any time during the season, and for that reason held the giant opponents down to a single tally. Bucknell's offensive work was also excellent, good interference enabled the ends and back field to advance the ball for big gains, and with well executed plays on the part of the tackles and guards, the pigskin was placed with in striking distance of the goal.

The orange and blue won the game not because the Athens team was weak but because Bucknell's team work was much superior. Coach Hoskin's men played together with a unity and a determination that was highly creditable. Every man played a magnificent game, but the work of Barrett was quite noticeable making long end runs and once scoring a touchdown on a fumble. Gates did good work for Athens, hitting the line for many substantial gains.

Johnson was the only substitute used by Bucknell, he having been placed at right end for Douglass who received injuries in the early part of the first half.

The game was called promptly at 3 o'clock. Bucknell won the toss and chose to defend the goal favored by the wind. The game was hard fought from the beginning. Captain Stanton's men succeeded in crossing the opponent's goal line but once during the first half. A try for the goal failed. The half closed with the score. Bucknell, 5; Athens, 0.

In the second half Bucknell played an exceptionally fast game scoring a touchdown in less than five minutes of actual play. The third and last touchdown was made near the middle of the half. McCormick kicked both goals.

Near the close of the half Athens succeeded in getting the oval within striking distance of our goal line. Gates, who seemed to be the only ground gainer Athens had, by successive plunges rushed the pigskin over our goal line just as the timekeepers blew their whistles. O'Day kicked the goal. The final score being Bucknell, 17; Athens, 6.

The line-up:—

Athens, 6,	Bucknell, 17.

O'Day(Gates)..full back...McCormick

Referee and umpire—Mills, Cornell and Hoskins, Bucknell. Timekeepers—Goodall, Bucknell, and Decker, of Athens. Linesmen—Hagers, Athens, and Bell, Bucknell. Times of halves—30 minutes. Touchdowns—McMahon, Douglass, Barrett, Gates. Goals from touchdowns—McCormick, 2; O'Day.

Thus closed a most successful season of football at Bucknell. We desire to congratulate each individual players for his faithfulness and earnestness in training.

To captain Stanton much credit is due. He has worked faithfully and controlled his team well. Coach Hoskins is also to be congratulated. He has spared neither time nor attention in developing good men. That we have had a successful season is largely due to the unceasing and untiring efforts of our coach.

The record of the team for the season is:

PRES.

Chemical and Physical Society.

The Chemical and Physical society held a regular meeting in the Physics room of the laboratory last Thursday, Prof. Simpson discussed Methods of Measuring the extremes of temperature.

Thermometry began in the time of Gallileo. He invented the air thermometer. The air or gas thermometer is the best yet contrived as all gases have a uniform rate of expansion. All substances (a few exceptions) expand when heated. There are four forms of instument: Those depending upon the expansion of 1st liquids, 2nd gas, 3rd solids and the 4th is by an electric current.

The liquids used are mercury or alcohol. Mercury can be used to 550 degrees C. There is an allay of Sodium and Potassium that can be used to 700 degrees.

The method used in the air thermometer is called the method of the constant volume of air. The principle of this thermometer is the Law of Charles and the Law of Boyle. This method is useful to quite high temperatures.

The best method is by use of two pieces of metal called thermal elements. These are joined by a wire and a galvonometer placed between them. By keeping one element at a known temperature, the temperature of the other can be determined by the electric current that will pass between them. This method is useful from the temperature of liquid air to the melting point of platinum and accurate to .01 degree. Prof. Simpson performed several experiments to illustrate each of the methods.

According to established custom we did not issue any paper last week, and the editors enjoyed the Thanksgiving vacation.

Friday evening of this week the basket ball season will open with the first scheduled game of the year. The students will meet this with much pleasure, as it will be a change from witnessing games out on the hill exposed to the weather. The gymnasium will be well cared for by the management so as to best accomodate the people attending the game. A good attendance is expected. We should have a good crowd out to encourage our team in the first of the season at least. Each student of the school has a part to do—lend his presence—and no one else can do it for him. If we do this, there is no doubt but that the excellent schedule arranged for the year will go through with success, and the season will close not only with the expenses of the season fully paid but with a nice amount of money to turn over to the Athletic association. Let us try to help the cause along.

Football 1904 Vs 1905.

The game played between the Sophomores and Freshmen a few days ago was one of the most interesting contests at Bucknell this season.

The intense rivalry existing between the two classes, was increased by coach Hoskins offering a silver cup to the victorious team.

Each team had the best football material available. The Sophomores weighed heavier than their opponents, but what the Freshmen lacked in weight was made up in speed.

Rooting was reduced to a system. Both classes were well represented in the crowd of spectators, and by the use of megophones, the yells and songs composed for the occasion were rendered most effectively.

The game opened with 1904 defending the western goal, 1905 had the kick off. For the first five minutes the game was hotly contested, neither side being able to advance the ball for big gains. Finally the Sophomores worked the pig skin up to their opponents 15 yd. line, then on a delayed passed, which was nicely executed. White was sent around left end for first and only touchdown made by the Sophomores, Hoelzel failed to kick the goal. Score, Soph. 5 Fresh. 0. Near the close of the first half, 1904 had the oval on their own 12 yd. line and punted in order to put it out of danger. At this point of the game, a most sensational play was made by Anderson, who caught the punted ball and worked his way back to the 1904 goal line, without being downed, for the Freshmen. Anderson failed to kick the goal. Score. Sophomores. 5 Freshmen, 5.

Darkness closed in on the field before the game was finished. Neither side was able to score during the rest of the game, thus the contest resulted in a tie.

Zeta's Open Meeting.

The Thanksgiving holidays just passed were enlivened for the Bucknell student body by the opening of Zeta, the college girls' literary society. This annual event has come to be a fixture in the Bucknell social world, and this year's program, with the highly creditable way in which it was rendered, shows why it has attained to such a degree of popularity.

The society held its' opening this year on the Friday following Thanksgiving. During the first part of the evening the visitors were entertained with selections given by the members of Zeta. Miss Schillinger's monologue was rendered in a very pleasing manner. The tableaus and the story of Bluebeard, the latter being given in pantomime, were both as natural as realities; the legend of the ancient king, indeed, produced a very chilling effect in the hearts of many, so ably was it presented. The performance ended with a number of cleverly invented and well acted charades.

After the carrying out of the program an informal reception was held during which refreshments were served. Having spent a most pleasant evening the visitors left, each one believing more than ever that the opening of Zeta is one of the most enjoyable events of the Thanksgiving vacation.

The Basketball Game.

The first basketball game of the season at Bucknell was played in the gymnasium last Friday evening and resulted in a one-sided victory for the wearers of the orange and blue. Captain Davis's players had for their opponents a team from Milton on whom Bucknell scored goals at will. In halves of 20 and 15 minutes respectively the college players made 33 goals and kept the visitors from scoring more than one goal. The Milton players put up a better game than the score would indicate, but they were no match at all for their opponents. The contest was remarkably free from fouls, but two offenses being committed, both of these by Bucknell.

Nine men were given a trial by Captain Davis and there promises to be a lively contest for positions on the team. The graduation of Bevan and the retirement of Mathewson leave two positions to be filled and if the playing on Friday night, of those who are trying for the vacancies is to be taken as a criterion, the men who fill the positions will have to play the game for all there is in them.

The attendance at the game was very large, and Manager Robinson is very much encouraged at the out-look for the season.

Line up:—

Coming Session of Court.

The January session of Union county court has on the list for trial several cases of more than usual interest, and the sessions promise to be continued for more than the usual two or three days. The county bridge case will likely be tried, and on the criminal list is the murder trial of Arnold, who stabbed the negro last September, with the usual lot of petty commonwealth cases.

Morse, '04, spent Saturday evening calling on friends in Watsontown.

J. Miller, State Sec. of the Y. M. C. A., for colleges was here during the week.

The Wearing of "B's."

We would like to call attention of the students to the amendments which were adopted by the Athletic Association last Saturday, in regard to wearing "B's." Every student should cut out and preserve it, and the entire student body should see to it that no man wears an insignia to which he is not entitled. Each class should adopt some rules regulating the wearing of class numerals. If this is done the insignia will mean something.

The amendments are as follows:

PRESCRIBED INSIGNA.

The football "B" shall be a nine inch BLOCK "B."

The baseball "B" shall be an eight inch ROUND "B."

The basketball "B" shall be a seven inch ROUND "B."

The track and field "B" shall be a six inch ROUND "E."

The tennis "B" and the gymnasium "B" shall be a five-inch German "B."

The "B" or monogram for the cap shall be left to the discretion of the manager and captain of the respective teams.

QUALIFICATIONS FOR INSIGNIA.

Section 1. "Any student in the collegiate department, after having played in three inter-collegiate games, shall be entitled to wear the insignia of his respective department."

Section 2. "Any student in the collegiate department having won three or more points in an inter-collegiate field and track meet, and any college student who has run on the college relay team, shall be entitled to wear the insignia prescribed for that department."

Section 3. "Any college student on the winning team in the tennis tournament, and one student chosen by the Executive Committee as excelling in gymnastics at the annual exhibition, shall be entitled to the prescribed insignia."

Athletic Elections.

The regular semi-annual meeting of the Athletic Association was held in the gymnasium on Saturday. This was the largest meeting of the kind every held at Bucknell and surley indicates a growing interest in athletics among the students. Great enthusiasm prevailed and there was a great deal of rivalry for the various offices, especially for the position of Football Manager and Assistant Football Manager.

There were several amendments, to the constitution and by-laws, adopted. Among these there was one which makes the Assistant Manager of the various teams, succeed to the office of Manager one year after his election. This is why there was rivalry over second place. There was also one adopted which regulates the wearing of "B's." This one will make a decided improvement in this matter.

After hearing the reports of the Football Manager and of the Treasurer, respectively, the association proceeded to the elecilon of officers with the following result:

Pres.—W. J. McMahon.
Vice Pres.—T. E. Cule.
Sec.—L. B. Custer.
Treas.—C. F. Eisenmenger.
Finance Committee—W. S. Gearhart and C. R. Galbrath.
Football Manager—Sylvester Dunlap.
Asst. Football Manager—R. W. Thompson.

East Wing Unroofed.

During the wind and rain storm on Saturday afternoon, the roof of the East Wing of the college building was torn loose and moved out of place about twelve feet and torn apart in the middle. This building is used for study and sleeping rooms and there was quite a stir among the occupants. There was no danger of any one being hurt, but the heavy rain which was falling came pouring into the rooms breaking the plaster, wetting the bedding etc., and making matters very disagreeable.

Many of the students were compelled to find sleeping quarters elsewhere, while others were employed nearly the whole night on the roof and in the halls, sweeping the water off so as to prevent the building from being completely ruined. The affair was quite unfortunate, causing much inconvenience to the students and quite an item of expense to the university. The building will be fully repaired during the coming vacation and will no doubt be ready for use when the next term opens.

Unlike Our Candidates.

During a local election in a German town only one man appeared at the nomination desk.

"Whom do you nominate?" inquired the official.

"Myself!" was the answer.

"Do you accept the nomination?"

"Well, no."

The officer laughed and said:

"Then we must try again. Whom do you nominate?"

"Myself!"

"You accept the nomination?"

"No."

A subdue "donnewetter!" escaped the lips of the perplexed official, but he went on:

"For the third time—whom do you nominate?"

"Myself!" came the invariable reply.

"Do you accept the nomination?"

The man rose up, and a smile of satisfaction spread over his face as he answered proudly:

"Having been three times solicited by my fellow citizens to accept the nomination, I can no longer decline to accede to their wishes." He then retired.

The exhibition of liquid air in Bucknell Hall Thursday evening was cancelled on account of the air failing to arrive according to schedule. The air was ordered from Chicago by express, but failed to make the proper connections. It was a great disappointment to many who wished to witness the exhibition.

Business Manager,
JOHN DAVIS.
Assistant—Lewis B. Custer.

The holiday vacation is now at hand and each of us is anxious to finish the work of the term and go back to our homes. We will have two short weeks for rest and recreation, and it will be well for us to lay aside our cares and studies, and enter into the joys that are always attendant upon the Christmas holidays and come back to our work so refreshed that we will be able to do our work better and easier. We do not think it advisable for students to take honors or other studies to work at during this vacation, and commend the action of the faculty in discouraging this work. Vacation is given for a rest from study.

The ORANGE AND BLUE wishes to you all a "Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year."

There is a movement on foot to give a minstrel show in the early part of next term. The proceeds are to be given over to the baseball fund. In this, all the students who have any musical or minstrel ability in them should be interested and ready to lend their aid. The baseball managers have started the movement and, in so doing, have called several of the students together to take part in the work. Those who have been missed should not fail to speak to the managers, for they are anxious to have the best material in the school. So if any have been missed it is because the managers, like any other student of the school, have not learned of your ability.

It is gratifying to the Athletic Association and those whom it closely concerns to see so large an attendance and enrollment at the meeting on Saturday. The students seem to have the athletics at heart. They mean so much for our college that to neglect them is to neglect a vital duty to our college. A large number of the new students came out and joined. With the opening of the new term will come a new line of work in athletics and every student unless physically unable, should take the work. No student can afford to sacrifice his health by closely confining himself to his room and neglecting to take exercise. The instruction and accommodations are first class and every student should come back with his mind fully settled on the matter and so enter the gymasium the first day.

Football Subscriptions.

The following football subscriptions were paid the past week: J. C. Carey, Danville, Pa., C. A. Weymouth, Yale University, New Haven, Conn., A. M. Weaver, Liberty, Pa., C. Mathewson, Factoryville, Pa., Hon. A. W. Johnson, Lewisburg, H. B. Wassel, Pittsburg, Carouther Bros., C. A. Woodard, Warren Grier, H. R. Miller, Alfreda Gamboa, W. E. Manoval, W. H. Cox, A. G. Karge.

License Question Decided.

According to an opinion filed this week by Judge Scott, of Easton, boroughs in Pennsylvania have a right to collect taxes from non-resident dealers in bread, meat, fish and milk, who sell from wagons within the borough limits. Judge Scott says all persons may be subject to such control.

Something of the home life of Mrs. Browning is revealed in Dr. Elliott's first chapter of "A Group of Notable Women," beginning in the January Delineator, will give lovers of her poems a new insight into the family circle which surrounded her during her residence in Italy. Mrs. Browning is described as petite beyond all imagining, being scarcely larger than an ordinary child of twelve years, her face pallid and her eyes superb.

The board of health of Williamsport have decided to cover all dead water ponds in that vicinity with petroleum early in the spring, in order to banish mosquitoes and kill malaria germs next summer.

VOL. VI. LEWISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, JANUARY 7, 1902. No. 13.

Basket-ball Outlook.

During the winter term the branch of athletics to which the attention of the student body will be turned is basket ball. The season at Bucknell will open next week under the most encouraging conditions. Captain Davis has the material to turn out the best team that ever represented the institution, while Manager Robinson has prepared the best schedule Bucknell has ever had. The record of the team last season of twelve games won and one lost will be hard to equal with such teams on the schedule as Princeton, Lehigh, Bloomsburg and Allegheny College, but the players believe they are equal to the task.

There is the hottest kind of a fight among the candidates for the positions on the team, which means that the men who get the positions must play the game for all there is in them. Those who are trying for the team are English, '02, Groff, '05, Anderson, '05, Campbell, '05, Cheesman, '05. The men of last year's team, playing this year, give promise of putting up a better game than ever before.

There are 13 games on the schedule. The new games that have been scheduled this year are with Princeton, Lehigh, Allegahney College, Muhlenburg College, Lock Haven Normal and Warren Y. M. C. A. teams, but the manager this year has endeavored to include in his schedule none but college and school teams. This is a commendable feature and he has succeeded in carrying it out with the exception of Warren Y. M. C. A. In Allegheny College, Bucknell will have one of the hardest propositions on its schedule, as the team is one of the best in the State. Last season it defeated Yale and this year has made a good start. In addition to the games already scheduled, a contest may be arranged with Lafayette College, to be played at Lewisburg.

The schedule in detail is as follows:

Saturday, Jan. 11, Lock Haven Normal at Lewisburg.

Friday, Jan. 17, Gettysburg College at Lewisburg.

Friday, Jan. 24, Gettysburg College at Gettysburg.

Saturday, Jan. 25, Dickinson College at Carlisle.

Friday, Jan. 31, Dickinson College at Lewisburg.

Saturday, Feb. 8, Bloomsburg Normal at Lewisburg.

Tuesday, Feb. 11, Muhlenberg College at Allentown.

Wednesday, Feb. 12, Princeton University at Princeton.

Thursday, Feb. 13, Lehigh University at South Bethlehem.

Saturday, Feb. 22, Lehigh University at Lewisburg.

Thursday, Feb. 27, Lock Haven Normal at Lock Haven.

Friday, Feb. 28, Alleghney College at Meadville.

Saturday, Mar. 1, Warren Y. M. C. A. at Warren.

On Friday last Bentz, '02, entertained his sister, Miss Susan E. Bentz, '01, and lady friends.

Dr. E. Aviragnet Encountered by a Thief.

On Monday evening, Dec. 30, Dr. Aviragnet, of the University, who lives in a home near the Seminary had a lively encounter with a bold thief, and was a victim of a severe blow which rendered him unconscious for a short while.

The professor occupies the home along with several students of the college and during vacation the students had gone to their homes, thus leaving Dr. Aviragnet alone in the house. About two o'clock in the morning the professor was awakended by a noise and hastily getting out of bed went down stairs in his night clothes. He had just reached the foot of the stairs when a tall, slender man, wearing a slouch hat pulled down over his face, at once sprang upon the Doctor and dealt him a severe blow which rendered him unconscious, and sent him to the floor, where he remained for several minutes. When became to himself the thief had disappeared and no trace of him could be found. A careful examination of the house was made but nothing was disturbed or missing. The Doctor is suffering from several bruises by the blow and fall, but aside from this is none the worse off for his experience.

The burglar was not masked except that he had his hat drawn down over his face. Dr. Aviragnet describes him as being a tall, slender man, with a black mustache. The officials are at present working to ferrit out the sneak thief but up to this time no arrests have been made.

George Shorkley Married.

We are pleased to note from the Bangor (Me.) Daily News of December 15, the following:

"Dr. George Shorkley, of Camden, and Miss Alice Katharyn MacLaughlin, daugter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas MacLaughlin of Oldtown were married on Friday at the Bay View House in Camden, the Rev. Henry Jones officiating. Because of the recent and severe illness of the bride with pneumonia, while visiting Mr. and Mrs. John F. Ryan of Dorchester, the wedding was private. Dr. Shorkley is one of our leading physicians, having an excellent practice and since he has been in Camden has made hosts of friends.

The bride who visited Camden has made many friends all of whom extend congratulations to the newly wedded."

Dr. Shorkley is a graduate of Bucknell in the class of '92. The ORANGE AND BLUE joins with his many friends in wishing them a happy and prosperous wedded life.

Rowe, '01, spent a few days last week with his brothers in the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

At a meeting of the class of 1902 President McCracken appointed the following committees: Class Play Committee—Snyder, Chairman; Drum, Stanton, Burrows, Jno. Davis. Committee on "Ways and Means." Ulmer, Chairman. Kyle, Theis, Miss Bacon, Miss Shepperd.

Additional Endowment for Bucknell.

On the last morning of the Fall term Dr. Harris after chapel introduced Dr. C. A. Hare, financial secretary of the board of trustees, and announced that on Jan. 1, 1902 the Dr. would begin to raise $100,000 additional endowment for the university, Mr. John D. Rockefeller has pledged the last $25,000. This will be gratifying news to the many friends of Bucknell. Already encouraging reports have been sent in and indications are that $75,000 will be forthcoming in a very short time. This is a movement which deserves the hearty co-operation of students and alumni in every way possible. Our institution is making rapid strides forward, and is fast becoming recognized as one of the leading institutions of learning. Within the last two years a department of law has been added, the medical course extended and as soon as possible an engineering course will be added, this makes the raising of the endowment imperative.

MARRIED AT DANVILLE.

Prof. G. L. C. Reimer Wedded to Miss Mary Youngman.

The wedding of Prof. G. L. C. Reimer and Miss Mary Grier Youngman occurred on Monday, Dec. 23, at Danville, at the home of the brother of the bride. The wedding was a quiet one and was witnessed by only the immediate friends and relatives of the bride and groom. The bride received many handsome and valuable presents. Prof. Reimer and his bride departed on an afternoon train for a tour of the eastern cities. They are making their home at present in the residence on Third street lately occupied by Mrs. Seller.

THE ORANGE AND BLUE joins with their many friends in and about Lewisburg, in extending to the professor and his young wife their congratulations and best wishes for a happy and prosperous married life.

Finance Committee Meeting.

At the first meeting of the new finance committee of the Athletic Association, held Dec. 16th, the following action was taken;

That in consideration of many sacrifices and in recognition of athletics at Bucknell, and as a testimonial of his deep interest in the welfare of the student body and loyalty to the University, the finance committee of the Athletic Association wishes in a substantial way to show appreciation to Mr. Geo. W. Hoskins, Physical Director at Bucknell University, by setting aside the sum of twenty-five dollars for the purchase of an overcoat for Mr. Hoskins, as a Christmas gift.

That the outstanding football subscriptions be used to pay off the football deficit and after paying off all obligations of the Athletic Association, the surplus in the Treasury, on Jan. 1. 1902, be deposited in a savings bank toward the purchase of a canvas to enclose the Athletic field, and if that be impossble, the money then be used for the improvement of said field.

Y. M. C. A. Greeting.

On Tuesday morning, Jan. 7, W. J. Miller, State college Sec. of the Y. M. C. A., will address the college association. Every student in the college is invited to hear him. Mr. Miller is a fine speaker and a typical college man. His pleasant manner and earnest, conscientious life win for him the admiration of all.

The association has for its aim the deepening of the spiritual life of the institution. To carry out the purpose, the association asks for the co-operation of the faculty and the student body. The idea seems to be prevalent among many of the studens that this is the work of only the ministerial students or those who expect to follow some kind of christian work. But this is a mistake. If youare a christian, no matter what profession you expect to follow, it becomes your plain duty to use your influence for the work of the Master. The association needs the help of the ministerial and non-ministerial, fraternity and non-fraternity, the athletic, the orator, and the scientific man.

The weekly prayer meetings are held on Tuesday evening at 9 o'clock in the association Hall in East Wing. Forty five minutes are devoted to song, testimony and prayer. On Monday evening the Bible classes meet under efficient and competent leaders in which carefully prepared courses of systematic Bible study are pursued.

The association also has under its auspices a mission study class which meets every two weeks.

In this class it is the aim not to make missionaries but to give every member a comprehensive view of the condition and needs of the non-christian world. During the remainder of the college year, a new book, by Harlem P. Beach, "Geography and Atlas of the mission world" will be studied. This is one of the most complete and comprehensive works on mission ever published and will make a valuable reference book in any library.

The association tenderes this following verse from Col. 3-11 as a New Years greeting: There is neither Greek nor Jew, circumcision nor uncircumcision, Barbarian, Scythetan, bond now free; but Christ is all and in all.

Once more THE ORANGE AND BLUE welcomes the students in their return to Bucknell. We are together once again and entering upon the work of another term. Shall we be as successful in this term as we have been in former ones? Shall we feel at the close of the term as though we have done our duty, as though the students of our school have been aided by our presence and as though we have been active, willing helpers rather than mere passive recipients?

The individual answers to these questions will depend upon each one personally. If we are active in our school life, and prompted in the same by an unselfish motive, we can not help but be of benefit to those about us. We will be ready to lend our presence and support in the forwarding of those things which go to make up the great part of a University. We will not only strive to discharge our class room requirements, but a good effort will be spent in helping to keep our Y. M. C. A., our Literary Societies, our Athletic Association and other kindred organizations at the standard found in an up-to-date University.

If it is true that the greatest joy that a person can receive comes from helping others, here truly is an opportunity for every student to receive great enjoyment. All the above named organizations need your help and "for value received they promise to pay," but just here we bespeak your kind attention for two "other kindred organizations," The ORANGE AND BLUE and the Mirror. These two need your help and in no place can you give your support in which it will be more greatly felt than in these. They represent our university among our students, alumni and people at-home and abroad. Both are anxious to attain a high standard; your talent is needed to give them literary excellence, to place them on an equal with the leading college journals of the country. Will you not give it? They are anxious to receive contributions from you. They solicit college news and kindly ask you to hand in the names of your visiting friends. If you will kindly comply with their modest request, you will not only help them to maintain their present standard but to rank among the foremost college periodicals.

Sporting News.

S. C. Smith, '01, has been chosen manager of the Jefferson Medical College foot ball team for next season.

Dickinson College will erect a basket ball cage in its gymnasium, giving that college one of the best floors in this section.

Yale's basket ball manager asked for a game here on December 26th, but as college was scheduled to dismiss on the 19th an engagement could not be arranged.

Weymouth, '00, accompanied the Yale basket ball team on its western trip during the holidays and played a good game. "Wey" will be a candidate for the 'varsity crew next spring.

The management of the Princeton football team has offered Bucknell three dates for next season, one of which will likely be accepted. Negotiations are also pending for a game with Yale with good prospects for arranging a contest.

Mr. Gretzinger, of the Finance committee, has announced that he has arranged for the annual Bucknell-Indian game at Williamsport next season. The date will be either October 4 or 11. In view of the excellent financial result of the game last year and the fact that State College endeavored to secure a contest with the red men at the lumber city next fall, this will be welcome news to Bucknell students.

Subscriptions to the ORANGE AND BLUE are now due.

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY.

VOL. VI. LEWISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, JANUARY 14, 1902. No. 14.

Lock Haven Was Easy.

Bucknell's basketball players had no trouble in defeating the team representing the Lock Haven Normal school in Tustin gymnasium on Saturday night, the score being 46 to 8. The fast work of Captain Davis' men was simply too much for the visitors, who at no stage of the game appeared dangerous. The Normal school boys were simply outclassed. They scored but two field goals, the other four points being the result of goals from fouls. Bucknell on the other hand made all of her points through goals from the field.

Bucknell had the ball in her possession during almost the entire first half, during which the team work and individual playing was excellent. Anderson especially distinguished himself by his fast and snappy work. A feature of this half was a difficult field goal by Lynch.

In the second half the visitors had possession of the ball more than they did in the first half, but Bucknell proved equally as strong on the defensive as on the offensive and the Normal school boys could score but once. In this half, as well as in the first, Bucknell committed numerous offences and Coach Hoskins, who acted as referee and umpire, was not slow to penalize the orange and blue players. Lock Haven fouled but twice.

The attendance at the game was very good, the gallery being comfortably filled.

Between the halves Fish, captain of the visitors, gave a clever exhibition of club-swinging, which won him merited applause.

The line-up:

LOCK HAVEN.		BUCKNELL.
Moore	Guard	Stanton
Fish	Forward	Davis
Lynch	Center	Anderson / Cheesman
Gundlach	Forward	Elliott
Bixler	Guard	English / Groff

Goals from field: Anderson, 11, Davis, 6; Cheesman, 3; Elliott, 2; English, 1; Lynch, 1; Moore; 1. Goals from fouls: Gunlach, 4. Time of the halves, 20 minutes. Umpire and referee, Hoskins. Timekeeper, Robinson.

Engagement Announcement.

At a dinner given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rogers in Muncy, on last Tuesday evening, the announcement of the engagement of their daughter, Miss Mabel, and Harry J. Little, ex-04, son of Judge Little, of Bloomsburg, was made. The marriage will take place within the next few weeks, and the bride and groom will leave immediately afterward for Northern Mexico, where Mr. Little has holdings in a copper mine and where he is building a residence. Both young people are well and favorable known both in college and town and will receive the congratulations and best wishes of a host of friends. Miss Rogers was a student at the Institute last year. Among those who attended the dinner last Tuesday evening were Weidensaul, 02; Walls, 03; Frampton, 03; Marsh, 03; Whitehead, 04; Edwards, 04.

1905 Banquet.

The first Annual Banquet of the class of 1905, held at the Park Hotel, Williamsport, Monday evening January 6, 1902, was a decided success.

From early morning, the freshman kept dropping in until by 8 o'clock all the officers and speakers and almost the entire class were present.

At 9 o'clock, after a Grand March to music rendered by the Fischler's Orchestra of Williamsport, the class entered the bunquet hall where an excellent menu was served, after which President Taylor delivered an eloquent and spirited address, and then introduced the first speaker, Mr. Bittenbender who gave a toast to "The Class of 1905," the applause which followed speaking for itself. Mr. Ralph J. Hess handled the subject of "Our Past" admirably, certainly to the credit of the class and to himself. Then followed Mr. Bostwick's speech on "Our Present" which was well delivered and duly appreciated.

Mr. Smiley then laid out so matchless a career for "Our Future" that if it is not realized, it will be due to no fault of his.

Although Miss Braddock modestly deferred from even mentioning her own sex in her toast to "The Sterner Sex," it was clearly proven that they are not inferior to those whose plaudits she upheld.

Mr. Paul Smith's gallant toast to "Gentler Sex" indicated that he had lost none of his old time wit and humor.

Mr. Goodman then roasted "The Sophomores," after which Mr. P. G. Hess ably completed the list with an enthusiastic toast to "Old Bucknell" which called forth a "Hoo Rah" from a hundred throats.

After impromptu addresses by several members of the classs the ball room and parlors were sought and a general good time followed. After chatting and dancing, and engaging in parlor games they left at 3 a. m. on a special train for Old Bucknell feeling that they had a most enjoyable time.

Extempore

At the last business meeting of the Extempore the following men were elected officers:—President, Heckert, '02; Vice-President, M. R. Sheldon, '03; Secretary, H. K. Williams, '03.

A radical change was then made in the constitution creating a more fraternal spirit among the members of the society. The society has recently been admitted as the Alpha Sigma Lyceum into the League of America, which is a confederation of debating lyceums of the Continent.

This League has among its supporters such men as D. S. Jordan, President of Stanford University, Senators Trye, Money, Thurston, Jones; Representatives Dich, Allen, Clark and others. Members of the League are to be fonnd in the representative colleges of the United States and Canada.

Hess, who was on the 'varsity baseball team last season, has signed with Lawrence, Mass., of the New England League next season.

Dr. Harris' Sermon.

Dr. Harris delivered a sermon before the students of the University of Penna. on Sunday on Freedom of Service. The following is an excerpt: "Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you." We are not to obey in order that we may become friends. Through grace we are made friends; through love we serve. This is the two-fold principle of the Kingdom of God. Christianity is a progressive realization of Freedom. The Bible, the book of the Christian, is not a Military order book, or a book of religious etiquette, but a revelation, as the world is a revelation, as the course of History is a revelation and like them must be interpreted by the free spirit of man. But Freedom is not an end in itself. Man ceases from bondage that he may really serve. Bondage throws society into unstable equilibrium by reducing man to a bare unit. Freedom in Christ develops man into a rich and manifold unity, so that each becomes a free ministering member of the social organism.

College Notes.

The new gymnasium which is to be erected at Princeton will cost $165,000.

Harvard has an automobile club which is scheduled to make several runs during the year.

It is stated that State College is trying to arrange a contest with either Cornell or Syracuse to be played in Williamsport next season; also a game with the Indians at Harrisburg.

Scholl, who played on the State college elevens almost as far back as memory takes us, has quit college to accept a position at Connellsville. He says he will play no more football, but promises to assist in coaching the Blue and White next year. Candor compels the statement that Scholl last season was one of the best players among the minor colleges.

Coach Glenn S. Warner, of the Carlisle Indian football eleven has announced that he will start his candidates for next season's football team to work shortly after April 1. He will be assisted in training them by his brother, Captain Warner, of the Cornell football team. Williams, who played full-back last year, is the new Indian captain. The team next year will be much heavier and faster than last fall.

A feature of the base ball schedule for the season of 1902 will be a game between the 'varsity and a team composed of college alumni, on Tuesday of Commencement week. Owing to the exercises at the Instiutte on that day it has been the custom in past seasons to play away from home, but Dr. Harris has approved of the new scheme, provided the game be called after the Institute exercises. The attraction should prove an excellent one, as it is proposed to have the alumni team composed of the best players that were ever in the institution. Christy Mathewson has been tendered the captaincy of the team, and the base ball management is hopeful that he will accept.

Dr. Groff an Applicant.

Dr. Geo. G. Groff, of the University, is an applicant for the position of commissioner of education in Porto Rico. Prominent men in the state have urged his candidacy. Last week Representative Butler called on President Roosevelt personally to urge his appointment. Dr. Groff spent several months in Porto Rico assisting in the establishment of a good board of health. Dr. Groff is well known in educational and medical circles in Pennsylvania, and has strong backing for the place.

The position was formerly filled by Dr. Brombaugh, of the University of Pennsylvania, and is made vacant by his resignation.

Gymnasium Entered.

On last Tuesday evening two mean tricks were performed while the students where home on vacation. Some miscreants, who were well acquainted with the place, breaking the windows of the gymnasium entered and took away a great deal of football clothing. Several lockers were broken. At the same time Manager Goodall's room was entered and ransacked. Certain persons are suspected and as soon as sufficient evidence is acquired action will be taken. The students would do well in helping to bring to justice the guilty persons.

Basket-ball at Milton.

At a game of basket-ball played at Milton, Thursday evening, Jan. 9, between a Bucknell team and the Milton team, the team from Bucknell was defeated by the score of 14-10. The Bucknell team had never played together before and they were at a great disadvantage in playing with a team which has been playing together all season.

The game was rough from start to finish and at no time before time was called were the winners evident.

Assistant—Lewis B. Custer, '03.

At the opening of the term many students made themselves conspicious by their absence, scarcely have we ever known of so much slowness and tardiness in returning at the opening of a college term. This year the vacation has been longer than usual and yet the advantage has met with much abuse. However most of the absences were among the new students who are evidently not acquainted with the rules and regulations of the college. Many of these regulations may be found in the catalogue while others, as resolutions of the faculty, are posted from time to time.

It is the duty of every person entering a school, to learn as soon as possible, the regulations under which he has placed himself. The faculty or school authorities can not excuse him for this negligence, and pass transgressions of the same as trivial matters. The school's reputation and worth depend upon how they dispose of these, matters and even more—your future.

By turning to the catalogue page 73, we find:

"The work of the term begins on the day of opening, and recitations are expected at the first hour appointed for the meeting of the classes. The work continues uninterruptedly, with the exception of holidays marked in the Calendar, until the last day of the term."

We find on the same page: "Unexcused absences from recitations are counted as zero in making up the weekly averages. Excused absences have half the effect in lowering a student's standing as unexcused absences."

On the following page '74, we find: "A student who has not completed his rhetorical work (by this is meant the compositions, essays and work in elocution) in any term will not be permitted to enter upon any of the work of the succeeding term until such deficiency is made up."

In addition to these there are a few resolutions passed by the faculty which are of importance to the students. A resolution has been in force for a long time in which it is declared that no excuses shall be granted for absences from recitations occurring during the first two weeks of any term. This rule has been, and will be, strictly enforced so that all recitations missed count a zero against the student when making up his term average. No opportunity is given to raise his grade. The student forfeits that privilege by absenting himself.

The act for the Regulation and Improvement of the college Fraternities, passed March 11, 1898, has been modified so as to encompass in its interpretation "Matriculated" students and at the same time putting special stress upon deportment and college or class standing.

We have yet to mention the following resolution: "No student who is deficient in rhetorical or classroom work in any term shall be eligible to the office of manager or director in any student organization; or to be a member of any exhibiting organization, or of any contesting athletic team, or of any publishing or editing board during any subsequent term until such deficiency is made up."

A little inquiry and investigation by the student will not only acquaint him with the above, but will post him on many other points about which many students are not informed.

Dr. Perrine has kindly consented to address the literary societies, in joint meeting, in Theta Alpha Hall on Friday evening, Jan. 24. The address will be upon some phase of debating.

Friday night, 8 p. m., basket-ball in gymnasium.

Bucknell Wins Another.

The basketball team played another good game on Friday night, defeating Gettysburg College in Tustin Gymnasium by a score of 38 to 7. Barring about the first four minutes of play, the visiting team was never in the hunt, while Bucknell scored almost at will. The game was replete with clever plays on both sides and devoid of any objectionable features. But three fouls were called, the home team being the offenders in each case. The colors of the two colleges being the same resulted in several amusing passes by the players on both teams, which were much enjoyed by the spectators.

Gettysburg started in as though she intended to play Bucknell to a standstill. At the end of about four minutes play the visitors led by a score of 4 to 2. But when Bucknell once caught her gait it was all day with the boys from the southern part of the state. With few exceptions the passes were executed with speed and exactness and at the ending of the first half Capt. Davis' men had rolled up a total of 28 points. Elliott, Davis and Anderson especially distinguished themselves by their clever goal-throwing, while Stanton and English both played an excellent defensive game. In the second half two substitutes were played and without exerting herself Bucknell scored 5 goals. Gettysburg's first two goals were thrown by White, who played a good game. Amick, who threw the other one, won applause for his clever work.

Another large crowd was in attendance, which is very encouraging to the management. There seems to be greater interest taken in the game this year than ever, and the attendance will no doubt keep up as long as the boys play a winning game.

The line-up:

BUCKNELL		GETTYSBURG
Anderson	center	Amick
Stanton
Chessman	guard	White
McCormick
English	guard	Seiber
Elliott	forward	Koser
Davis	forward	Richard

Goals—Elliott, 7; Anderson, 6; English, 1; Davis, 5; White, 2; Amick, 1. Goals from fouls—Amick, 1. Officials—Robinson and Amick. Halves 20 and 15 minutes.

The Minstrel Performance.

The minstrel performance to be given by the students for the benefit of base ball is an assurred success. The directorship fell into good hands when it was given to McCabe, '04, who has the plan of the affair laid and is now selecting his material. In Kuhn, of the Academy, he has a first class assistant. The most talented students in college will be asked to take part and it is to be hoped that all will respond. There is not doubt that a first class performance can be given, all that is needed being the heartly cooperation of the students. The date of the affair has not been definitely decided upon, but it will likely to be February 28th.

Freshmen Team Plays Two Games.

The Freshmen basketball team left on Friday for a two days' schedule trip, playing Frackville, January 17, and Ashland A. C., January 18. The teams received favorable comment by the press and were royally treated by the people, playing before large crowds at both Frackville and Ashland.

The former game resulted in a score of 14-11. Basketball as interpreted and played by winers' sons is quite novel and when played under league rules presents many sterling football qualities. Our boys are to be congratulated for their playing at both places, owing to the unfavorable condition and size of the floors. The town people boast that no visiting team has ever won a game at Frackville.

Ashland won by ascore of 21-10. This is the crack team of Schuylkill county, having lost but three games out of twenty this season. They defeated the two strong teams St. Clair and Quaker City Wheelmen and also Frackville with a score of 21-0. Our boys won the admiration of the audience by their good playing and gentlemanly conduct. The game was hotly contested from start to finish. At the end of the first half the score was only 11-8 in Ashland's favor.

Following is the line-up for the Ashland game:

ASHLAND		BUCKNELL
Young	forward	Grier
Price	forward	Taggart
Horn	center	Anderson
Hanburger	guard	Camel
Prosser	guard	Griffith

Preparatory Services.

A Preparatory service for Workers was held in Bucknell Hall Sunday afternoon, under the leadership of Prof. Hamblin. Scripture lesson, John 1 chapter. Theme, Searching for Truth. Men all along the ages have been searching for the truth. Among the searchers we find the following names: Confuscius and Budah. The great minds of antiquity, Socrates, Plato, Aristotle, who dominated the world of thought, were searching for the truth, divine truth.

The leading question in the world of thought, is, What of truth, how can we get truth. We have the invitation as given in the lesson, "Come and see."

After these remarks the meeting was then open for suggestions. Suggestions as to the best methods for work. After several methods had been proposed, it was decided that each association, College, Academy, and Institute, hold a meeting Sunday evening, in order that a definite line of work might be laid out.

Reichly, '01, called upon Zerby, '02, and Bentz, '02, on Friday and took in the Bucknell-Gettysburg basketball game in the evening. He was accompanied by Mr. Meyer, who expects to enter Bucknell next year.

A New Shakespeare Club.

A club composed of fourteen Freshmen was organized on January 16th for the study of Shakespeare's works. The following officers were elected:—President, George W. Cheeseman; Vice President, Zaccheus Daniel; Secretary, I. Roy Hanna.

Dr. Perrine was present at the organization of the club and gave a very interesting and instructive lecture on Shakespeare and his works. The Doctor told what one can expect to gain from the study of Shakespeare and offered some valuable suggestions to those present. The members of the club wish to thank the Doctor for his kindly interest and assistance.

The name of the club will be selected later.

Special Services.

A series of religious meetings have been planned for this week. On Sunday afternoon a preparatory service for women was held in Bucknell Hall, and was conducted by Prof. Hamblin.

The first week-day meeting was held on Monday evening in Bucknell Hall and was in charge of Rev. J. L. Campbell, D.D., of New York City.

Services will be held at which Dr. Campbell will speak Tuesday and Thursday at 7. p. m. and on Wednesday at 4 p. m. and Thursday at 3 p. m.

The Annual Sermon (Day of Prayer or Colleges and Schools) will be delivered in the Baptist Church at 10:30 a. m., Thursday, January 23. Other meetings will be held as circumstances may require.

All the services with the exception of the one on Thursday at 10:30 a. m., will be held in Bucknell Hall.

College Notes.

An inter-collegiate basketball association has been organized. It includes Harvard, Yale, Holy Cross, Williams Trinity and Amherst.

The poor showing made by Lehigh's football team the past season has aroused the students of that institution to activity, and at a recent mass meeting they pledged themselves to raise a sum of money sufficient to hire one or more good coaches for next spring.

Among the many things acted upon by the senior class at Harvard on December 16, 1901, the most interesting feature is the election of R. C. Bruce as class orator. Bruce is a colored man and the son of B. K. Bruce, formerly Senator from Mississippi and Register of the Treasury. He is one of the best orators and debaters that Harvard has ever had.

In reference to an announcement from Philadelphia to the effect that a boat race between Yale, Harvard, Annapolis, Georgetown and the Univ. of Pennsylvania is proposed, Captain Kunzig, of the Yale navy, said to-day: "Yale will enter no race such as is mentioned in the dispatch. A race like that would be simply rowing the Yale-Harvard race a month ahead of time. We expect to row the Annapolis eight about the second week in May, but we shall meet the Middies alone."

Bucknell Forging Ahead.

The fifty-second annual catalogue of Bucknell University shows an attendance of 580, of these 345 are in the college, 104 in the Freshmen class. 28 are employed in the work of instruction in the college. Hon. Harold Murry McClure gives courses in Contracts and in Pleadings, Frederic E. Bower Esq., in Crimes and in Torts, Albert W. Johnson, Esq., in Reality and Equity.

These subjects were added to the curiculum the present year. Lewellyn Phillips, A. M., a graduate of the college class of 1892 and for seven years instructor in the college and for the past three years a graduate student in the Univ. of Chicago has been elected Crozer Professor of Rhetoric and Oratory and will enter upon his duties Sept. 1902. The work in English Language and Literature so ably performed for the past 5 years by Professor Enoch Perrine, Litt. D. will continue under his care. The new physical laboratory will be ready for use by the opening of the next school year. More than $800,000 has been invested in fixed and and working capital of the Institution, the gift of friends of education. An effort is now in progress to add $100,000 to the working capital, of this amount Mr. John D. Rockefeller who on previous occasions has been a benefactor of the Institution, promises the last $25,000. Rev. Calvin A. Hare, Financial Secretary, is canvassing for the other $75,000 and is meeting with encouraging success.

[The catalogue is now in press and will be ready for distribution soon. The university desires to place a copy in the hands of prospective students. Please leave names at Registrar's office.]

The Senior Receptionr

The ladies of the Senior class invited their class brothers to the Institute parlor on Wednesday evening to spend a short time in a social way. These informal receptions by the Senior ladies have been given every year for some time, but this one we believe, surpassed them all. Soon after eight o'clock the young men began to assemble and it was not long until the whole class was present. The ladies were prepared to entertain the class in a most delightful manner. Everything was so informal, and vet carried out in an original and entertaining manner.

The committee had arranged a contest in word building and from that the company passed to charades. Singing and plays of all sorts and entertainments too numerous to mention were features of the evening. The most delightful refreshments were served and you may guess how glady they were received. Time came all too soon when the reception was over. One or two class yells were given before leaving the parlor, and all departed agreeing that they had spent a most enjoyable time. The ladies are to be congratulated on the success of their reception.

The minstrel practice has been postponed one week on account of the week of prayer for colleges.

Lately many complaints have been heard from students on account of having lost books and other articles belonging to them. It is not known how these things have disappeared. Their loss could hardly have been caused by carelessness however; for although, as has been quaintly said, our "forgetters" are generally in better working order than our memories, yet it is highly improbable that so many at one time should have lost their belongings through thoughtlessness.

Most of the sufferers seemto think that their property has escaped them by the aid of the covetous hands of some outside person. Surely no student would stoop so low as to do anything of this sort—it is simply not possible. But if we are wrong and these goods have gone through the kindly assistance of some student, then he had better inquire very diligently as to the true object of all educational institutions, and allow Bucknell to perform her duty by him—to make a man of him.

To whomever has been using his hands too freely along this line, however, we would say it is a bad habit and sometimes leads into embarrassing circumstances. Swear off, although it is not the time for formal resolutions, and perhaps the ignominy of being compelled to do so will be avoided as well as the punishment for past deeds.

Sophomores vs. Academy.

The first of the series of the class games was played between the Sophomore and Academy teams on Tuesday afternoon. The game was played with great determination by both teams. The score stood 9 to 6 in favor of the Academy at the end of the first half but the Sophs succeeded in winning during the second half by the final score of 16 to 12. At times the excitement ran so high that the official's whistle could scarcely be heard. Judging from the excitement at this game, it is anticipated that the rivalry and enthusiasm during the remainder of the series will surpass previous years.

The Literary Societies.

The literary societies will hold a joint meeting on Friday evening in Theta Alpha Hall. At that time Dr. Perrine will address the societies on some phase of the subject of debating. It is only occasionally that our societies can be so highly favored and we ought to have a good attendance at this meeting.

Last week the attendance at the societies was not up to the standard. Perhaps it was because of the basketball game following so closely. These matters however ought not to lessen the attendance. The presidents of the societies try to shorten the exercises to suit such emergencies. We are glad to note though that most of those assigned places on the program were present.

A Pair of Victories.

The first trip of the basketball team this season was a glorious success, the boys defeating Gettysburg at Gettysburg on Friday night and Dickinson at Carlisle on Saturday night. The contests were both pretty exhibitions and far more exciting than those preceeding.

The game at Gettysburg was a clean cut affair. The playing was fast, and fouls were "conspicuous for their absence," neither side committing an offence. Bucknell was handicapped by the small floor and it was some time before our boys began to score. Gettysburg led several times during the half; but the half ended with the score 14 to 12 in favor of Bucknell. The second half was in Bucknell's favor and the game ended with a score 30 to 24 in favor of the visitors. The work of the forwards and guards was excellent, and Anderson's playing was remarkably fine.

The line-up:

GETTYSBURG.		BUCKNELL.
Koser	Forward	Davis
Richards	Forward	Elliott
James	Center	Anderson
Seiber	Guard	English
White	Guard	Cheesman

Goals—White, 3; Seiber, 4; Richards, 3; Koser, 2; Davis, 1; Elliott, 5; Anderson, 7; English, 1; Cheesman, 1. Umpire and Referee—Amick and Robinson, alternately. Timekeeper—Jackel. Time of halves 20 minutes.

The game with Dickinson was even more evenly contested than that with Gettysburg and was characterized with more or less roughness. The teams played under National League rules, but that evidently did not affect the work of Bucknell's team, which threw seven goals before Dickinson caught her breath. But after that our boys seemed to be a little off color and allowed Dickinson to score twice, the half ending 14 to 4. In the second half Dickinson took a brace and crawled up on our boys, who scored only 7 points in this half. Final score 21 to 13. Bucknell suffered considerable from making fouls. The team work in this half was excellent, while all of the men distinguished themselves by their individual playing. Cheesman was hurt by coming in contact with the wall in the second half and McCormick took his place.

The line-up:

DICKINSON.		BUCKNELL.
Powell	Forward	Davis
Rogers	Forward	Elliott
W. Brumgate	Center	Anderson
E. Brumgate / Shuman	Guard	Cheesman
Chapman / Carlin	Guard	Chessman / McCormick

Goals—Powell. 3; E. Brumgate, 1; Chapman, 1; Davis, 1; Elliott, 2; Anderson, 3; English, 2; McCormick, 2. Goals from fouls—Davis, 1; W. Brumgate, 3. Umpire and Referee Robinson and Amick. Timekeeper Jaekel. Time of halves 20 minutes.

Bertolette was visited by his father last week.

Sunday's Philadelphia Press had in it a picture of the '98, Seminary Basket Ball Team.

Track and Field Prospects.

The candidates for the track and field team have commenced the regular in-door work. There was quite a liberal response to the call of Coach Hoskins, who, with Captain Tiffany, is confident that Bucknell will be represented by a first-class team this year. With the exception of Pearse and Feizer, all of last year's men are back and are at work. While the loss of these two men will no doubt be felt, Coach Hoskins hopes to develop men to take their places.

For the sprints there will be Tiffany, Goodall, Pearse a brother of Charley, Cheeseman, Cowell and several others. Some of these men, along with Glaspey, will also be candidates for the hurdles. If his work last year may be taken as a criterion. Slifer should take care of the distances. Among the others who will compete for the distances is Elliott, of the Academy, who last year made a record for himself at Temple College. There are a great many candidates for the high jump including Theis, Edwards, '03, Pearse, Thayer and others. Theis and others will compete for the pole vault. It will be hard to find a man to take the place of Pearse in the broad jump, although his brother is highly spoken of. The principal candidates for the weights are McMahon, Gillis, Barrett and Shipp.

Of the four regular men of the relay team of last year three are back, Tiffany, Goodall and Glaspey. Among others who will compete are Dunlap, who was a substitute last year, Pearse, Elliott, (Academy) and Cheesman.

There will probably be three intercollegiate meets during the year, the Indians at Lewisburg, Dickinson at Carlisle and probably Gettysburg at Gettysburg. Manager Walkinshaw also intends taking the relay team to Philadelphia to compete in the intercollegiate contests, and it is thought that the orange and blue will make a much better showing than last year.

All students should bear in mind that each has an equal chance with the other for the track and field team, and all those who have ability in this line should report to Coach Hoskins. Don't hide your light under a bushel.

Special Meeting.

Dr. J. L. Campbell, of New York City, conducted a series of meetings, beginning on Monday evening, and closing on Thursday evening the regular day of prayer for schools and colleges.

The meetings were very successful. Dr. Campbell is a clear and logical thinker and a forceable speaker. It is certainly a rare treat to have the privilege of hearing such a man.

On Monday evening at 7 o'clock, he spoke on the theme of "Knowing God." On Tuesday evening he spoke on the theme, "The Temptations of Jesus." Wednesday at 4 p. m., Philippians 3; 8-10 was made the basis of a very forceable plea "To Know Him". On Thursday morning at 8o'clock Dr. Campbell gave a general talk to the students in Bucknell Hall. At 10.30 the annual sermon on the day of prayer, was preached in the Baptist church from Isaiah 6;1-1, on the theme "A vision." At 3 p. m., Dr. Campbell again spoke to the students in Bucknell Hall on "Methods of Bible Study." and at 7 o'clock the closing sermon was preached from Phil. 1: 12-18, on "The Christian Bands."

The meetings were very well attended, and much good will undoubtly come from them.

Literary Meeting.

On last Friday evening the two societies in joint session were addressed by Dr. Perrine in his usual helpful and pleasant manner. To give as complete an account of the address as would well repay the attention of every student in the University is beyond the limits of the space at our disposal. We wish that more had been there to enjoy and profit by it.

The Doctor opened with a few preliminary remarks upon the importance of being able to influence public opinion and then took up in a concise and practical way, the question,—"What constitutes an able debater?" He emphasized the essential element of contest in the debate, and then developed the constructive as well as the destructive side of this contest. He showed the futility of declamation and argumentation by rigidly distinguishing the debate from the oration. He dwelt upon the importance of the thorough preparation of both sides of the question, in order to use all of one's own strength, to guard against making fatal admissions and to take advantage of every weakness of the opposition. The delivery was next considered and the vital necessity of persuasiveness and that subtle bond of sympathy between speaker and hearer. The underlying tone of the whole address was the necessity for strong, quick thinking on the platform.

Throughout, the address was replete with forceful illustrations, amusing personal experiences and helpful suggestions. The enthusiastic vote of thanks that was given at the close of the address was, we feel sure, but a slight indication of the appreciation felt by the members of the two societies fortunate enough to hear him.

International Student Convention at Toronto.

As the date for the fourth Convention of the Student Volunteer Movement, to be held at Toronto, February 26 to March 2, draws near, preparations are being rapidly hastened, both at the Toronto headquarter and at the Volunteer office. So general is the interest in this gathering, that the utmost resources available are sorely taxed. Colleges and other institutions of higher learning from the Atlantic to the Pacific are taking steps to appoint large and influential delegations in cases where this has not already been done.

Interest in the city where the convention meets is most natural. Its architectural beauty, its high reputation as a scholastic center, and its dominating influne in the evangelical life of the Dominion combine to make it an ideal gathering place. To this may be added, in the case of delegates from the States, the charm of the transplanted English life as affected by early French traditions. It is a bit of England with something of the Sabbath atmosphere of Scotland, mingled with the spirit and enterprise of America. The student life of Toronto is likewise a unique compo site of British and American ideas and customs, with which it will be most interesting to become acquainted.

Interest in the coming convention is further justified by the acceptance already received. These include the leading missionary advocates of the United States and Canada, missionaries from all the great fields, many of them with a world-wide reputation, and persons whose fame is in every mouth in connection with the recent uprising in China—the falsely defamed and rightly lauded Dr. Ament, and Prof. Gamewell, defenders of the legations, both of Peking, being among them. Young people's society leaders, whose names are household words will be present, as will men and women of spiritual power, some of whom are already known to students, Mr. Speer and Dr. and Mrs. Howard Taylor, for example. Editors and educators of influence and wide reputation will constitute an important part of the personnel. Best of all. Mr. Mott, whose five months' tour among the students of Japan, China and India has been a prolonged experience of remarkable successes, will preside. His words will alike inspire and empower all who hear him

Difficulties to be feared in case of a late appointment of representatives are suggested by the fact that a number of remote college delegations twice as large as were sent to the convention at Cleveland in 1893 have been appointed, and also by the plans of large institutions like Cornell University and Yale, where the remarkable record of 1893 is likely to be exceeded. Since the delegates are to be entertained by the hospitality of the people of Toronto it has been necessary to limit the total attendance to 2,500, of whom 2,000 will be students. From present indications, it is apparent that this number of men and women from fully 500 institutions will easily be reached—undoubtedly the greatest student religious gathering the world has ever seen.

When a student first enters college there are such a great number of things to claim his attention that he is at first bewildered. Athletics deservedly take a good bit of time; the social side of our lives must be cultivated; to be trained for public speaking, a certain amount of which every college student or graduate is expected to do, the literary society must be attended; and since the chief cause of our being here must not be overlooked, preparation must be made for the daily work of the classroom. All these duties tend to confuse one, and things not absolutely necessary are apt to be overlooked.

The library on this account is generally slighted, although it is perhaps the most helpful adjunct to the regular college course. Its advantages are far too many for us to mention all of them in this limited space. Through the library we come in contact with the latest thought of the modern world. The magazines are full of the opinions of the most scholarly and most successful men and our library has as good an assortment of magazines as could be desired. To work up debates or essays, there are reference books embracing many topics; simply for pastime and relaxation, there is the reading of not so much weight.

How to use this wonderful treasury is a perlexing question. As there are guides to most things, however, of any complexity whatever, so there are certain guides which will enable anyone to find his way in our library. In the first place, there is the card index and the various book indices such as Poole's. Then the books themselves are so arranged as to enable anyone to find what he wishes with but little effort. And as a final resort, those in charge are always ready and willing to aid anyone to whom they can be of any assistance.

In conclusion, nevertheless, we would say that the only way to learn how to use the library is to use it. Nothing can take the place of experience. We should go into the library, among the books, and acquaint ourselves with them. When we have done this we shall come to realize that a new field has been opened to us, and that the use of the library, which seemed once so obstruse and hazy to us, has become one of the simplest and most pleasant pastimes of our college life.

During the past few years Bucknell has received praise of the highest order from many sources for her exceedingly great advances in athletic sports. Last week our news columns announced that the English department of the college was to be enlarged. During the few days past an attempt was made to deepen the religious life of the students. Our university, as is readily seen from these facts, is rapidly coming to the front and each day is giving us more cause to be proud that we are among those who delight in making known the fact that they are the sons of old Bucknell.

Before bidding their genial hostess good-night the girls gathered around the piano and sang "Auld Lang Syne."

Prof. Martin preached in the First Baptist church in Harrisburg on Sunday.

Basketball Notes.

A glance through the daily papers of the week show some very interesting reports about the basketball games of the week.

Several college games have been played among them we find the report of the two in which Bucknell's team participated. The Ashland team with which our Freshman team contested the other week has played a few more hard games since then.

Susquehanna who has been trying to arrange a game with Bucknell played the Danville team last week and defeated them by a score of 26 to 24.

There seems to be a growing interest in the Athletic movement among all the colleges. The amounts raised by subscriptions at some of them are enormous.

Dr. Hulley preached in Baltimore on Sunday.

Singiser, '03, entertained his father over Sunday.

Jackel, '03, accompanied the basket ball team on their late trip.

The Orange and Blue.

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY.

VOL. VI. LEWISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1902. No. 17.

A Clever Exhibition.

Dickinson fell victim to our basketball team in the Tustin Gymnasium on Friday night in what is said to have been the fastest and prettiest game (from a Bucknell standpoint) ever played on that floor. The final score was 46 to 3. The visitors were never in the hunt. They were, to make use of a slang expression, "up against" playing that was nothing short of phenomenal. The wearers of the orange and blue played as if their lives depended on the result, and although the contest was one-sided from the start, they had the spectators cheering and shouting at nearly all stages of the game. The team work could scarcely have been better, the men performing with the precision of clock-work. And when called upon to accomplish some individual feat not one was found wanting. They all seemed to do the right thing at the right time. While all the players were stars, the playing of Anderson is deserving of particular mention. He seemed to be able to throw goals from any position, with either hand, and he had the spectators on the tip-toe of excitement throughout the game. He is as agile as a cat and has more tricks up his sleeve than Kellar, the magician, ever dreamed of.

As soon as the game opened it was evident that both teams were out to win. Bucknell scored in about two minutes, Anderson throwing a difficult goal. From that time on the home team set a pace that was entirley too fast for Dickinson. During the half Anderson, Elliott, and Captain Davis distinguished themselves by their clever playing. The two forwards never did better work. McCormick and English were also much in evidence. The latter received an injury to his eye and retired near the end of the half, Cheeseman taking his place. Cheesman seemed to catch the spirit of his fellow-players, for his playing was first class. The half ended with the score 30 to 2 in Buck[illegible]on the

Although [illegible]ucknell's favor, Bucknell did not score as many points in the second half as in the first, the playing was just as fast, and everybody seemed sorry to hear the whistle of the timekeepers.

So fast was the playing of Bucknell that Dickinson seemed powerless. They scored but one goal from field during the game, the other point being made on a try from foul.

The line up:

BUCKNELL		DICKINSON
English, Cheesman	guard	Shuman, Chapman
McCormick	guard	E. Brunyate, Bare
Anderson	centre	W. Brunyate
Davis	forward	Powell
Elliott	forward	Carlin

Goals from field, Anderson, 10; Davis, 5; Elliott, 4; McCormick, 2; Cheesman, 1; Carlin, 1. Goals from fouls, Elliott, 2; W. Brunyate, 1. Referee and umpire, Hoskins and Kelley, alternating. Timekeepers, Robinson and Betts. Time of halves, 20 minutes.

Taylor, '05, and Walkinshaw, '03, took a sleigh ride to Selinsgrove one evening last week.

Juniors vs. Freshmen.

The first of the annual class basketball games took place on Monday afternoon, the Juniors and Freshmen being opponents. The latter won hands down: score 20 to 3. The Freshmen had the advantage of a great deal of practice, and in the second half had the assistance of three 'varsity men, Anderson, Cheesman and Groff. The first half was evenly contested, ending with the score 6 to 2. When the 'varsity players went in the first-year men made a runaway race of it. Anderson, Cheesman, Groff and Grier played well for the Freshies, while Friend and Walkinshaw put up the best game for the Juniors.

Following is the line up:

JUNIORS		FRESHMEN
Walkinshaw	forward	Grier, Taggart
Friend	forward	Cheesman, Taylor
Snow	center	Anderson, Gill
Rhul	guard	Groff
Dershimer	guard	Whitaker, Campbell

Φ Δ Τ Banquet.

On Monday evening last the members of Φ Δ Τ fraternity held the first of their annual mid-winter banquets, the event taking place in Milton at the Broadway House. This was also the occasion for the initiations of the new men of whom eight were taken in. They are Galbrath, Φ Κ Ψ, Griffiths, Φ Γ Δ, McGiffen, Κ Σ, Whitehead, Σ Χ, Stevenson, Φ Κ Ψ, Shepard, Φ Γ Δ, Milligan, Κ Σ, and Edwards, Σ Χ.

The evening was thoroughly enjoyable in every way and was one of Φ Δ T's most successful banquets.

Christy Mathewson came down from Factoryville to be present and A. A. Leiser, Jr., of Lewisburg, was also among the merry throng.

A chapter of the fraternity was founded in 1898 by Walter Hill, son of ex-president Hill, who was initiated at Rochester University into B chapter. The chapter has now passed the experimental stage and with its present membership of 16 is on a firm and sure footing and is fast becoming a prominent factor in Bucknell's social life.

Gymnasium Handicaps.

The usual Saturday afternoon handicaps in the gymnasium on Saturday last resulted in the establishing of a new record in the pole vault, the scratch man breaking the old record by one inch. These weekly contests have been very successful, no less than five new records having been established in the last six weeks.

Several new men are out but there should be more. Liberal handicaps are given to all who compete so that every one has an equal chance to win. Come out and see what you can do.

Summary:

RUNNING HIGH JUMP.

Hess and Daniels tie, handicap 6 inches, height 5 feet 2 inches. Theis, scratch, height 5 feet.

POLE VAULT.

Hess, handicap, 1 foot 9 inches, height 9 feet 9 inches. Theis, scratch, 9 feet 4 inches, (new record.) Taylor, handicap 1 foot, height 9 feet 3 inches.

Literary Society Notes.

On Friday evening the following program was rendered in Theta Alpha Literary society: Essay, Webster, '04; Original Story, Sheldon, '03. The question, Resolved, that Cuba ought to be conciliated with the view of annexation to the United States, was discussed on the affirmative by Ealy, '04, and Seibert, '05. The negative side was discussed by Roberts, '04, and W. R. Smith, '05.

Eupia gave the following program: "Current Events," Renn, '04: reading by Williamson, '05, entitled "Why College Men are Failures in Business." Kester, '03, then gave an extemporaneous speech on "The Ideal Literary Society." Bostwick, '05, gave an essay on "The early life of William Shakespeare." The question, "Resolved that a property qualification rather than an educational qualification should be required for the right of suffrage," was discussed on the affirmative by Ulmer, '02, and Carringer, '05, while the negative had as its supporters Wood, '05, and Daniel, '05. The debate was characterized by a considerable display of spirit by both sides and was thus made very interesting.

Inter-society Debate.

Committees from the two societies are now making arrangements for an inter-society debate. Next week the persons will be chosen from each to represent the societies. So it is imperative that men in both societies come out and try for the positions. Two persons from each society will be chosen, and possibly a substitute. Every member ought to feel it his duty to lend his aid.

INTERCOLLEGIATE.

An intercollegiate basketball association has been organized. It includes Harvaad, Yale Williams, Holy Cross, Trinity and Amherst.

The Department of English of Syracuse University is preparing a production of "Taming the Shew" to be given sometime in the spring.

The annual report of the treasurer of Harvard College for the year ending July 31, 1901, shows that the invested funds of that university amount to $13,119,538.61.

The championship games of Intercollegiate Hockey League will soonbegin. The league is composed of teams representing Harvard, Yale, Brown, Princeton and Columbia.

The sum of $1,000 has been given to Yale University by Samuel Arthur Galpin, of the class of '70, to establish an annual Latin prize in memory of his father Mr. Samuel H. Galpin of the class of '35.

At the ninth annual debate between Yale and Princeton last month, Yale won with the negative of the question: "Resolved, The Fifteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States Has Been Justified."

Some important changes have been made in the entrance requirements of the University of California. Most of the changes have been made with a view to permitting greater freedom in the choice of electives.

Senator Depew has introduced a bill in the Senate to establish the University of the United States. It will be for post-graduate work, and will make use of the Government scientific collections, and libraries.

Carl Williams has been chosen head coach by the Football Committee of the University. It is understood that Williams will have general charge of the coaching and will be assisted by John Minds and Albert Bull.

The joint committee of faculty, members, and students, which has been considering the ways and means for improving the present fraternity "rushing" system in vogue at Syracuse University, held its final meeting last Saturday evening. The committee decided that, for the present at least, no change was advisable.

The damage done to Percy field by the recent flood was so great that the spring training of the Cornell's baseball and track teams will be seriously retarded. The extent of the repairs to be made in the spring has not yet been decided upon, but in view of the hope of a campus athletic field it is likely that the repairs will be of a temporary character.

During the year 1901 Andrew Carnegie gave away $40,000,000. These gifts include $10,000,000 to the Scottish universities, $10,000,000 to the perative that men in both societies come out and try for the positions. Two persons from each society will be chosen, and possibly a substitute. Every member ought to feel it his duty to lend his aid.

United States for a national university, $7,000,000 for a technical institute in Pittsburg, $5,000,000 for libraries in New York, $4,000,000 to former Carnegie employees, and various public libraries.

Franklin and Marshall is o have a new biological department, a gift of Mr. Paul Wolff, of Pittsburg, a member of the Board of Trustees. The cost of the equipment of this department, which consists of a laboratory for general biology, bazteriology, physiology, and embryology, will be in the neighborhood of $5,000. This department is to be known as the "B. Wolff, Jr., Biological Department," named in memory of Mr. Wolff's father, a late member of the Board of Trustees.

Roby, '04, was taken into the Δ Σ society on Tuesday evening.

Z. Daniel, '05, has an article in the late issue of the Astronomical Journal.

Dr. Harris occupied the pulpit in the Baptist church on Sunday morning and Dr. Perrine occupied it in the evening.

A game of basketball will be played with Bloomsburg on Saturday evening in Tustin Gymnasium. A good game is expected. Bloomsburg always makes a very strong effort against our team.

The following were initiated into the Theta Delta Tau fraternity on Monday night: Whitehead, '04, Edwards, '04, Shephard, '04, Griffith, '04, McGiffin, '04, Milligan, Galbrath, '04, and Stephenson. The initiates and active men banqueted at the Broadway, Milton. Mathewson was the only out-of-town member present.

The last game was one of the finest exhibitions of basket ball ever given in Tustin Gymnasium. It was one that Bucknell may ever remember with athletic pride. But at this game, as is frequently the case, a second exhibition took place. This was one that every true son of Bucknell ought to look upon with manly hatred. Bucknell has always been known to treat visitors with all due respect. And now she cannot afford to have any official's decisions met with hisses. This we say is due any visitor, and how much more so is it due to our own men—men who are true, tried, efficient and far above the baseness of showing favoritism to any team? Our teams—in all departments—are successful. Our athletics are among the best. Who has spent his utmost effort in accomplishing this? With what do you repay? His decisions are fair, and especially so in this instance. Why question in that manner? Well might he have quoted the old familiar reply. Do you recall it? Those who participated in the ungentlemanly act will, upon a little reflection, see the unkindness they have shown, and—may we say—resolve that such shall not happen again.

Some one has jokingly said that a college paper is a thing to which one tenth of the students subscribe and which the other nine tenths criticize. Now although this may be the exaggeration of some ardent searcher after jokes, it is none the less suggestive of the real position which some college journals occupy. If the papers of a college then answer the above description, or if there is only a slight difference between the real paper and the typical one laid down by our friend, the joker, upon whose shoulders rests the blame?

Without hesitation by a great number of the students the fault is claimed to be with those at the head of the paper. If any particular issue strikes us as being rather dull we immediately think of those on the staff and in rather uncomplimentary terms pay our respects to them. If the subject is given a little thought however we must see that these are not wholly to be blamed.

If we look at the matter rightly they were not elected to fill up the paper each week or month with articles of their own composition. Each one to be sure has his special work assigned to him but without the aid and help of the rest of the college they are badly handicapped. They have been elected merely as guides or leaders of their department and they should be allowed to be such.

We can readily see that it would be almost impossible as well as unprofitable for all the matter of each issue to be written up by the same person. Man has been so fashioned that there is an end to his mental power and soon if his brain is taxed too much his work becomes stale as it were. But if his brain were supplied with sufficient material and the proper dress for that material then would enter in the element of time. The members of the staff are busy with regular routine work and outside tasks, and they have not the time to devote to the work of a paper gotten out without the aid of the rest of the college.

Then we must infer that the burden rests on the student body. It is their duty to supply the different members of the board with material. If each one would help a little there would not be such a tax on any particular individual and there would be a freshness and a forcibleness which is otherwise largely absent.

There are two publications of the college which ask your assistance—weekly and a monthly. The latter, since it is especially a literary production, is in particular need of your aid. If you have a bit of news of any sort or if you think of anything that can be bettered through an editorial give your information to the proper parties who will be thankful for it. Set yourself to work on some literary composition for the monthly and in this way help it along. In short, use your brains for the sake of the papers so that no one can criticize them adversely and for the sake of the college which is largely judged by the make up of its papers.

Another Victory.

The Bloomsburg Normal School basket ball team, which as a rule makes things interesting for Bucknell, made its annual appearance at the Tustin gymnasium on Saturday night and was overwhelmingly defeated by the home team by a score of 48 to 12. The hoodoo which usually follows Bucknell when she plays the normal school boys, and which has more than once given the supporters of the game here much uneasiness, was broken with a vengeance. There was only one department of the game in which the visitors surpassed the wearers of the orange and blue, and that was in rough playing. The contest was by far the roughest that has been played on the local floor this year, both sides being guilty of numerous infractions of the playing rules.

Bucknell played her usually good game and won because she played all around the visitors, who threw but two goals from the field. The first half was characterized by fast work on the part of Davis, Elliott and Anderson, all of whom passed exceptionally well and threw difficult goals. Chessman and English both had good men against them, but succeeded in handling them. The half ended with the score 29 to 6. For the first time this season on the home floor three points were counted for each goal.

The second half was very rough, especially on the part of the visitors. One of the Bloomsburg players in particular made a show of his temper and was roundly hissed. Bucknell played well in this half, but had difficulty in locating the baskets.

In justice to the Bloomsburg players it must be said that they put up a good game, one that would defeat many teams in this section. It was not that they did not play well that they did not win, but that Bucknell played better. The elimination of the rough work of one or two of the visiting players, though, would help the team in winning games and also give the school a better reputation in the sporting world.

The line up:

BUCKNELL		BLOOMSBURG.
Elliott	forward	Reigard
Davis	forward	Putnam
Anderson	center	Marcy
English	guard	Robinson / Wagner
Cheesman	guard	Hayes

Goals: Davis, 2; Elliott, 4; Anderson, 6; Putnam, 1; Hayes, 1. Goals from fouls: Davis, 2; Elliott, 4; Hayes, 6. Umpire and referee: Hoskins and Aldinger, alternating.

1903 Shakespeare Club.

The Shakespeare Club of the Class of 1903 held an interesting meeting last Thursday evening. At this meeting Dr. Perrine delivered an interesting and highly instructive lecture on The Drama in English Literature. The club appreciates very much the kindness and interest shown by the Doctor. This is but one of the many evidences of the growth in the English department of the University. For want of space the outline of the lecture is not given.

The Senior Class Out Sleighing

Wednesday evening seems to have been the time selected by the fates as the most important one of the season. While the wily Sophomores were enjoying their annual banquet, and the verdant Freshmen looking on from a distance with longing eyes, the real event of the evening was happening elsewhere.

Two large sleds heavily loaded with young folks left the Seminary about seven o'clock that evening. There is something facinating and so delightful in a sleigh ride of this kind, that it defies all efforts to describe it. The merry songs and hearty laughter heard amidst the noise of bells, indeed, gives one exquisite pleasure; but the real importance of this event is disclosed only when you listen to the words they shouted, now and then:

Who Ra! Who Ra! Who Ra! Who!
Boomerang! Boomerang! Boomerang! Boo!
Bucknell! Bucknell! 1902!

The destination is Watsontown, and it is reached all too soon. What a good time they had on the way we will leave to you to imagine. Suffice it to say that the chaperon was Mr. Bell, of the Academy.

One of the finest oystersuppers ever offered to a sleighing party was now enjoyed. Do not think that, because there never is a program prepared for occasions of this sort, we had no entertainment. It was decided to have some extemporaneous toasts, and the variety of subjects assigned on the spur of the moment, and the manner in which they were handled would lead one to believe that all had been prearranged.

Mr. Ulner and Mr. Reilly in turn discussed the subject, "Sleigh Rides and their Consequences." It was suggested by one of the speakers that sleigh rides sometimes result in a stronger bond of union than life-long friendship. Since our friend Mr. Heckert evidently has enjoyed one of these sleigh rides we assigned him the subject: "The Ups and Downs of Life." Mr. Kyle followed with "Fond Anticipation." Other topics were assigned to other members of the class, to which they all responded in a pleasing and entertaining manner.

From the dining room to the parlor they went to enjoy charades, games etc., until late in the night then the sleds were again packed and another enjoyable ride back to Lewisburg was begun. They soon arrived again at the Seminary where they parted, agreeing that the evening had been well spent.

Sophomore Banquet.

Wednesday of last week was the red-letter day of the year for the class of 1904. It was the time set for their annual banquet and quite well did they "pull it off." The third watch of the day came on and the faithful old school bell neath the dome told the hour of 10:15 calling every freshman to the class room and bidding the sophomores depart to the depot. Nearly the entire class was on the platform awaiting the arrival of the train. In a few minutes they were speeding by the campus giving their boisterous yell which rolling through the grove over the hill spread terror and alarm among the hosts pent up in the classic walls above. Before noon they arrived en masse at the Central Hotel of Sunbury. There they spent the day in having a good social time and awaiting the outcome of the evening. The pleasantness of the after noon was occasionaly broken by a short sally after a few enemies, and one or two little hand-to-hand encounters. At no time however did they suffer any inconvenience or dissarangement of their plans from the Freshmen who made a strong effort to capture and pen up some of the tricky Sophs.

During the day a few of those remaining for the evening train were captured and put under guard. However all but one or two of them escaped and reached the banqueters before 9 o'clock in the evening.

The ladies of the class arrived on the evening train and then the joy was complete. Fifty strong they kept the parlors of the hotel ringing with their merry laughter and song until the genial proprietor invited them into the dining hall. Here the walls were artistically decorated, the lights shaded with beautiful colors, and vases filled with fragrant flowers sat among the green smilax strewn from the four ends to the center on the large cross formed table.

The menu even out did the decoration. It is too lengthy to give in detail but it is sufficient to say that it was as excellent as a class could wish to feast upon.

After the feasting the following literary program was rendered: Toastmaster, Walter S. Wilcox; "Hail Alma Mater," H. Miller Christ; "Our Class," Thomas E. Cule; "Under the Green Flag" Chas. G. Whitehead; "Our Athletes," John C. Johnson; "Our Sweethearts," W. Frank Caruthers; "When Knighthood Was in Flower," Mary A. Fowler; "Impressions," Louis W. Robey; "Poem" Blanche A. Bane; "Chaperons," David W. Robinson; "By the Wayside," Gilbert M. Deats; "Whence," Margaret Groff; "Our Destiny," Maurice C McGiffin.

The toasts measured up to the standard of the banquet. They were filled with enthusiasm and class spirit very appropriate for the occasion. Each speaker deserves much credit but space will not permit individual comment.

The "wee sma' hours" came entirely too soon when the happy baquetors had to return to Lewisburg.

Miss Hanna of the seminary chaperoned the ladies and enjoyed the good humor of the evening.

The committee deserves credit for the management of the banquet. It was kept entirely secret, their men all remained until the day appointed, then when all things were ready nothing could keep them back.

Basketball Saturday Evening.

Juniors vs Sophomores.

One Tuesday afternoon the Sophomores won the second of the class basket ball games from the Juniors by the score of 12-4. During the first half the game was not so exciting as has been characteristic of the games between these two classes. But during the second half a pace similar to the old time one was set. A very conspicuous fact, and one which greatly disappointed the Junior team, was the almost entire absence of the members of their class, who might have shown an appreciation of the work of their team and encourage the boys by their presence at least.

Some of us have queer ideas of what constitutes a decoration. To some eyes class numerals may seem exceedingly pleasing in any place, to others they are not to be admired. The university walls were made for many purposes but surely not as a surface for inexperienced artists to practise on. When doors are hastily removed by those strenuously seeking admittance, at least the key hole should be left that those chivalrously inclined may have an opportunity of plugging it. Class spirit is to be desired but it would be well for the inspirited ones to know some limit. That property has been destroyed and defaced is a fact; that there is a punishment to fit the misdeeds of those unable to control themselves is a fact no less worthy of note.

It is a recognized fact that the upper classmen of a college should enjoy a certain amount of prestige. This is no more than right since men of experience, other things being equal, are generally awarded the highest places. One of the ways to heighten this due respect and at the same time to renew a good old college custom would be for the upper classmen of our university to add to their stock of college mementos a cane of a design agreed upon among themselves. This custom was dropped at Bucknell some time ago through some unknown cause but there is no reason why it should not be revived. It would be something for an upper classman to be proud of while he is in college and something to cherish after he has finished his course.

One of the chief elements of success in life is being on time. Then either we deny the truthfulness of the above statement or we are careless about our success in life when we stroll into chapel after half the exercises are over. This is both annoying and unbecoming college students and should be avoided. The authorities too might help matters by beginning chapel exactly on time. When this is not done the student invariably makes an allowance for the five or ten minutes of grace usually given; sometimes he overestimates the length of this extra time and then comes in late. Let the student endeavor to be at chapel on time and with this endeavor let him have the assurance that it will be begun promptly at the appointed hour.

Our basketball team has before it one of the best trips of the season. On this (Tuesday) evening they play Muhlenberg College, at Allentown; Wednesday Princeton, at Princeton and Thursday evening Lehigh at South Bethlehem. This will be a splendid trip for our team. Thus far in the season our boys have had splendid success and we hope that this week will not prove the exception.

There may be some students wishing to accompany the team. If there be any such they will do well by speaking to the manager concerning it.

Encouragement is given by the students' presence. Our team always plays better and works with more zeal when accompanied by some of our men.

This may be seen also in our class games, last week the Juniors were conspicuons for their absence. The score is given on another page. Let us all turn out to the class games and especially let this be so with the members of the classes represented in the game.

His criticism of the debaters was both humorous and instructive. We take this opportunity of thanking him for the assistance he has given and hope to have him visit us again.

Literary Societies.

On Friday evening the meetings of the Literary societies were devoted entirely to the matter of selecting men to represent the societies in an inter-society debate.

The question, Resolved that the voter should always support the nominees of his party, was discussed both affirmatively and negatively by many participants in Theta Alpha. Messrs. McCracken, Hart and Cheesman were the judges and selected Karge, '04, and Ealy, '04, to represent the society in the coming debate.

In Euepia society the question, Resolved that women should be given the right of sufferage, was discussed both pro and con by a number of speakers.

The judges Messrs. Ulmer '02, Reilly '02 and Kester, '03, selected Williamson and Bostwrick, both of the Freshman class, to represent Euepia in the coming debate.

All arrangements for the debate have been completed by the committees except the choosing of sides. The speakers will cast lots for the choice.

The question selected is:

Resolved,—"That a formal alliance between the United States and Great Britain for the mutual protection of their interests, is expedient." Each of the speakers is to be allowed ten minutes for discussion, and each of the two speakers five minutes for rebuttal. The debate will take place on Friday evening Feb. 18th 1902.

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY.

VOL. VI. LEWISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 18, 1902. No. 19.

The Princeton Game.

The game with Princeton on Wednesday afternoon was hotly contested, and while not particularly rough, was notable for the number of fouls. Princeton fouled no fewer than 15 times while Bucknell was not far behind with 8. Whitehouse and Anderson, both at center, were the principal offenders, having five double fouls called on them.

The team work of Bucknell was the feature of the game. The Daily Princetonian states that in this department they excelled Princeton. For Bucknell English and Davis did the best individual work. Each side scored four goals from the field during the first half, and Bucknell threw two goals from fouls to her opponent's one, making the score at the end of the half 15 to 13 in favor of the visitors. The home team had more than its share of luck in the second half and boosted their total to 19, while Bucknell was able to score but three points, these on fouls.

Goals—Langdon, 2; Whitehouse, 2; English, 2; Elliot, McCoy, Seely and Anderson, 1. Goals from fouls—Davis, 5; Elliot, 1; Seely. Umpire—Hoskins, of Bucknell. Referee—J. A. Eorney, of Princeton. Time of halves 20 minutes.

The management and players were highly pleased with treatment received at Princeton, where every possible courtesy was shown them. On Wednesday the two teams attended the entertainment given by the Musurgia Glee Club, of New York City, as the guests of the Princeton management. Several members of the club attended the game in the afternoon, and were so enthusiastic over the work of the visitors that they called at the hotel after the game to meet, and compliment the boys on their playing, and to assure them that if ever the team came to New York City to play, they would be out in force to root for the orange and blue.

An Excellent Record.

The 'varsity basketball team last week made one of the most satisfactory trips in the history of Bucknell athletics. Games were played with Muhlenburg College, Princeton University, and Lehigh University in order, two of which resulted in decided victories for the orange and blue. The Princeton game was lost by a single point; but it was one of those kinds of defeats from which a great deal of satisfaction can be taken. Even the Princeton supporters admitted that Bucknell outplayed their team, and but for the latter's advantage of acquaintance with the floor would have whipped the Tiger. The press accounts state that the Bucknell team is the best that ever played on the Princeton floor. Further than this, the manager of the Princeton team, who claims to have seen all the big colleges except Yale play basketball, stated that the Bucknell five could defeat any of them under equal conditions.

The first game of the trip was played with Muhlenburg at Allentown on Tuesday night. The home team played a rough game, but Bucknell played her best and won with little difficulty. The first half was close, the score ending 6 to 2 in favor of the visitors. The final score was 16 to 5. In this game Davis, McCormick and Elliott were stars.

The line up:

MUHLENBURG		BUCKNELL

The Lehigh Game.

The game at South Bethlehem was more in the line of a football match than a basketball contest. The home team was particularly rough, Elliott, Davis and Anderson being compelled to retire from the game for short periods at different times. The contest is best expressed in the words of the Public Ledger correspondent, who said that Bucknell "outweighed, outplayed and individually and collectively bested Lehigh." The Lehigh boys were never dangerous. The first half ended with the score 24 to 7. In the second half Bucknell, tired after the three successive contests did not exert herself, the game ending with the score 30 to 16.

The line up:

The Base Ball Schedule.

The manager of baseball for the season of 1902 has announced his schedule. It contains 25 games, with two open dates, which cannot be filled until later. Of this number 10 will be played at home and 15 abroad. By a glance at the schedule it will be seen that the standard of teams it contains is perhaps higher than any other year. It is a matter for congratulation that we have secured games with two of the Big Four, Pennsylvania and Princeton, and also with the Philadelphia American League team. The continual improvement Bucknell has been making in athletics is winning her recognition among the larger colleges of the country, and it is now much easier to arrange contests with the more important institutions than it was only two or three years ago. Other teams that appear in the schedule for the first time are Fordham, Gallaudet and West Virginia University.

It will be observed that the home games are unusually good. Lehigh plays here for the first time and they were secured only after a large guarantee had been offered. Another feature of the home attractions will be the game with a team composed of Bucknell alumni on Commencement Tuesday. Christy Mathewson has accepted the captaincy of the team on the condition that he can come conviently, and the prospects are that he will have a good team. The management regrets that the season at home will not open earlier, but it could not be otherwise arranged.

The schedule is as follows:

April 5, University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia; April 11, Philadelphia American League at Philadelphia; April 12, open; April 19, Bloomsburg Normal at Bloomsburg; April 26, Lehigh University at Lewisburg; May 2, Gettysburg College at Lewisburg; May 3, open; May 8, Fordham College at New York; May 9, Manhattan College at New York; May 10, Lehigh University at South Bethlehem; May 14, Dickinson College at Lewisburg; May 17, Gallaudet College at Lewisburg; May 22, Franklin and Marshall College at Lewisburg; May 23, Dickinson College at Carlisle; May 24, Lafayette College at Easton; May 30 Memorial Day, Harrisburg Athletic Club at Harrisburg (2 games); May 31, Carlisle Indians at Carlisle; June 4, Princeton; June 5, Franklin and Marshall at Lancaster; June 6, Gettysburg College at Gettysburg; June 7, Mt. St. Marys College at Emmittsburg, Md.; June 10, West Virginia University at Lewisburg (indefinite); June 14, Bloomsburg Normal at Lewisburg; June 16, Cuban X Giants at Lewisburg; June 17, Bucknell Alumni at Lewisburg; June 18, Carlisle Indians at Lewisburg.

The Junior Ball.

On the evening of St. Valentine's day the Junior ball was held in the armory. The evening together with the forty-seven couples, and good music by the Stopper & Fisk orchestra from Williamsport, figured largely in the success of the event.

The decorations, which consisted of a large number of Japanese lanterns, American flags, Bucknell and class pennants, were such as to elicit comment from everyone present. The class numerals in red were placed conspicuously at one end of the hall on grey background. The orchestra was almost hidden from view by the many palms which helped to decorate the stand.

The orchestra being a little late showed that the proceedings were anticipated with no little eagerness. The forty-seven couples, including many from out of town, stepped gracefully to the inspiring music, and the beautiful gowns worn by the ladies made each dance a dazzling spectacle. The twenty-four numbers were all encored, and it was nearly three o'clock before the last of the guests had departed.

The refreshments which were served in a pleasing and appetizing manner were cheerfully received during intermission. The patronesses corner was filled, and nothing was lacking to make the affair a success. This Junior ball will go down in the annals of Bucknell as the most successful social event yet held.

Sophomores Were Victorious.

The Sophomore basketball team sprang a surprise on Saturday night by defeating the Freshmen by the score of 14 to 9. With two regular men and one sub 'varsity man on their team, the Freshies looked very formidable, but the second-year men were too much for them. The contest had all the characteristics of a football game, and the superior weight and strength of the Sophs was what won the game. McCormick and Johnson excelled for the Sophomores and Anderson carried off the honors for the Freshmen. Both teams had many followers at the game and the cheering was very spirited, the Freshmen excelling in this respect.

The line-up;

SOPHOMORES		JUNIORS
McCormick, Daniels	forward	Whitaker, Grier, Gill
Johnson	center	Anderson
E. Griffith, Sheppard	guard	Cheesman, R. Griffith, Groff

Goals—McCormick, 2; Johnson, 2; Daniels, 3; Anderson, 3; Gill, 1. Goals from fouls—Grier, 1. Officials, Stanton and Davis.

Bucknell Abroad.

The following are extracts from a letter written by Mr. Frank Golder, '98, who is teaching school at Unga, Alaska:

"Though far away, I, from time to time, hear of the noble achievments of Bucknell on the football field, and it makes my heart rejoice. You would hardly believe it, but it is nevertheless a fact that every Bucknell game is reported in the Seattle and San Francisco papers.

"Bucknell is represented in Alaska as no other college. On Kodiak Island alone there are four graduates. The rapid and healthy growth of our college brings pleasure to us all here. Although several hundred miles away from the others, we still manage to keep the Bucknell spirit young and warm."

Williamsport High School vs. Freshmen.

The Freshmen will play the Williamsport High School at Lewisburg Wednesday, Feb. 19. A good game is expected. The Freshmen were defeated in football by the High School and an effort will be made to redeem the score by an overwhelming victory in basketball. The Freshman team plays fast ball and deserves the hearty support of the students. The colors of both teams are cherry and white. Game begins at 8 o'clock. Attend and lend your financial support.

The Chemical and Physical Society met in the Laboratory. The Isthumian Canal Routes were discussed by Shorkley, '03, and Sigel, '03. Shorkley gave the history of the Nicaraguan Routes, statistics concerning it and the advantages claimed for this waterway. Sigel presented the advantages of the Panama Route. Altogether the advantages of the Panama Route are much greater than of the other route.

In looking over the faculty roll we notice several changes. Dr. Loomis, former Professor of Modern Languages and Literature, is in Paris on leave of absence, and in his stead Guido Carl Leo Riemer, A. M., has been made Professor of Modern Languages. For the first time the names of Thomas Johnson Metzler, A. B., Miss Jennie Davis, Ph. B., and Miss Elizabeth Lilian Foust, Ph. M., appear as assistants in the work of English and Elocution. Frederick Evans Bower, A. M., and Albert William Johnson, A. M., both able attorneys-at-law, are Lecturers in the Department of Law. William Leiser, M. D., Weber L. Gerhart, M. D., and Charles A. Gundy, M. D., are added to the list of Lecturers in the Medical Department.

The department of the law is growing and the future promise is good. Certificates are issued to those graduates who complete the course as prescribed. These certificates however are given only to those obtaining a high class grade and will admit the bearer to advance standing in other law colleges.

The Modern Language and Medical Departments have both been enlarged. An excellent course in the Language department is now offered and the Medical Department has been enlarged so as to give the work equivalent to the first two years of the regular Medical college.

A large number of new books have been donated to the library. This shows the interest of friends of the institution. A glance at the page devoted for this will reveal the names of donors.

A new feature is the announcement of another prize. The Rev. Thos. Harry Sprague, Ph. B, '97, offers an annual prize to the student who excels in the courses in the English Bible. The prize is named "The John Sprague Prize English Bible Prize," in honor of his father.

An additional charge of tuition will be made hereafter for a fourth study or honor study. It will be of interest to some to know that eighteen state certificates were granted to Bucknell last year.

Lehigh Snowed Under.

The 'varsity basketball team administered a crushing defeated to the players from Lehigh in Tustin Gymnasium on Saturday afternoon. One of the largest crowds of the season was on hand and yelled itself hoarse as the wearers of the orange and blue rolled up point after point on the visiting five. Score 68 to 3.

The game was just as one-sided as the score indicates. The visitors were outclassed in all departments of the game and played like a lot of school boys compared to Captain Davis' men. They did not score one goal from the floor, their three points being made on goals from fouls. Their passing was very inferior and when they did get the ball near the basket their efforts to cage it were miserable. Yet the game, from a Bucknell point of view at least, was very interesting. The work of the local five was perhaps the fastest yet witnessed on the home floor, and numerous sensational plays brought forth storms of applause from the spectators. The playing of McCormick, Anderson and English was especially brilliant, while Captain Davis' feat of caging the ball from the center of the floor was a fine piece of individual work. Elliott and Farabaugh played each other to a standstill, although the former finally succeeded in throwing a goal. The game was not without its roughness, of which both teams were equally guilty.

In the first few minutes of play Lehigh scored 1 point on goal from foul; but from that time on Bucknell's five played like fiends and threw goals almost at will. The first half ended with the score 37 to 3. In the second half the visitors failed to score a point, while Bucknell succeeded in adding 31 to her total.

It is pleasing to note that although great rivalry existed between the two teams, there were few exceptions taken to the rulings of the officials. The crowd was also fair in its treatment of the Lehigh players whose few good plays were applauded almost as heartily as those of the home players.

The line-up:

BUCKNELL		LEHIGH
Davis	forward	Pfahler
Elliott / Cheesman	forward	Miller / Klar
Anderson	center	Clay
McCormick	guard	Forbaugh / Burrows
English	guard	Klar / Smartt

Goals, Anderson, 9; Davis, 7; McCormick, 3; English, 2; Elliott, 1. Goals from offense, Elliott, 2; Pfahler, 2; Miller, 1. Officials, Hoskins, Pallard, Robinson.

Our New Catalogue.

The fifty-second annual catalogue of Bucknell shows an attendance of 580; of these 365 are in the college, 104 in the Freshmen class. Twenty-eight are engaged in the work of instruction in the college. Hon. Harold Murray Mc Clure gives courses in Contracts and in Practic; Frederick E. Bower, Esq., in Crimes and in Torts; Albert W. Johnson, Esq., in Realty and in Equity. These subjects were added to the curriculem during the presnt year. The new physical labratory will be ready for use by the opening of the next school year. More than $800,000 has been invested in the fixed and working capitol of the Institution—the gifts of friends of education. An effort is now in progress to add $100,000 to the working capital; of this amount Mr. John D. Rockefeller, who on previous occasions has been a benefactor of the institution, promises the last $25,000. Rev. Calvin A. Hare, Financial Secretary, is canvassing for the other $75,000 and is meeting with encouraging success. Llewllyn Phillips, A. M., a graduate of the College—class of 1902, for seven years instructor in the College, and for the past three years a graduate student in the University of Chicago, has been elected Crozer Professor of Rhetoric and Oratory, and will enter upon his duties Sept. 1902. The work in the English Language and Literature, so ably performed for the past fifteen years by Prof. Enoch Perrine, Litt. D., will continue under his care.

Freshmen Win A Game.

A fair sized crowd witnessed the Freshmen basket ball team defeat the Williamsport High School in an interesting game in Tustin Gymnasium on Wednesday evening. The visitors, while they put up a good game, were outplayed by Bucknell's first year men. In the first half they were unable to score a point while the Freshmen rolled up 13 points. In the second half however, the Williamsport boys took a brace and besides throwing a goal from the floor, scored four goals from fouls. The final score was 26 to 7. The Freshmen team displayed good team and individual work, Anderson, Gill and Griffith excelling.

INTERCOLLEGIATE.

The first football game played in the United States took place in 1776 between Yale and Harvard.

The baseball team at Brown is being coached at present by Christy Mathewson an, ex-'02 Bucknell man.

On Saturday the Columbia basketball team defeated Harvard by the score of 28 to 12, and Lafayette defeated Princeton 13 to 7.

The annual Harvard-Yale debate will be held this year at Cambridge on Monday, May 12th. Yale will have the choice of questions and Harvard the choice of sides.

W. R. Morley has been appointed head coach of the Columbia football team to succeed G. F. Sanford who has held that position for two years. Morley is Columbia's most famous player.

Harvard has submitted the following question for the debate with Princeton: "Resolved, That Mayor Low Should Strictly Enforce the Exercise Laws in New York City." The debate will occur at Cambridge, March 26th.

A debate has been arranged between Wellesley and Vassar Colleges on May 1st at Wellesley College. This is one of the first instances of competition between two large women's colleges in any branch of student activity.

Under Mr. Seth Low's leadership the resources of Columbia University increased from $12,000,000 to $18,000,000; three seperate schools have grown into seven united departments and the student population has increased from 1,100 to 4,600.

Among the college men registered as law students at the University of Pennsylvania more than sixty colleges and universities are represented; and among the 380 students almost every county in Pennsylvania and twenty-two states and foreign countries are represented.

Seven teams are entered for the intercollegiate fencing tournament this year so that the league now includes West Point, Annapolis, Yale, Harvard, Columbia, Pennsylvania and Cornell. This is the first year that West Point has not entered for the championship.

Cornell is a member of the intervarsity lacrosse league, the other members of which are Harvard, Columbia and Pennsylvania. Another league consisting of Lehigh, Swathmore and Johns Hopkins also exists, and the Cornell management will attempt to arrange a game with the champion of this league.

W. J. Clark, captain of the Washington American League team, has been engaged as a professional coach for the Princeton University baseball team during its practice in the cage and throughout the southern trip. A. R. T. Hillebrand, 1900, will take charge of the team after Easter for the remainder of the season.

The Carlisle Indian School held commencement exercises last week. The chief features outside of the commencement exercises proper, were a lecture on the Race Problem by President Council of the Alabama Agricultural and Industrial School for Negroes, drills and basketball games, and an "Experience Meeting" at which men experienced in the Indian problem made impromptu speeches. The graduating class numbers forty-two.

The College Girls' Reception.

Last Friday evening was the time chosen for the regular annual reception given by the college girls. This event has become one of the most important and pleasant occasions during the college year. At eight o'clock the members of the faculty, students and other friends of the institution began to assemble. Soon all three of the large reception rooms at the institute were filled. These had been very finely decorated with many original and unique designs. Space forbids, any attempt at discription, so the reader who was not present may simply imagine the situation. The orchestra for which arrangement had been made did not appear, but there was no lack of music. Selections on the piano were rendered by Miss Coleman, Miss Ebling and others.

At the appropriate time the guests were ushered into the dining-room where they did ample justice to a magnificent repast. It was necessary to fill the tables three times. This was done as far as possible in the order of classes, the faculty and seniors first, then juniors, etc.

The entertainment was made just as informal as is consistent with the dignity and importance of the occasion. The time soon flew that twelve o'clock arrived before any one was aware of it and all felt reluctant to leave.

LECTURE BY DR. HARRIS

Subject Mission of the English Speaking Peoples.

On Saturday morning Dr. Harris delivered a lecture to the students in Bucknell Hall of which the following is an excerpt: Washington has come to be regarded, even in England, as the greatest Englishman. Communities and Nations like individuals take a certain set in their early life, which nothing afterwards can change. America was and is energized by men from many sources. But the tone of the national life is English-Ango-Saxon. This is determined by the language the institutions and the common law all of which we get from England. Political Institutions grow slowly. It took many thousands of years of untiring effort by many different nations, before we could have the Institutions which dominate American life. Angle-land or old England is just south of Denmark. In the sixth century they are described as a fair-faced, large-bodied people, living in groups and surrounding their encloure by a fence of brambles and thorns and it means death and quickly to any stranger who was found inside too that enclosure, without first giving warning of his presnce by blowing a horn. The Atheling led in war and presided at the consils of peace. These people instituted the town meeting which played so important a part in formation of our own nation. The folkmot is the beginning of representative government, they also gave us the jury system. Alfred the Great must not be compared with Alexander and Napoleon, but with Moses. Norman invasions pulverized the English nation into unity but their influence was shown in time. Section 29 of Magna Charta guarantees to every man liberty from imprisonment and false search. Fugitive slave law failed because juries would not enforce it. Paul's entering into Macedonia was the finger of God pointing to the West; Mayflower's voyage was still further to the West; it is at the town meeting, that the 13 states decided to unite their forces; the adoption of a common flag; Franklin's efforts for liberty; the French and Indian War all these worked together in moulding us. Gladstone says that our Constitution is the greatest instrument ever struck off by the human mind at any time or in any place.

At the close of the lecture Miss Knox sang the Recessional as a solo.

In looking over the papers representing the various colleges we find some of them mentioning organizations known as Sketch Clubs. Those have their membership made up of those students of the college who possess ability for drawing. It's object is two-fold—the helping of the members and the improvement of the college papers especially the annual. We believe that such a club would be of advantage to our own college. Although our L'Agenda is above the level of the ordinary college annual by some such organized effort as this it could be improved. Let the followers of the brush organize themselves into some such body and increase their already valuable aid to our L'Agenda.

Today is the day of the strenuous life. There is strife and contest on every hand. In college this is no less true than in the outside world; and yet if we consider the question for a moment we see that it is only partly true. On the athletic field we contend for trophies, or our representatives do, and those not taking part in the game are aiding with their cheers and yells. But in the intellectual world some of us are not so active and years go by without pitting the minds of one college against those of others.

For some reason or other we have chosen to show our athletic ability rather than our intellectual. In other words for a number of years we have taken part in no intercollegiate debate.

This is a thing which should be looked after, because it is due both the student body and the college that such tests of mind should take place between the colleges. All students come to college for the purpose of getting out of it all that can be obtained. This is one of the ways in which those inclined toward debating can develop themselves. It is also due the college, inasmuch as the assertions made as to the intellectual training gained at Bucknell would be greatly enforced by practical examples of such training having been obtained. It will also give us a higher place in the estimation of the college world. A college whose reputation is based on athletics is often admired; a college whose reputation is based on mental achievement is one to be envied.

But it is said there are difficulties. There is the task of arranging the particulars such as the date, the place and the judges. To objections of this sort we give the old time answer that obstacles are in the way of accomplishing any worthy object. Athletic games are not arranged on the spur of the moment, but weeks of correspondence are needed to bring about a settlement.

So inasmuch as they are such a great help to the student and the university we think they should be carried on. In the future let Bucknell be a factor in some inter-collegiate debate where her intellectual ability can be shown to the outside world.

Sherwood, '00, is a member of the U. of P., Glee Club.

"All the world loves the college student and under no circumstance is he more amiable or more provacative of contagious genialty than when he sings his college songs." All the typical and most popular songs of the Eastern colleges have been gathered and placed in the "Songs of Eastern Colleges," publishedby Hinds & Noble. One of these books should be on the desk of every student. Every alumnus should have one for nothing can bring so strong before the graduates, mind the glorious days of yore as the sweet strains that one time floated to his ears. Can be purchased at the book store. Price $1.25.

The Aaronsburg correspondent of the Millheim Journal, says: "Well you missed the proverbial half of your life by not attending the lecture of Dr. Perrine, of Bucknell University, on 'Some Proverbs, Not Solomon's.' This was decidedly the most pratical lecture we had here for years. Doubtless all present will now take a different view of the old-time news of old-time proverbs."

The Western Trip

Although the 'varsity basketball team won two of the three games played, its western trip last week was a source of disappointment to the students in general. The games with Lock Haven Normal and Warren Y. M. C. A. resulted in victories for the orange and blue, but in the game with Allegheny College Bucknell sustained her worst defeat in several years. It will be hard for a person who did not witness the contest to imagine how Captain Davis could be defeated by a score of 26 to 4. The explanation is simply, that besides outplaying her rival, Allegheny had all of what in common parlance is termed luck. In addition the visitors were completely worn out after their trip from Lock Haven to Meadville, which lasted from 9 a. m. to 6.30 p. m. The boys played against the most adverse circumstances and are not to be censured for the result of the game. The Warren game was also a disappointment, but poor officials were largely responsible for this poor showing.

THE LOCK HAVEN GAME.

The game at Lock Haven, though very one-sided, was possessed of enough features to make it interesting. The floor is the largest that Bucknell has played on this year, and Captain Davis' men were afforded an excellent opportunity for displaying team work. The passing was quick and accurate, while the goal throwing would have been hard to beat. Unlike the baskets in Tustin gymnasium, those at Lock Haven had no boards behind them, which necessitated accurate throwing.

Bucknell lost no time in scoring. After 30 seconds of play English threw a goal with one hand from near the side lines, and before the first minute was up, Elliott had duplicated the feat. In the next three minutes of play Davis and Anderson each caged the ball. From that time to the end of the half, one goal followed another, 32 points being scored before the whistle blew. The best Lock Haven could do was to throw one goal from the floor and another from foul.

In the second half the Normal school boys were more aggressive, and succeeded in keeping their opponents down better than they did in the first half. And but for attacks of stage fright the home team would have secured six or more points, their nervousness resulting in several failures at goals. Bucknell was also very unfortunate in her attempts to cage the ball, and succeeded in throwing but seven goals. Lock Haven ran her total up to seven by throwing three goals from fouls. The playing of the home five was remarkably free of offence, not one foul being called on them.

The boys all played so well in this game that to single out the playing of any one or two, would be doing the others an injustice.

The line-up:

LOCK HAVEN 6.		BUCKELL 44
Fish	forward	Elliott
Gundlack	"	Davis
Westover	center	Anderson
Gloss	guard	McCormick
Moore	"	Chessman / English

Goals—Elliott, 8; Anderson, 7; Davis, 2; English, 2; McCormick, 2; Cheesman, 1; Gundlach, 1. Goals from fouls—Gundlach, 4. Referee and umpire, Griffiths and Hoskins, alternating. Time of halves, 20 minutes.

THE ALLEGHENY GAME.

Bucknell's reputation had traveled before her and one of the largest crowds that ever attended a game at Meadville was present on Friday night. Every reserved seat was occupied and standing room was at premium. Each team had lost but one game this season and the crowd expected a battle royal.

Their expections in the first half, which ended 7 to 4, were realized, but in the second half the injury of Elliott and Anderson discouraged Bucknell so that they went to pieces and allowed the home five to score 19 points, while the orange and blue failed to increase her total of four.

Allegheny's floor is about the same size and form as Bucknell's except that the baskets are at the ends instead of at the corners.

The game was one of the fastest and roughest Bucknell has taken part in this year. Both sides guarded closely and in the first half very few attempts at goal throwing were made. Bucknell lacked her usual good team work while Allegheny seemed to be on her mettle. The first goal was five minutes in coming, Taylor caging the ball from a difficult position. Allegheny scored another goal from our foul, and a short time after that Elliott threw a goal from the exact center of the floor, which was one of the features of the game. Lampe shot a goal for Allegheny and Davis scored on a foul for Bucknell. Near the end of the second half Elliott accidentally broke the cartilage of his nose, but continued in the game after his injury was attended by a physician.

In the second half Bucknell was grievously at fault in leaving Allegheny's goal uncovered, two goals being directly due to laxity in this respect. Lampe threw two goals in succession shortly after the half opened. Anderson was hurt in a collision with his opponent and so badly hurt that a physician was called. He was unable to continue in the game and Cheesman took his place. The latter played a good game, but the loss of Anderson discouraged Captain Davis and his players, who could not prevent Allegheny from running up the score. Bucknell had four chances to throw goals from fouls in the second half and missed them all. Four were missed in the first half also.

Line up:

BUCKNELL—4.		ALLEGHENY—26.
Davis	forward	Taylor / Turner
Elliott	forward	Willliams
Anderson / Cheesman	center	Lampe
English	guard	Jackson
McCormick	guard	Leffingwell

Goals from field: Lampe, 5; Taylor, 2; Elliott, 1. From fouls: Allegheny, 5; Bucknell, 1. Officials: Hoskins and Freeman.

THE WARREN GAME.

On Saturday evening our basket ball team lined up against the Warren Y. M. C. A. team in another hard game. Our boys were hardly in shape after their hard usage on Friday night. Elliott and Anderson entered the game notwithstanding their bruised condition. The main feature in this game was not the individual work nor the particular caging of the ball, but the calling of fouls. It seemed as though the game was to be won by the home team on fouls. During the entire season and in fact for several years we have not seen the equal. However at the close of the game the score stood 38-34 in Bucknell's favor, 10 points for Warren having been made on fouls.

The line-up:

BUCKNELL-38		WARREN-34
Davis / Elliott	forward	Winger / Cameron
Anderson	center	Stock
McCormick / English	guard	Schindler / Folkman

Goals from field: Winger, 1; Cameron, 1; Stock, 2; Schindler, 2; Folkman, 2; Elliott, 1; Anderson, 7; McCormick, 1; English, 2. Goals from fouls; Davis, 5; Winger, 8; Cameron, 1; Schindler, 1.

Saturday's Indoor Contest.

On Saturday afternoon a handicap meet was held in the Gymnasium in which five events were run off; in each of these events the indoor record was broken making the meet extremely satisfactory. Several new men were out, some of whom showed ability that will be a credit to old Bucknell.

The running high jump was the most interesting of the events. Pearse, on the strength of the ability of his brother, who holds the record for the high jump, was made scratch man with Theis; but when this event was over it was plainly evident that this man needed no second hand congratulations. He tied our regular standby at 5 ft. 4½ inches; the previous record being 5 ft. 4 inches.

Summary:

RUNNING HIGH JUMP.

Pearse, scratch, 5 ft. 4½ in. record: Theis, scratch, 5 ft. 4½ in.; Lesher, 4 inches handicap, 5 ft. 1½ inches: Hess, 4 inches handicap, 5 ft. 1½ inches; Stanton, 5 inches handicap, 5 ft. 1½ inches; Douglass, 5 inches handicap, 5 ft. 1½ inches.

Several of the new men need special commendation; but a glance at their work on Saturday will be sufficient.

This year we are to have regular meets with Dickinson, Carlisle Indians and probably Lafayette; besides these there will be the Relay Carnival at Philadelphia to which Bucknell always sends its representatives; also the inter-class meet which is a preliminary for the others.

During the present month an indoor handicap meet will be held and medals given to the winners in each event. Every inducement will be offered to new men to compete, so do not stay away because you are not a sure winner. Let us have more men on the track and field squad than ever before that B. U. may have reason to feel proud of this department of athletics.

Inter-Society Debate.

On last Friday evening a debating contest took place between the two literary societies in Theta Alpha Hall. Snyder, '02, president of Theta Alpha, called the meeting to order, stated its purpose, and after reading the question gave the chair to Williams, '02, president of Eucpia, who presided during the debate. The question, "Resolved that a formal Alliance between Great Britain and the United States would be expedient," was discussed on the affirmative by Bostwick, '05, and Williamson, '05, the representatives of Eucpia, and negatively by Karge, '04, and Ealey, '04 of Theta Alpha. The debate was well conducted. The speakers showed good preparation and all deserve comment. However the affirmative speakers seemed to have their material better at hand and entered the debate with more freedom than the negative speakers. Their argument was stronger, better presented and more freely given than on the part of the negative; and to the satisfaction of all present, the judges, Dr. Perrine and Prof. Morris, gave the decision to the affirmative speakers, the representatives of Eucpia.

At the close of the discussion Cule, '04, gave as a recitation, "Artemus Ward's London Lecture." Again in response to the applause of the audience he gave "Gossip in a Street Car."

There was a large number of students present. Everyone seemed to have the interest of his society in mind. The speakers were warmly cheered by them and encouraged in their work. This is the first time for several years that Eucpia has defeated Theta Alpha in a debate, but for the next year at least she can claim the post of honor. It is gratifying to the officers of both societies to see the good attendance which is hoped for at every weekly meeting. May we not have as good an attendance every week?

A very suggestive query appears—beneath the lists of books overdue that is now on the bulletin board. Every effect has a cause and there is only one cause for the disapperance of any book from the library—somebody takes it. This time the volume was taken by one who was slight of hand and who had an easily smothered conscience. The library exists for the purpose of aiding students; not to give wilful breakers of the eighth commandment an early chance to practice their art. The book should be put back and very soon at that too, because in the various debates going on now it is greatly needed. Let the one who has it be a man and surrender the book openly or use the same black art in doing the good service of returning it as he did in removing it.

Last week occurred the debate between the two literary societies of our college. The large attendance showed that interest in such contests is growing rather than declining. The speakers too showed that careful preparation had been put upon their debates and their enthuiastic presentation of the arguments evidenced that their heart was in their work.

If such efforts are put forth should not some lasting reward be given? Prizes are looked down upon by some who think that they are not of a helpful nature. But we do not mean prizes for individuals who debate but for the society whose representatives win. This would be a material remembrance which the winning society might have of its victors.

It was said by an attendant upon the debate last week that another one be held. We think this a good idea but let there be something material to strive for. Why could there not be one each term allowing the victorious society to keep the cup or banner or whatever the prize might be for the term immediately following its success?

Let the literary societies or whoever feels enough interested to do it complete some arrangements for an intersociety debate each term with a suitable trophy to be striven for.

Euripides on Athletics.

In the Ethics class last Saturday morning, Dr. Harris drew a practical lesson from the following poem and then handed it to a representative of this paper for the purpose of giving the student body an opportunity to read the poem:

Of all the myriad plagues that harass Greece
'Tis sure the tribe of athletes is the worst!
They learn not how to make a livelihood,
And would not if they could; for how should they,
Slaves to a gullet, panders to a paunch,
Add even a stiver to their fathers' store?
Nor can they suffer poverty, nor suit
Their ways to varying fates, for, being used
To no wise habits, hardly can they change
In adverse fortune. While their bright youth lasts,
They walk admired, the darlings of the crowd;
But when the bitterness of age is come,
Like worn-out garments, they are cast aside.
And much I blame the custom of the Greeks,
Who gather from afar to see these men,
Honoring their useless sports, which do but serve
To whet the appetite of greedy folk.
For grant a man has wrestled well or won
A foot race, deftly pitched a quoit, or struck
A ringing blow, how has he served the State?
Why do ye crown him? Will he, quoit in hand,
Do battle for country, or go forth
To box with foes who come in armor clad?
When swords are drawn, we put these follies from us.
But wise and good men, these 'tis well to wreath
With crowns of laurel, they who rule the State,
Calm tumults, and avert the woes of war.

Academy Notes.

A. Bell is on the sick list.

Krouse is visiting relatives in Philadelphia.

Collins spent Sunday at his home at Picture Rocks.

Vandling and Henessy were at Sunbury Sunday.

Prof. Bell addressed the Caliopean literary society on Friday evening on Thomas Benton as a Statesman.

The basket ball players are highly pleased with their new jerseys, but are sorry that no games can be arranged for them.

Many expressions of regret have been heard among the boys of the Academy since it has been officially stated that our obliging janitors, Mr. and Mrs. Epps, will leave after this term. Mr. and Mrs. Epps during their six years stay here have, by their kind and unitiring efforts in behalf of all, endeared themselves to all who have had any relation with the Academy. They will carry with them to their new home the well wishes of all the boys who have attended the Academy within the past six years, and of those who are still in attendance.

Institute Items.

Mrs. McClure entertained the Pi Beta Phi's at dinner Saturday evening.

Miss Crater, '05, is entertaining Misses Tomlinson and Hibbs, of Philadelphia.

On the evening of February eleventh, the Lewisburg Bucknell Alumnae Club, held their annual mid-winter meeting at Bucknell Institute.

The members of this famous club, under the leadership of their efficient president, Miss Maud Hanna, excelled themselves in the unique program perfectly rendered, and in the delicious refreshments daintily served.

Mrs. Larison spoke briefly of the club in accomplishing the objects for which it was founded.

The following program of music and tableaux was an unusual treat:

Music.....Miss Aiken
"Apprenticed".....Jean Ingelow
"Daniel Deronda".....George Elliot
"Pride and Prejudice"...Jane Austin
Music.....Miss Aiken
"Withering Heights"....Emily Bronte
"The Initials"..Baroness Tautphoeus
"Jane Eyre".....Charlotte Bronte
Music.....Miss Aiken
"The Lay of the Brown Rosary"
.....Mrs. Browning
"Crawford".....Mrs. Gaskell
"Napoleon and Queen Louise of Prussia".....Muhlbach
Music.....Miss Aiken
"Evelina".....Fanny Burney

The scene from Jean Ingelow was especially well represented, as was also the gypsie scene from "Jayne Eyre" "Napolean" and "Queen Louise" were as royal and stately as the historic characters themselves.

The ladies of the committee were very efficiently aided by Messrs. Stanton, McMahon and Galbraith.

The growth of the club is an evidence that our graduates appreciate the privileges and the benefits of being an Alumna of Bucknell.

Prof. G. M. Philips, of West Chester Normal School, has been spending a few days in town visiting his sister Mrs. D. Bright Miller.

Saturday Night's Game.

Those who attended the Senior-Freshman basketball contest on Saturday night were treated to a good exhibition of the game. It was a battle royal and the "Freshies" won out in the last few minutes of play in a most sensational manner. The score was 11 to 14.

All year the Seniors have been picked as the winners of the inter-class series and few if any persons expected that the Freshmen would keep the score of the upper classmen within respectable limits. The first year men, however, were on their mettle and put up a game that would have done credit to the 'varsity. Anderson and Groff did especially well, while Smith, who has not been playing regularly on the team, surprised the spectators by his clever work. The Seniors, though they did not play up to the standard, put up a fast game and but for an accident to Stanton during the last few minutes of play, would likely have landed a victory. For the Seniors English and Elliott did the best work.

Both sides guarded closely and attempts at goals were made with difficulty. The playing was fast and at times very rough. In the first half the Seniors had the best of the game, the score at the end being 7 to 5 in their favor. They also held the lead in the second half until within the last two minutes of play, when Groff threw two goals. Stanton's ankle was so badly sprained that he was compelled to leave the game.

The line-up:

SENIORS		FRESHMEN
Davis	forward	Groff
Goodall	forward	Gill
Elliott	center	Anderson
English	guard	Griffiths
Stanton / Barrett	guard	Smith

But one more inter-class game remains to be played, that between the Seniors and Sophomores. If the former win, however, the Seniors, Sophomores and Freshman will be tied for the championship, which will necessitate additional contests to settle it.

Capt. David McCurtie Gregg.

A bill was passed in the Senate last week authorizing the appointment and immediate retirement of David Mc Murtrie Gregg ex-'54, as captain United States army.

Captain Gregg is one of the most distinguished veteran soldiers of Pennsylvania. He was born at Huntingdon, in this State, on April 10, 1833, and was graduated from West Point in 1855, when he was commissioned a second lieutenant of dragoons, becoming a first lieutenant in March, 1861; a captain of the Sixth Cavalry in May, 1861; colonel of the Eighth Pennsylvania Volunteer Cavaly in January, 1862, and brigadier general of Volunteers in November of the same year. He commanded a division of cavalry in the Army of the Potomac, serving until the close of the war, when he resigned from the service. He was appointed United States Consul at Prague in 1874, and was elected Auditor General of Pennsylvania in 1890.

Toronto Convention.

The Fourth International Convention of the Student Volunteer movement for Foreign missions closed on March 2, after continuing for over four days, including ten general sessions and numerous sectional conferences. The gathering included delegates from 22 countries, with a representation from 456 institutions of learning in the United States and Canada, giving a total of 2955 delegates.

The visitors to the city of Toronto began to arrive in large numbers on Tuesday and by Wednesday night the vast majority had been assigned to places of entertainment. Of the hospitality and kindness of the citizens of Toronto, we cannot speak too highly. The delegates practically had the freedom of the city during their stay. The only drawback to the weeks sojourn was the fog during the first two days and the continued rain during the latter part of the week. The residents, however, disclaim all responsibility for weather conditions, and assure us that the city is beautiful in summertime.

To those who expect a description of the city and its customs, our reports will no doubt be a disappointment. The volunteers were gathered together with a single purpose in view, and that aim was to get the greatest possible good from the convention. The time left gave little opportunity for inspecting the city or for studying its institutions. From a hasty view, we can only say that Toronto might learn something from the cities on this side, and we can learn from our kinsmen across the border. The Canadian city is surpassed by few of our municipalities, and as a centre of religious influence is probably unequaled.

The convention itself cannot be described within any limits of space, nor by any pen. Animated by one great purpose, the furthering of the interest of missionary work in benighted lands; comprising intellectual and religious leaders of many nations; and with the inspiration of the volunteer watchward "The Evangelization of the world in this generation," there was a power and influence that can never be fully realized by any of the participats, and cannot be appreciated in the slightest degree by those who were not there.

The power shown by John R. Mott as a leader was a revelation to those who were unacquainted with him. The deeply spiritual addresses of Robert E. Speer produced a profound impression upon the audiences. The presence of members of the faculty from various institutions was an encouraging feature of the sessions, while the large number of veterans in the missionary service was an inspiration to the volunteers.

Among the topics considered were:—the qualifications for foreign work; the unevangelized millions; the necessity of the church rising up and aiding the work; the need of a foward movement in the non-christian world; money and the worlds evangelization; and the wonderful challenge to the Christians of this generation. In addition the sectional conferences discussed the work in the different nations, in different denominations, and in its different departments. On Sunday Bishop S. L. Baldwin of the Methodist Episcopal Missionary Society delivered the convention sermon, taking as his text Hebrews 13:8. The afternoon was devoted to impressing upon the students the necessity for decision as to their life-work, and on Sunday night after an impressive farewell service, during which over one hundred young men and women signified their intention of going forth to distant lands during this year, the convention was declared adjourned by the the presiding officer, John R. Mott.

The Minstrel Performance.

The minstrel performance to begiven by the students of the university at Milton on next Saturday night will be first class in every particular and well worth the price of admission. The boys have been working hard for the past three months and they expect to surprise their friends next Saturday night.

The first part will consist of choruses, solos and jokes. The end men were selected on account of their wit, and their jokes are clever and up-to-date. Prettier choruses than those selected for the performance have never been heard hereabouts.

The second half is fully as attractive as the first. Kuhn and Madden, the sketch artists, will be worth the price of admission alone. Cassler, the slack-rope artist, and Bartol, the midget contortionist and tumbler, will perform "stunts" hard to beat. There will be other features of a highly entertaining character. Don't forget the date, next Saturday night, March 15th.

Base Ball Candidates.

In response to call of Captain Milligan, 27 candidates for the base ball team reported at the gymnasium on last Monday afternoon. This is the largest spuad that has ever come out at Bucknell, and Captain Milligan is very much encouraged over the out look. It is very evident that there will be a hot scramble for the positions to be filled.

Those of last year's Freshman team who reported were Deats, catcher and outfield. Myers, first; Johnson, outfield: Daniels, infield.

The following Freshmen reported, Leinbach, third base and outfield; Buhl, pitcher; Anderson, catcher and first; Smith, third and outfield; Taylor, pitcher and outfield; Smiley, outfield; Dean, pitcher; Cockill, pitcher.

Others who reported were, F. Carruthers, short; Sigel, outfield; Galbrath, infield; Douglass, outfield, first and catcher; Barrett, outfield; Greene, third; McCormick, first and second; English, outfield; Harschberger, infield; Jackele, pitcher, first and outfield.

Mathewson Plays With New York.

The following clipping from the Scranton Republican:

Christie Mathewson was in town yesterday (Friday) and enthusiastically talked of baseball prospects for this year.

His arm has been in poor shape this winter, and he has been obliged to take massage treatment for it since last December. It is now in as good condition as ever and Christie expects to pitch the game of his life this season.

It has been reported that Mathewson was to play with the American League, but he said to a Republican reporter that he signed with the New York National league team. His contract is for three years at $5,000 a year. Mathewson weighs 208 pounds now and declares that he is in fine condition.

Let everybody attend the minstrel show at Milton on Saturday evening.

Harvard University conferred the degree of honorary LL. D., on Prince Henry of Prussia Thursday afternoon March 6.

It is a good sign of the growth of a college when the students in organized bodies take an interest in subjects of study apart from the regular course. Such organizations are the Shakespeare clubs. At present three of the classes in our university have organizations of this sort and are doing effective work in them. These clubs deserve great credit as they have now passed from the experimental stage to that of permanency. No small amount of credit should be given Dr. Perrine for his untiring efforts to make them a success and it is greatly by his ever ready aid that they have acquired their present position. Successful thus far their future bids fair to even outshine their past.

Bucknell as has been hinted in these columns has been rapidly advancing in all directions. A new venture is just about to be entered upon—that of giving a minstrel show. This week Bucknell students will pose before the footlights and try to amuse the happy crowd. Our well wishes and hope for good results are with them we know, but let us go farther and patronize them. Through an unfortunate occurrence the management has been put to the disadvantage of giving the show at a house outside the college town. This will put the student body to some extra trouble but let us for get our trouble; and enter into the support of this movement with all possible energy. Let us make the players feel that their long and ardous work in rehearsing and preparing for the exhibition is amply rewarded by the hearty appreciation of their work by their fellow students.

It is an indisputable fact that to go to extremes in scarely anything is beneficial. Horace speaks often of golden means and this has always been recognized by men of ability and sound sense as the safest way to follow.

Last week there appeared in our columns a poem disparaging the undue praise given to athletes and athletics. The poem however does not cast any aspersions upon athletics for the development of the physical man but upon those whose profession, as it were, is althletics. With this we heartily agree and think that when a man has used his physical prowess in gaining more strength and, while in college incidentally increasing the favorable reputation of the college, with that he should stop and strengthen the mind, the cultivation of which is the prime cause of his being here. But be an athlete where athletes are needed and where physical exercises can be carried on without hurt to one's own self.

This question assumes a practical turn at this season of the year. The call for baseball candidates has been made and the success of our coming team rests in great measure on you. We have a very excellent schedule which our present admirable record allows us to get. Let us keep up the good work by having a better baseball team than ever before and show our opponents that Bucknell this year is to be feared more if possible on the diamond than she was on the gridiron.

Minstrels in Leipzig.

A very interesting account of a minstrel show given Feb. 24 in the Theater Saal at Leipzig has been handed to us but owing to lack of space we cannot insert the article. The minstrel performers of the troop are all American musicians of note from Boston, Kansas City and Bridgeport, Conn. Among them is Mr. J. B. Martin, an ex-Bucknell man, Lewisburg, Pa., who is one of the endmen on the performance. The show was given in commemoration of the birth of the Father of Our Country and the proceeds will go toward the erection of the American-British Union church at Leipzig.

Reception at the University of Chicago.

Of the many social functions that are given at the University of Chicago during the year, the reception given by the members of South Divinity Hall, on Friday evening Feb. 28, was one of the most elaborate and enjoyable. The halls were elegantly decorated with flags, bunting, costly rugs and carpets, palms and flowers.

Notwithstanding the inclement weather the attendance was large, there being present nearly three hundred, consisting of professors, students and people from the city.

South Divinity Hall is where Bucknell boys have made their home for years past. Those living there at present are Phillips, '93 who is head of the hall and had full controll and supervision of the reception, Hazen, '98, who was chairman of of the general committee, Pierson, '01, Pierce, '01, Hague, '01, Peacock, ex'-01, McNoll, '90.

The Bucknell boys were glad to greet the presence of Miss Harris, '92.

Literary Societies.

The meeting of Euepia literary society on last Friday evening was well attended. Carringer, '05, discussed the recent leading events in the world's movements. McGiffin, '04, discussed the jury system in an able manner. The debate, Resolved, "That more work in English should be required for all Bachelor's degrees in our colleges," was discussed in a spirited manner by P. Smith and P. G. Hess for the affirmative; and Williams and Bostwick for the negative. The judges rendered their decision in favor of the affirmative speakers.

Last Game a Victory

The 'varsity basket ball team ended its season on Wednesday evening by defeating Pittston Y. M. C. A., by a score of 30 to 9. The strain to which the Bucknell five has been subjected for the past three months showed itself in their playing, and the exhibition they gave was far from their standard. Especially was this true with regard to the first half, when Captain Davis' men scored 8 points to their opponents' four. In the second half, however, they took a brace and pulled out of the hole. The vistors put up a fair game and, as stated, held the college boys down well in the first half.

The game was one of the roughest of the season. It was unduly so, and Bucknell was more at fault than the visitors. Basket ball as it is played in these parts is not lawn tennis by any means, but there was little excuse for some of the tactics resorted to by one or two Bucknell men on Wednesday night. Two of the Pittston players were also at fault, but more is expected of college men, especially when they are on their own floor. Some of the spectators made matters worse by applauding the undesirable style of play.

The game was not without its brilliant features. The home five, while they lacked their usual snap and ginger, got in some very pretty work at times. Anderson, Davis and Elliott executed a number of difficult plays. McCormick's playing, aside from its roughness, was very clever. He outplayed McGuffie, the old Dickinson player, much to the delight of the audience. English put up a good game at guard and threw a goal. For the visitors Sheets probably excelled.

The line up.

BUCKNELL		PITTSTON
Elliott	forward	McGuffie
Davis	forward	Anthony
Anderson	center	Williams
McCormick	guard	Sheets
English	guard	McFarland

Goals: Anderson, 6; English, 1; Davis, 1; McCormick, 2; Elliott, 4; Sheets, 1; McGuffie, 1. Goals from fouls: Elliott, 2; McGuffie, 5. Time of halves, 20 minutes.

MINSTREL TROUPE'S PERFORMANCE.

Time, 20th Century; Place, Milton Opera House; Characters, Bucknell Students.

One of the greatest events of the college year came to a culmination on Saturday night when the curtain in the Milton Opera House rolled up. This was the event for which the boys have been training during the entire term, and they allowed nothing to stand in the way of making it the success it was.

The special train, which left at 7:10, having about two hundred students and Lewisburg people arrived at Milton in time to assemble before the performance began.

Shortly before eight o'clock the orchestra appeared before the stage and rendered a selection, blending it into an accompaniment to the voices behind the curtain. Then the great blind rolled gracefully upward and the singers continued their series of pleasing choruses.

Such a picture! Admirable expresses it mildly. Twenty-one men in evening dress arranged in a semicircle with McCabe, the interlocutor, arrayed in gorgeous costumes of the eighteenth century, in the middle, seated "High on a throne of royal state." Then those funny bones and tambos, Edwards, Grimminger, Frampton, Daniels, Kuhn and Klotz, in burnt cork and the swellest negro costumes, graced the ends. The company was completed a few minutes later by the arrival of the premier ends, Senn and Perrine, who came in with a swing, dash and song that brought the house down. Their nobby costumes showed up well.

The first part of the programme consisted of jokes new and original, by the end men and solos by various members of the troupe. These were all well received and the soloists won repeated encores.

The following men rendered solos during the first part: Clarence Prout, "Down in the Deep Let Me Sleep when I Die;" Roy Gardner, "Out Where the Billows Roll High;" John Snow, "The Sea Is the Home for Me;" Arthur Pierce, "A Thousand Leagues under the Sea;" Frank Daniels, "Parthenia;" Lewis Theis, "Just at the Turn of the Tide;" Harold Perrine, "When Mr. Shakespere Comes to Town;" Walter Senn, "Dinah." The entire company then joined in the grand finale, "Give Us Just Another Lincoln," and the curtain fell.

During the short intermission that followed, the orchestra, composed of Goodman, Prout, Coryell and Collins rendered some selections. Then the curtain went up for the second part and Kuhn and Madden, the premier sketch artists, appeared in the role of negro comedians. Their songs, jokes, and acting won the merited approval of all.

Cassler next did his balancing and club swinging turn. Murmurs of appreciation and approbation were heard through the audience and they frequently burst into thundering applause at his clever "stunts." His balancing acts and club swinging made a very pretty exhibition of nerve and muscular control. His baton twirling on the slack wire was simply fascinating.

Kuhn and Madden's re-appearance in the knockabout sketch was greeted with applause. This was perhaps the funniest thing of the evening, and the audience made the artists feel that the approval of the way they handled their parts was freely given.

"Isn't that quartette cute?" the girls said when "Jimmie" Grimminger-Klotz, Senn and Pierce, in oddly contrasted costumes, appeared in their first number. If the people had not appreciated their singing they would not have brought them back three times as they did.

Bartol, "the midget contortionist," Kuhn and Hoskins executed their tumbling and acrobatic feats very cleverly. It was an exhibition of grace and suppleness. Lack of time prevented them from completing their acts.

The closing scene was a crowd of typical students with sweaters and dress suit cases ready for a trip. College songs were rendered and Bucknell yells given. "Good-night Ladies," closed the performance.

President Dershimer and director McCabe deserve credit for the able way in which they have handled the affair from start to finish.

Since the first performance of the 20th Century Troupe has been such a success, the management is arranging for several dates in the early part of next term. The financial results will be announced later.

Annual Indoor Athletic Meet.

Last Thursday evening the annual indoor athletic meet was successfully held in the Tustin gynasium. The Bucknell band was present and rendered excellent music during which each one of the thirteen events was handled with quickness and despatch. Although only one record was broken the meet proved quite interesting, and incidentally afforded much amusement both to the contestants and spectators.

After the 15 yd. dash was run off, the high jump and shot puts were carried on, the high jump was hotly contested, Pierce, '05, finally winning out although he failed to break the record. Johnson, '04, seemed to have too big a handicap over Gillis and won both the shot puts. Theis, '02, and Lesher, '05, were tied in the standing high jump at 4 ft. 5 in., but Theis won out on his handicap of ¼ an inch. In the pole vault Theis, '02, broke his indoor record by 1¼ in. clearing the reed at 9 ft. 6¼ in. Lesher was second in this event vaulting 8 ft. 2¼ in. On the parallel and horizontal bars and also in tumbling Bartol, '05, won deserved applause. He showed surprising form and skill. The judges granted Bartol a gymnasium "B" for his work. The obstacle and and potato races as usual caused much fun. Elliott (Academy) won out handily in both events, although Vorse, '05, and Buhl, '05, showed better orm as far as eating their pie was concerned. Morton, '05, also did good work in punching the bag.

The slight number of contestant may have marred the success of the events somewhat. But this was the fault of the students and should be remedied. Those who did take part deserve much credit. Praise is also due Coach Hoskins and Capt. Tiffany for the success of the meet.

Following is a summary of events:

Why has the daily Philadelphia paper been discontinued in the library? This is a question that has puzzled more than one student this term as he looks in vain for a paper that was not at least a day old. The best of newspapers are to be more than glanced over; just enough in fact to keep one abreast of the times. Therefore a paper of more than a day old though it be from our metropolis does not satisfy the demand for news. The students from Pennsylvania, as most of our students are, like to see a paper from their native state. And there are various other reasons why the paper should be in the library. We can assure the authorities thatits absence has been greatly felt and its return would be a cause of gratification to the student body.

In the colloquial french class, during all of the week before last, Professor Aviragnet has delivered lectures on the works of the great man. He has made a literary study of his best dramas Hernani, Ruy Blass, Les Burgraves and the next week he will take for the subject of his lectures Notre Dame de Paris, Les Miserables, Les Travailleurs de la mer, L' homme qui rit, Guabie virigt treize and thepoetic works, published after the death of the French Shakespeare.

Girls' Dramatic Club.

Last Friday evening the Girls' Dramatic Clubgave Antigone, a tragedy by Sophocles, as its annual performance before a large and appreciative audience of students and town people. The play was of such a high class and each part was so well rendered that to comment on any one part would be doing an injustice to the others. The whole production showed that careful attention had been given and hard work done in preparing. The girls and also Miss Schillinger, under whose direction the play was given, are all to be congratulated on the great success of the evening.

The debate will be held at Bloomsburg on May 30. The debaters who will represent the Calliopean literary society are, Owens, Griffith and Black. In the debate argument will count 50 per cent, delivery 25 per cent, and arrangement of material 25 per cent.

Junior Debate.

The second preliminary debate for the Junior contest took place in Theta Alpha Hall on Thursday evening. The debate was public and a number of students attended. The judges were Dr. Perrine, Dr. Hulley and Dr. Heim. Those entering the contest were Terrell, Dunlap, Cook and Singeiser. The question, "Resolved, that students should not specialize in college until they have reached their senior year," was the subject chosen by the debaters. It was discussed affirmatively by Terrell and Cook and negatively by Dunlap and Singeiser. The debate was well rendered. The debaters had all made good preparation and seemed to enter the debate with interest and determination.

Individual comment is not at all necessary as all did equally well and all are worthy of commendation. It was somewhat of a disappointment to see some of the contestants drop out of the debate before the final preliminary. After the speakers had discussed the question, the judges and Prof. Morris, who presided, took up a general discussion which was interesting and instructive to all present.

Basket Ball.

Bucknell has just ended one of the most successful seasons in basket ball ever passed through. What has lent interest to the games and has to a great extent kept up spirit during the season has been the playing of inter-class games. Never before were the various teams so evenly matched and an unflagging interest has gone through each contest of this sort.

Inasmuch as such a regular schedule of inter-class contests is carried out in basket ball and there is an annual inter-class foot ball game and track meet would it not be well to carry the idea out farther and have inter-class base ball contests?

Such contests would add spice to the base ball season just as it has to that of basket ball; and it would be a peaceable means of settling a question which rough and tumble class scraps though often tried never answer. It would also be of advantage to the base ball management in helping them detect new material which might not under any other conditions come out. With these things in view we cannot come to any conclusion other than that these contests should be held. Let us have them and let each class support the movement by putting a team in the field.

Base Ball Prospect.

During the past week captain Milligan and his men have been on the diamond demonstrating simosital and catenary lines in the ether. Every thing seems to point to a successful season of base ball. Many of the old players are out again with their old time spirit and vigor. About thirty candidates are trying for positions on the nine. Of last year's players there are Vail, Stanton, Grimminger, Milligan, Weidensaul and Teufel. Some valuable new men are showing up well. Cockhill, who for two years captained the Kutstown Normal team is a find in the pitcher's box. He has wonderful curves and almost the speed of Matthewson. Jackel, who played with Lafayette last year, Epler and Buhl are also favorable candidates for pitcher, Smith seems to be quite at home on the diamond, either at second or short. Leinbach, Galbrath, Anderson, Douglass, Deats, Johnson, Harshberger and a long list of others are deserving of notice. Nearly all of last years freshman team are out and show the benefit of a season's playing.

The team will look quite gaudy in their new uniforms which manager Stevenson has selected. The suits will be something similar to the ones worn last year except the sweaters. These will be supplanted by blue sack coats, National League style, with an orange "B" on the left side. The caps will be blue with "B. U. B. B. T." neatly worked into a monogram, the design of which is Jackel's.

Another attractive feature on the campus during the games will be the presence of the University Band. This is something that is new and will give the people a chance of hearing a concert as well as seeing first class base ball playing. Manager Stevenson desires to make this the most successful season known to Bucknell and he will spare no effort to make the home games as attractive as possible.

Below is appended the schedule for the season. It will be noticed that ten of the twenty-six games are at home.

It is the intention of the management to have some of the best baseball talent among Bucknell's alumni take part in this game. Christy Mathewson has accepted the captainey of the team on the condition that he can arrange to be in Lewisburg.

Interclass Baseball.

What about interclass games this spring? Surely we can have them. At most other colleges they are made quite prominent and there is no reason why Bucknell should stay behind.

The arguments for the affirmative are many. In the first place it would produce better players. If we had a well regulated system of advancement, there could be no doubt that the best players would be advanced according to their ability as players. How can the various teams be selected? Let us suppose the three upper classes have each one team, and the freshmen, on account of having a greater number of men to select from, two teams, and the Academy one. Then let them have some incentive to, not only come out, but stay out for the entire season. Why not establish an inter-class championship cup. Have the assistant manager or class managers arrange for games with near by towns and thus create an interest. All this time a course of evolution may be going on unconsciously. It is practice that makes perfect. In the meantime, the coach and captain of the varsity can be on the watch for new stars from the class teams and thus the unknown freshman may, in a couple of years, progress to the head.

In the second place, that it would add interest to the sport and create class spirit, is evident. Thirdly, it would no doubt be of some help financially. We hope that every class will put a team on the diamond this spring to add to its college events.

The Track Outlook.

Coach Hoskins and Manager Walkinshaw have been supervising the repairs and grading on the track during vacation week. The ground is now in good shape and the candidates are out every day making use of it. The outlook for a winning track team is very favorable this year. Some valuable new men are candidates for various events. Of last year's relay team only Tiffany and Glaspy are out; the other three, Pierce, Marsh, and Chessman are new men.

Bucknell has accepted an invitation to contest at the annual intercollegiate relay meet to be held at Philadelphia on April 26. The class will be the same as last year, viz: Bucknell, State, Dickinson, Carlisle Indians, Ursinus, Gettysburg and F. & M.

Two athletic meets have been definitely arranged. The first will be with Dickinson at Carlisle on May 17; the second, with Carlisle Indians at Lewisburg on May 24. Negotiations are pending for a meet with Lafayette.

The following men are candidates for the various events: weights, Mc Mahon, Gillis, Caruthers; pole vault, Theis, Lesher; high jump, Pierce, Theis; short distance, Tiffany, Pierce; long distance, Slifer, Snow. Other men may develop as the season advances. The management urges men to come out and try for a place. If you have athletic ambitions and a spark of ability, come out Coach Hoskins will develop you. Two events, the hurdles and broad jump, are as yet without a candidate.

In addition to the intercollegiate meets, the interclass meet will not be of minor importance. Great interest has been shown in this department for many years and special attention will be given to it this spring. A training table will be started soon for the candidates.

Basket Ball Retrospect.

Last term closed another successful basketball season. Out of that whole series of fifteen games our team lost but two, one of which was closely contested.

The commendable point was the unfailing vim and interest the players showed throughout the entire season. Both in the daily practice and in the regular games was this a noticeable feature. Captain Davis and his men are deserving of great honors for the way they handled the inflated sphere in behalf of "Old Bucknell."

Seven games at home and eight visiting games were played in all. In addition to these the inter class games added much interest to this branch of athletics. The series of these games is not yet completed but will be played early in this term.

At the close of the season Anderson was unanimously chosen captain for the coming year.

The sterling qualities of the players are too well known to require individual comment; but coach Hoskins, captain Davis and manager Robinson are to be congratulated for putting a winning team under the arc lights and making a general, grand success.

The following is a list of the games with their respective scores.

Game vs. Milton.

The opening game of the baseball season will be played on the ground on Wednesday, April 2. Milton will be the visiting team. This is a strong combination of players and a good game may be expected. Come out and help the boys along with song and yells. Game called at four o'clock. Admission 15c.

Game vs. U. of Pa.

The initial college game of the season will be played next Saturday, Apr. 5. Our team plays the Univ. of Pa. on that date. By special arrangement about two hundred seats on the grand stand have been reserved for Bucknell Alumni and students on that day. U. of Pa. always has a fast team and when our fast combination meets them there will be an interesting game.

It is reported that Dr. Hill, ex-President of Bucknell, is likely to be appointed to represent the United States Government in Germany as Ambassador extraordinary. Dr. Hill is at present First Assistant Secretary of State. He was in charge of negotiations that were carried on between the powers during the Chinese disturbance and by his work in this capacity he was commended to the government authorities.

Punctuality is one of the most valuable habits that a person can form. To be always present at an appointed time and ready to discharge ones duties and obligations is of wonderful value to a person who would attempt to make his mark in the world. The lawyer who never fails to meet his client with promptness after having made an engagement, and the physician who is always ready to respond to his calls, are the men whom the public will soon recognize and patronize. We know of no better place to form habits of punctuality than here in college. We should be here ready for work when the bell calls for the first recitation of the term. We should be in each class when the recitation begins, and not come straggling into the classroom to the annoyance of all therein after the recitation has begun. Books taken from the library should be returned promptly when they are due. Numerous others instances might be mentioned where one might begin to form the habit of punctuality. As each of our days here is scheduled, a very slight effort would soon cultivate regularity in our habits. When one has once acquired this habit to the knowledge of the public he will be received with confidence and trust, and he will have acquired one of the essentials that constitute a successful man.

We have just entered upon the last term of our school year. But the bare order in which the term comes does not alone and of itself constitute its distinctive features. It is, besides, the most pleasant and enjoyable season of the year. More out-door events occur during this this term than in any other. Our presence is constantly drawn toward the diamond, the track, the entertainments and various other charms of attention. All of these recreations and entertainments, combined with the extreme clemency of the weather during this term, make it very difficult for students to devote the proper amount of time and attention to their studies. The tendency is to be on the outside; to attend every baseball game, every track meet and every entertainment, all of which the student is not only justified in attending, but it is his duty to do so. By his very being here he is under obligations to patronize and support the associations and organizations so far as it may be consistent with his liberty and means.

The student, however, is also inclined to spend a considerable amount of time entirely aside from the manner above mentioned. He may form habits of lingering about after certain periods or around certain places. In this way an appreciable amount of time is wasted unconscously. But the habits that work us injury without our knowledge are our worst enemies. We must be constantly on our guard lest the attention due our studies be directed into other channels. The manifold attractions during this spring term are going to take up not a small portion of our time. However, we should let these recreations leave the slightest possible, if any, effect on our work. Be always mindful that the chief object of our being here is for our symmetrical development; intellectually, morally, and physically. If we keep this in mind, we cannot easily drift unconsciously into habits that tend to divert our attention and study from their proper places.

Academy Notes.

Clyde Westcott was ill on Sunday.

We are pleased to note that the Academy has been increased by four new members: Messrs Montgomery, Early, Hillard and Fessell.

Meyer and Taylor spent vacation at Crabapple Springs.

Prof. Bell will teach Academy German this term.

John Cunningham has entered business and will not return this term.

We are sorry to note that Bell and Rees will not retun.

Mr. Barclay has taken the place of our former janitor Epps.

Hennessy visited Simington during vacation.

Westcott and Taylor saw Floradora at Sunbury last week.

The Academy expects to put out a good team in both base ball and tennis. Harry Monroe is temporary captain of the base ball team and Spanogle is manager. The latter has arranged several good games for the season.

Shipp has accepted a position and will not return this term.

Institute Notes.

Miss Jennie Davis has taken charge of the department of mathematics in the Institute.

Miss Martha Thompkins has been secured to take the place in music department made vacant by the resignation of Miss Mary Coxe.

Don't forget about the first game of the season, with Milton, on Wednesday at 4 p. m.

Teachers' Convention.

The Union county teachers' association will convene in the Lewisburg high school building on Saturday, April 5th. The executive committee has prepared an excellent program for the sessions. An orchestra will furnish music. The Country High Schools, Centralization of Schools, Literature in the School Room, Domestic Science, and other topics of school interest will be discussed. Dr. G. G. Groff, one of the leading educators, will be present and will address the association. All friends of education are invited to be present and participate. There should be a large gathering at the opening hour at 9:30 a. m.

The Sophomore basket ball team has chosen Johnson captain for next season. The base ball team chose Gilbert captain for the spring term.

Dunlap, '03, has accepted a position as instructor in the Lycoming County Normal at Muncy and will leave college the latter part of the week.

Weaver, ex-'03, will finish teaching the term for Bidelspacher, '01, at the Montoursville High School. The latter will teach in the Muncy Normal.

One conspicuous fact about college at the opening of the term is that so many students are late returning. This is more noticable than during previous years, but probably is due to the fact that Easter follows so closely the day set for school to begin.

A number of boys from the hill attended the Lafayette Glee, Mandolin and Guitar Club concert at Milton on Thursday evening. A few of the boys witnessed the Span of Life at Milton on Saturday evening.

The First Game.

With the temperature in the neighborhood of freezing, the base ball team, bundled up in sweaters and mits, appeared on the diamond last Wednesday for the first game. Milton Athletic club was the opposing team. In spite of the fact that our opponents had not practiced much together, they put up a very nice game and until near the end of the sixth inning, made things decidedly interesting. Their outfield players were especially fast.

Our boys did excellent work, although most of them are warm weather players and consequently were not in the best of form. A feature that won applause from the bleachers was Weidensaul stopping a swift ground ball midway between first and second. Other noticeable features were the base stealing by McCormick and Smith and the fact that none of our men stuck out. All the players won frequent approval.

The line up.—

The Game With Pennsylvania.

The 'varsity base ball team played the first game of the regular schedule with Pennsylvania at Philadelphia on Saturday and was beaten by a score of 7 to 4. When it is taken into consideration that Penn has had the benefit of a month's practice under the coaching of Arthur Irwin, while Bucknell has lined up but three or four times, the boys wearing the orange and blue have reason to feel proud of their showing on Saturday. The home players won because they batted more timely and because they excelled their opponents in running bases Bucknell played a much better fielding game than Penn and secured nearly as many hits; but the bingles did not come at the proper time, several safe drives counting for naught.

Bucknell was first at bat and lost no time in scoring. Grimminger hit the second ball pitched for a single. Teufel advanced him on a neat sacrifice and the little third baseman scampered home when Milligan planted the sphere in right for two bases. The next two men were retired on flies to the outfield.

In her half Pennsylvania tied the score without making a hit. Collier flied to Jaekel. White got a pass and was safe at second on Teufel's fumble of Wilder's grounder. Swain hit to Cockhill, who retired him at first, White scoring on the play. Bennett got to first on balls, but he and Wilder were left, Newman retiring the side on a fly to Veil.

Bucknell went at things in a business-like way in the second again. Stanton get a life on Captain Collier's poor throw to first. Smith was out on a fly to Wilder. Jaekel's single advanced Stanton to third. Cockill was passed to first on balls. Grimminger's out to center scored Stanton. Teufel's timely single tallied Jaekel. Milligan forced Teufel at second.

After two out in Pennsylvania's half of the inning, Devlin hit a pretty tripple to center and scored a minute later on Collier's single. White drew another pass. Wilder hit to Cockhill, who could not recover in time to throw either to first or home. Swain was out, Weidensaul to Milligan, retiring the side.

Pennsylvania scored another in the sixth on an infield single by Collier and a two-bagger by Wilder.

Pennsylvania was next to score, tallying two runs as a result of fast base running and clever consecutive hitting. Devlin opened the inning with a single. Collier hit one to Teufel and was safe on a close decision at first. White advanced the runners each a base on a pretty sacrifice. Devlin and Collier scored on Wilder's corking triple to left center. He soon after tried to tally when Swain hit an easy one to Cockill, who threw to Stanton, who threw to Grimminger, catching the runner a foot from the bag. Bennett retired the side on a grounder to Teufel.

Bucknell scored her fourth and last run in the seventh. Teufel, the first man up, singled. Milligan got a pass. Weidensaul scored Teufel on a pretty single to right, the fielder holding the ball. With two on bases and no one out things looked rosy for Captain Milligan's men, but Veil, Stanton and and Smith went out in order.

The red and blue duplicated Bucknell's feat in their half. Newman singled and stole second. Noble fanned. Newman attempted to purloin third, but was easy from Stanton to Grimminger. Brown singled, stole second and scored on Grove's single. Collier made a good bid for another infield hit, but was out from Teufel to Milligan.

Neither side scored in the eight, but Bucknell had Penn scared in her half of the ninth. Teufel began the inning by going out from White to Wilder. Milligan got a life on Wilder's error. Weidensaul cracked out his third single. Veil hit an easy fly to Collier. Stanton worked Groves for a pass, filling the bases. Smith made a good bid for a hit, but his hard grounder was fielded by White to Collier, retiring the side and ending the game.

The Literary Societies.

THETA ALPHA.

Notwithstanding the fact that a few were absent from the program, Theta Alpha literary society enjoyed a very interesting meeting.

The music rendered by Messrs. Hart, Knapp, and C. G. Sheldon was greatly appreciated by the society.

M. R. Sheldon amused the society with one of his famous stories.

The question, "Resolved that the Monroe Doctrine is obsolete," was discussed on the affirmative by Cheesman, '05, and Cook, '03, the latter being appointed in the place of McCauley, while the negative side was debated by Ammon, '05, and Lesher, '05. The debate was handled very acceptably by both sides.

The decision of the debate was left to the society instead of three judges as heretofore.

EUEPIA.

In Euepia on Friday evening the following program was carried out. Current Events by Smiley, '05. The speaker reviewed in a clear, concise manner the history making events of the present, which every student should be acquainted with. Renn, '04, followed with a carefully prepared, interesting and very instructive paper on "Money." Ulmer, '02, for his extemporaneous speech was assigned the subject: "The Spring Term." In an able and forcible manner he showed the audience how this term contrasted with the other two and how much pleasure could be secured from and with all how profitable this term may be made. Then followed the debate. It is a lamentable fact that not one of the four debaters chosen to discuss the question put in an appearance. The chair appointed the following men to take their places: on the affirmative, Robinson, '04 and Daniel, '05; on the negative, Ulmer, '02, and Shaw, '05. These men discussed the question, "Resolved: That the United States should establish a graded system of subsidies, based upon the number of miles navigated by registered American ships, while engaged in foreign trade," in an able and spirited manner showing that they had been following the matter up in the daily newspapers.

Chemical and Physical Society

There has been some disappointment in the Liquid Air entertainment that was to be given by the society. The first attempt to give this entertainment led to failure because the company which was to furnish the air proved unreliable and not only were those who had purchased tickets disappointed, but the money which was forwarded for the air was lost. A second attempt to give the entertainment was made this term. But after a canvass of the college it was found that there would not be a large enough audience to guarantee a financial success. The hope of giving this exhibition has been abandoned. All tickets will be redeemed by the one from whom they were purchased.

Academy Beaten.

On Saturday afternoon the Freshmen met and defeated the Academy base ball team in a spectacular game. The noticeable feature was the 40 circuits made around the diamond. The teams were pretty evenly matched, neither one having had any practice.

The score by innings:—

Freshmen	5	2	1	3	2	0	1	2	5	—21.
Academy	3	2	0	0	0	6	1	2	5	—19.

Track Notes.

Several new men are out limbering up on the turf.

Cheesman expects to leave college soon. By his withdrawal we loose a valuable candidate for the relay team.

Manager Walkinshaw has started a training table at Mrs. Olds' on Third street. All candidates for the field and track team should consult with him at once in regard to boarding. The races are less than three weeks off now and it is altogether fitting that the men should train in scientific manner.

The management requests all students to keep off the track and vaulting pit. Considerable time and expense have been expended in fixing the course in proper shape and continual tramping on it is that many steps towards destruction. Please remember this during the games. There is plenty of standing room on the sod.

The Rev. T. P. Colston, D. D., class of 1859, recently died in Philadelphia, where he had for a long time been pastor of a Baptist church.

It is a fact much to be regretted that the department of English is not generally looked upon by the student body of equal importance with the other departments of a curriculum. It seems to be a natural tendency with the average student to regard a good knowledge of the professional studies alone as amply sufficient to prepare him thoroughly for carrying on his chosen profession. We are not denying that a knowledge of such studies is necessarily fundamental and basal; indeed, it is the first requisite to be able to perform the functions and duties of any vocation whatever. No one would ever rationally think of attempting to enter into any business, trade or profession without first having laid the corner stone of his superstructure. But this corner stone is not complete in itself. It needs something more. It must be supplemented by something not necessarily essential to the formation of the corner stone itself, but without which the foundation would remain but a cold, passive power, incapable of giving vent to its real, inner self.

No structure is ever considered complete without some decoration or ornamentation. No man can be truly a Christian without acting somewhat in the capacity of an Evangelist either by word or action. Nor can any professional education be complete without means whereby to give clear and forcible expression to the ideas that may be developed by such an education. It matters not to what depths of thought the mind may delve, or what ideas it may be able to develop, so long as there is lacking some mediator by which such ideas can be clearly and emphatically conveyed to the public, just that long will the mind be unable to completely fulfill the functions expected of it. It will be handicapped from every corner. It will be judged by the work it actually does and not by the work it is theoretically or passively capable of doing. Why then, in the face of this obvious disadvantage, should a student become learned in his profession and fail to master such studies as would enable him to expound himself clearly and forcibly? Why should not the preacher master every English study that would the better enable him to convince and persuade his congregation? Why should not the lawyer avail himself of every means whereby he might be the better enabled to persuade his jury?

We hold, for an illustration, that the greatest intellectual distinction between an able lawyer and a less able one on opposite sides of the same trial, lies in the mastery of English that the one possesses over the other. How could it be otherwise? They both study up their case months before its trial. They have access to the very identical books on the same case. They meet upon neutral grounds and when questions of law and fact are as heavy on the one side as the other the lawyer who is the rhetorician, the logician and the master of forensic oratory is the one who will nearly always swing the jury. More attention should be paid to this line of work in Bucknell. No matter what vocation one may expect to enter he will constantly feel and realize his weakness if he neglects that very part of his course by which his ability is to be so often estimated by the the public. Let us strive not the less to master the professional studies, but all the more to be able to expound and advocate them. A good scholar or a deep thinker is not complete until he is also a clear, forcible and persuading advocate.

Academy Notes.

Tomb will not return this term.

Rees spent Thursday at the Academy.

Zeke Royer has returned after a short illness.

Borrow's father visited him at the Academy on Friday and Saturday.

McHenry was called to Watsontown Saturday on account of the death of his uncle.

The Academy is highly elated over the result of the game with the Freshmen on Saturday, considering that the team had not practiced together before the game. The support given by the Sophomores was appreciated.

Institute Notes.

Four new girls have entered the Institute this term.

Mrs. Perrine was the guest of Miss Schillinger Friday evening.

The girls at Miss Thompkins table gave a very elaborate dinner in her honor Friday evening.

Misses Janet Owens and Margaret Gretzinger were the guests of Miss Knox at dinner on Friday evening.

Basketball.

The class game between the Seniors and Sophomores will be played on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. This is the deciding game of the series and will without doubt be a fast game.

Notes on the Game.

May 3 has been closed with Lock Haven Normal at Lock Haven.

Not a kick was registered against Henderson's umpiring. His work could not have been better.

With a man on third in the fifth, Stanton scooped up one of Cockill's drops that struck in front of the plate.

The great benefit of professional coaching was shown in Pennsylvania's base running. Collier and White are two of the fastest men on the bases in the college ranks.

The showing of the team on Saturday is very gratifying. When the pitchers round into form, Bucknell will have a better team than last year and should win the most of the games on her schedule.

The 'varsity's next game will be with the Philadelphia American League team in the Quaker City on next Friday. The Saturday date has been filled by bringing the game with Franklin and Marshall at Lancaster forward from June 5.

Hottenstein, ex-'02, has returned from California and expects to return to college.

Ezra Lehman was again awarded a fellowship in the University of Pennsylvania.

Prof. Simpson will discuss, "The search for absolute zero," Thursday at Chemical and Physical. This discussion will be of much interest to all especially to those who have taken work in Physics. All are cordially invited to come.

Next Sunday morning Wm. Dayton Roberts D. D., of the First Presbyterian church of Williamsport will preach the annual sermon before the Christian organizations of Bucknell University. All are urged to attend.

Lost Both Games.

The varsity baseball team lost both games on the trip to Philadelphia and Lancaster on Friday and Saturday. The defeat by the Athletics was not disappointing, in fact the result was very encouraging, but to lose to Franklin and Marshall, a team that is not in Bucknell's class, is a bitter dose to swallow. The game on Saturday should have been won; the loss of it only proves the uncertainty of baseball. The showing made by Captain Milligan's players against the Athletics was very good, and compared with the Athletic-Princeton game on Saturday, when the professionals defeated the collegians 21 to 4, the work of the Bucknell boys stands out prominently.

THE ATHLETIC GAME.

With the exception of Griffith, the one-armed wonder who pitched, the team that opposed Bucknell is the same that will fight to land the American League pennant for the Quaker City. Before the game was very old it became apparent that Captain Lajoie was taking advantage of the opportunity to have his men get their eyes on the ball. The Athletics were reluctant to taking first on balls and they landed on everything that was anyways near the plate. And when they connected—which they usually did—the sphere went as though shot out of a cannon. The Bucknell youngsters never flinched and got everything that came their way, although it was like taking one's life in one's hand in getting in front of some of the scorchers of Hartzel, Fultz, Lajoie, Davis and Flick. Grimminger, Smith and Weidensaul each made nice stops of hard ones. "Grimmy" was nearly lifted off his feet by a hot grounder from Lajoie's bat in the fourth inning, but recovered in time to retire the runner.

The Athletics scored in every inning but the eighth. Bucknell's only run came in the seventh inning. McCormick singled. Stanton fanned. McCormick went to third on Jaekel's single and scored on Veil's out from Lajoie to Davis. Bucknell batted in hard luck, ten men being left on bases.

Smith played a good all-round game, accepting five out of six chances in the field, including an unassisted double play, and leading the team at bat with a double and two singles. McCormick was a close second with the stick, getting a double and a single in four times a bat.

THE F. and M. GAME.

The game at Lancaster was a disappointing affair and the least said about it the better. The contest was lost through Epler's lack of control, for which the south paw is not wholly to blame. He warmed up well in practice, but in the game he was compelled to swing his left arm against a stiff wind, which made it difficult for him to control his curves and speed. To avoid giving the opposing batsmen bases on balls he put easy ones over and these the F. & M. boys killed, four home runs, a double and two singles being made in four innings. The visitors combined their only two errors and two bases and balls with these hits, the home team scoring ten runs as a result. Jaekel was substituted in the middle of the fourth inning and pitched in masterly style, holding his opponents down to four hits and one run in five innings and striking out seven men.

F. & M. did not have a monopoly on the hitting, Bucknell doing considerable on her own account, but not enough to win the game. In the second Weidensaul got to first on an error and scored on McCormick's double and an out. In the fourth Weidensaul, the first man up knocked a home run over the centre field fence. The fifth inning witnessed the retirement of Captain Treichler, the star pitcher of F. & M. Cockhill doubled, Jaekel singled and Grimminger drew a pass. Smith scored two on his bit. Milligan made the first out. Weidensaul, McCormick and Stanton singled in succession and Veil went out. Cockill was safe on an error, but Jaekel retired the side by striking out. The cannonading netted seven runs. Killheffer took Treichler's place on the rubber the next inning and did not allow the visitors a hit until the ninth inning.

The features of the game were the batting of Killheffer, Gitt, Treichler and Weidensaul, the fielding of McCormick and the twirling of Killheffer and Jaekel.

Both teams suffered from the incompetent umpiring of Mr. Carman, the visitors especially. His errors of judgement were flagrant and his ignorance of the third-strike rule in the first inning necessitated the retirement of four men by Bucknell in this inning.

The Senior Reception.

On Thursday evening last, long expectation culminated in one of the most pleasant social events of the year. This was the reception given by the Senior Class of the Seminary.

Even at eight o'clock it was to be seen that the attendance would not be meagre and a half hour later when the majority of the guests had gathered, about seventy-five persons moved about in the spacious reception rooms.

As the guests came up the stairs, they found themselves in the midst of a maze of music, decoration, color and gaiety. The Watsontown Orchestra played almost continually until after eleven o'clock. The music, too, showed careful selection such as caused the auditors to know that they were enjoying a rare treat.

Several expressions from "old sem grads" showed that the decorations had surpassed anything formerly attempted.

This could well be believed as palms, draperies, sofa pillows, pennants and pictures were set, laid or hung about in that rich negligence which shows the art of the decorator. The points deserving of special mention were the fraternity room, the athletic alcove, the Gibson corner and the music corner. Nor must we overlook the class drapery, which fittingly set off one of the arches.

The refreshments, served at half after ten, were of that order which reflects great credit upon the committee having that in charge.

Upon leaving, after one of the most pleasant events in the history of the seminary, the expression of the guests showed that the class of 1902 need not look to any class as their superiors in entertaining.

Chemical and Physical Society.

At a regular meeting of the Chemical and Physical Society on Thursday afternoon Prof. Simpson discussed the subject of "Absolute Zero." The following is a brief account of the discussion: After a discussion of the theory of heat, it was shown that converging lines of proof, independent in origin, that "absolute zero" is at —273 degrees C. To demonstrate this prediction, scientists have been working with great energy. They recognized that if it could be reached, they must reach it by removing the heat from gases, because the difference between solids, liquids and gases is a question of molecular activity produced by heat. Iron is a gas in the sun and probably was on the earth in its earlier history. Cooling condensed it to a liquid and finally to a solid.

In the search for the pole, Faraday took the lead. After liquifying several gases, he predicted laws afterwards demonstrated: that no gas could be liquified when above its "critical temperature" and below its "critical pressure." Pictet devised apparatus by which he liquified oxygen by evaporating several gases in series. Dewar liquified oxygen and by allowing this gas to evaporate in a vacuum, liquified hydrogen, the latter boiling at—239 degrees C. When hydrogen is evaporated in a vacuum, the temperature falls to—257 degress C, 16 degress above the coveted goal. It seems impossible to span this space, as all known gases are liquids or solids at this temperature. Chemical action ceases at the pole of cold. Flourine, a liquid at—201 degrees C, unites with nothing except hydrogen, the boiling point of the latter being lower than the former. The tenacity of metals increases very much. The curve of electrical resistance of all pure metals intersects the temperature axis at—273 degrees C, indicating that at the absolute zero the resistance of all metals will be the same. It is a strange coincidence that the law of electrical resistance of metals and the law of Charles for gases should indicate the same temperature for the zero point.

Montoursville Shut Out.

The Bucknell Reserves very cleverly "Chicagoed" the Montoursville Athletic Club on Saturday afternoon. However, the visitors made things interesting at times. Frequently they reached third and twice they had the bases filled. But Taylor kept his nerve at the crises and the guests never safely crossed the home plate. The work of the Reserve's battery was especially commendable.

Anderson caught an earnest steady game while Taylor allowed them only one hit.

Johnson at first and Daniels at second did their turns nicely.

Basket Ball.

The three classes, the Senior, Sophomore and Freshmen each having won two and lost one of the inter-class games, are tied for the class cup, and must play some more games to decide the championship.

The Seniors and Freshmen will be the first to play. The game will be played to-night (Mouday) at 8 p. m. A fast game is expected.

Sunday morning Dr. Wm. Dayton Roberts of the First Presbyterian Church, of Williamsport, addressed the Christian organizations of Bucknell University on "Hero Worship." His style was pleasing and his words

When a person secures a position from his employer he is hired with the understanding that he is to receive a certain amount of pay for the completion of a certain specified amount of work. It is not required in this understanding or contract that either party to it shall exchange to the other one iota of additional service or pay over and above that amount specified in their agreement. So long as each party does what is required of him all will go well with mutual satisfaction, and this is the principle upon which the vast majority of people fulfill their part of their agreement, viz, to do what is most justly required of them and no more.

To be sure there can be no fault found with the person who always does what is required of him. We can see no reason why he cannot retain his present position and be of valuable help to his employer. But there is another element in this question. In order to attract the employer's attention from the general body of employees to one of them specifically, the employee must not only do what is required of him, as all of his fellow employees are doing, but he must take a step further and render some service above and beyond the realm of his required and obligatory duties. Experience has proved that this is the only way in which one can reach the highest positions that he is capable of filling. It is not until a person discharges his duties with pleasure and shows a disposition and willingness to do something not required of him that he can hope to be rewarded for his experience and education.

Additional work above what is required of one is extremely noticeable. Nothing will so quickly win another's good will and favor as to let him know that you are doing for your employer's interest a little more than is required of you. Such extra work will often atone for inefficiency in skill in the work of your task and continually show a disposition to do something extra that will not on the face of it render your employer's benefit secondary to your own.

Our Honor system of work here in Bucknell affords excellent advantages for a start in this additional work. This is a privilege that should be taken advantage of by every student. First, he should take advantage of it, if for no other reason, to form a disposition and a habit of continually going ahead and discharging duties other than those that are imperative. Secondly, he should appreciate this Honor system of a means of atoning for his "recklessness" during the earlier part of his course when the required studies weigh the heaviest upon the student. Thirdly, he should have taken enough extra work by the middle of his Senior year that would permit him to drop out of school to accept a position or for any other cause and yet not interfere with his being graduated with his class. We cannot help but feel that every student must see and realize the advantage of this extra work when every year from our own midst are called men to accept positions and whose graduation is not interfered with, owing to the valuable privileges and advantages given by our Honor-system of work. We are glad to see that it is already the subject of a liberal appreciation, but still more should it be taken advantage of by the student body.

In the class with Bucknell in the relay races at Philadelphia this spring will be State, Dickinson, Carlisle Indians, Villa Nova and Washington and Jefferson.

Inter Class Game

The Senior basket ball team defeated the Sophomore team in the gymnasium on Tuesday evening, before an unusually small audience. But, the lack of attendance was due to the severe rain rather than to lack of interest. Although there has been no practice for the last four weeks, both teams had not forgotten how to play. The game was not without its usual class spirit. At times it was marked by roughness but the referee always penalized such offences. The score at the end of the first half was 8 to 4 in in favor of the Seniors. The Sophomores failed to score in the second while the Seniors rolled up 21 points making the final Score 29 to 4.

The line up:

SENIORS.		SOPHOMORES.
Elliott	forward	Karge / Deats
Goodall / Davis	forward	Daniels
Stanton / Theis	centre	Johnson
English	guard	Hoelzel
Stanton / Davis	guard	Griffith

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

On Tuesday evening, April 1st, the Y. M. C. A., meeting was conducted by Prof Stewart who gave an interesting and practical talk.

On the same evening we were also favored by a visit from Dr. LeRoy Stephens who made some instructive remarks. The meeting was well attended.

On last Tuesday night the meeting was led by Bresnahan, '03, who gave a good spiritual talk on the subject: "Things against us." The quartet rendered two selections.

Bucknell Lost on Errors.

Of course Bucknell should have had the game and if they had kept up the pace they set at first they would have had it. The ideal day, the game on the home grounds, the sympathetic fans and the University Band, all favored the college team. But the costly errors at critical moments far out weighed the frequent brilliant plays. Regular "Bucknell luck" seemed to be dominant. Veil pitched a very nice game, having five strikeouts, and if he had received the team's proper support he would have won the day.

THE DETAILS

While the band was rendering some ragtime selection, umpire Griffin yelled "Play ball." Veil was on the slab showing Lafayette some very neat work.

Before the band finished its selection the music was drowned by the yells of 300 voices, just because "Buckey" had put out the first two men. The next man was retired at first. Bucknell failed to score in her half.

But the next half was more exciting and the one in which Bucknell did her prettiest work. McCormick had reached second and Teufel first, Cockhill came up to bat, posed a minute till he had solved Prichard's delivery and then drove the sphere toward left field. It ignored Hill's outstretched, entreating palms and wended its way on toward the chapel. Cockhill sprinted around the diamond for a home run, chasing McCormick and Teufel in. Anderson came up next, repeated Cockhill's tactics and again sent the sphere over Hill's head and across the walk. He made a nice 120 yard dash and reached home with time to spare. The inning closed with Bucknell four runs to the good.

But at this point the home team began to make some costly fumbles and errors which continued more or less throughout the whole game. And it is to this that the loss of the game is attributed.

Bucknell failed to score in the next two innings while Lafayette made two in each. The game went along smoothly, our fellows hitting frequently and hard but all gains were invariably followed in the next half by some extravagant error that more than counteracted.

Stanton's hand being disabled, Anderson was behind the bat for the 'Varsity. He caught a nice game. The out field played an errorless game and Grimminger and Veil made some exceptionally fine infield plays. Lafayette seemed to have it in for "Grimmy" as they put nearly all of their hot grounders in his direction. But the little third baseman was equal to every occasion and handled them easily. Veil made some exceptionally fine pop-fly catches.

The Bloomsburg Game.

Bucknell met another defeat on Saturday at the hands of the Bloomsburg State Normal team. Many enthusiastic yellers accompanied the team but to no avail. Bucknell played her usual fast game but it is hard for a team to win against not only the opposing team but also the bleachers and umpire. While the umpiring of Mr. Splain was fair at times, he failed to give us the benefit of a single close decision. A strong wind was blowing from the out field making it impossible for our fellows to place their usual drives over the fielder's heads.

When the game was called at 3:30, "Grimmy" walked out to the plate with full confidence, made a hit and got safely to first, stole second and third. Smith was hit by a pitched ball and Weidensaul by a nice two bagger brought in the two runs.

Bloomsburg failed to score till the third when she got home from second on a passed ball. In this inning, when a Bucknell man stood on each bag, Schaeffer allowed Jaekel his base on balls thus forcing a run for us.

In this inning, Weidensaul made one of the most sensational catches of the season, and immediately following he stopped a startling speedy grounder. Here the local fans did deviate from their custom and cheered his plays.

The game wore along more evenly from this time on. Weidensaul and Cockill certainly played a star game for Bucknell, while Lewis did perhaps the best work for Bloomsburg. Jackel pitched a good games. In the ninth inning Bloomsburg certainly did play ball, doing work worth emulating. Having filled the bases on bunts, they began a series of batting that easily brought in the neccessary runs.

Declamation Contest.

On Saturday evening, the Third Form Academy declamation contest, for the Rev. David P. Leas prize, was held in Bucknell Hall. The interest that is taken in such contests was shown by the large number of students and town people who attended.

All the speeches were well delivered and interesting. The speakers showed good preparation: they spoke distinctly and presented a pleasing appearance on the platform. All deserve praise and reflect great credit on their instructor, Miss Schillinger. The contest was close and the judges will doubtless have difficulty in deciding upon the prize winner.

Mention must also be made of the excellent music that was furnished during the evening.

Following is the program:

March, Mandolin and Guitar Club of the Institute; Invocation, Principal Edwards; Polonaise, Miss Berger; Heroes of the Land of Penn, Havard Griffith; Tiger Lily's Race, Robert Slmington; Scene from Last Days of Pompeii, Samuel J. Black; Souvenir Violin Solo, Haydn Parry Prout; A Murderer Cannot Keep His Secret, E. W. Saylor; The Diver, F. Paul Langhorne; The Revenge, James R. C. Elliott; Selection for Cornet, Lynn S. Goodman.

In Dakota Blizzard.

A letter received this week from Lou Weigel ex'04 who is with the Northern Pacific R. R., surveying corps now located at Ashley, North Dakota. He tells of a fierce blizzard that struck the camp last week, snowing three days and nights. Wood gave out in the tent on the third day and the corps of 12 men had a ham and a few loaves of bread for provisions. They had no feed on hand for the five horses. They were fed cornmeal and flour and to make matters worse the horse tent was blown down and the animals were lost for two days.

Hottenstein, '02, Walkinshaw, '03, Senn, '03, Caruthers, '04, Woodard, '02, Davis, '02, attended the District Conclave of the Kappa Sigma Fraternity held at Harrisburg on Friday and Saturday.

Mountoursville Again Shut Out.

The Bucknell Reserves played the return game with Mountoursville on Saturday. The result of the game was a repetition of last Saturday's score, —8-0. Epler pitched an elegant game, allowing only two hits. His fielding was especially fine. Deats was a power behind the bat. The outfield of the reserves was a fast and sure aggregation.

The boys are grateful for the treatment they were given. A brass band met them at the station and escorted them to the grounds, where they arrived "With colors flying."

The Preliminary.

The team that is to represent Bucknell in the annual relay races at Philadelphia next Saturday, is chosen. Many were the regrets expressed when it was reported that Pierce had sprained his ankle. But the report proved to be groundless and he will take his brother's usual place.

The track was in fine shape and the contestants were able to make fairly good time. The men this year are more evenly matched than usual making it more difficult to choose the ones to represent the college. After the preliminary heats, Coach Hoskins named the following men for the team: Pierce, '05, Marsh, '05, Goodall, '02, Flood, '05, Tiffany, '03. The men then chose Goodall to captain the team. Tiffany and Flood will have another preliminary to decide which one will be the regular and who sub.

In all probability, Theis will be taken to Philadelphia to enter the pole vault contest. To do this all subscriptions that are now due should be paid at once. The time is but less than a week distant and all interest should be shown the team. We are in faster company than we were last year since W. & J., and Villa Nova have been added to the class. But explicit confidence in our representatives goes a great way toward winning.

Yes it has resurrected again. For months it has been a latent jewel but at last the proper man has come along and set it on foot once more. Why it was not reorganized long ago we cannot understand. There is enough material around at Bucknell to support a good band if the fellows would just keep together under a leader whose interests are devoted to musical lines. Such a leader we seem to have. Mr. Bentz is taking a great interest in the band and is deserving of much credit for its reorganization. We may expect a few open air concerts this spring term yet and again see the interests in music revive that once pervaded the student body.

Well, our first inter-collegiate base ball game of the season on our own grounds has been played, and judging from the manner in which each man played his part we can feel assured that our team is thoroughly capable of holding its own against any team within our class. The financial question, however, falls far short of being satisfactory. There seems to be no reason why such a good game as this should not draw a crowd large enough to at least pay the guarantee, to say nothing of leaving a surplus. The fact that we have so few games here this year should be an inducement for every student to patronize them as liberally as possible. Sympathetic presence alone cannot help the athletic association to meet its debt. We cannot expect to keep up in our finances as long as our ticket sellers have to deal with many who come to see the games without money and without price.

Seniors 11; Freshmen 5.

On Monday night the Seniors and Freshmen met for the second time in the series of inter-class basket ball games. It was by far the most interesting game played thus far. Interesting because on the result depended a great deal of the Freshmen's chances for winning the cup. They having won from the Seniors in the previous game, went in for business, but in spite of all, the Seniors would not tolerate a second defeat by the first year men. Both teams played a hard, fast game, even approaching foot ball tactics at times.

At the end of the first half the score stood 4 to 3 in favor of the Freshmen but the Seniors took a better stand in the second and ran the score up to 11, allowing the opponents out one point.

The line up:

SENIORS		FRESHMEN
Theis	forward	Gill
Elliott	forward	Groff
Stanton	centre	Anderson
Davis	guard	Griffith
English	guard	Smith

Goals: Anderson, 1; Griffith, 1; Davis, 2; Theis, 1; Elliott, 1. Goals from fouls, Elliott, 2; Davis, 1; Anderson, 1. Umpire, McCormick. Referee, Vorse. Time of halves, 20 minutes.

Academy vs Central Pa., College.

The academy team defeated Central Pennsylvania College on the campus, Saturday afternoon. It was an interesting game and full of brilliant plays. Carringer was in the box for the Academy and Douglas behind the bat. The work of this battery was especially noticeable. Patchin played a nice game at centre field. For the visitors. Hoch, Cook and Shuffler perhaps did the best playing. A fairly good crowd witnessed the game.

The score by innings:

Central Pa. College 1 3 0 0 1 2 0 4 2—13
Bucknell Academy 8 3 0 0 1 1 2 1 *—16

THE PENNANT OURS

Relay Easily Won by Bucknell. Time. 3.33 2-5.

Saturday was a red letter day for Bucknell. Her athletes won handsomely in all the events they had on the schedule. To commemorate this a general jollification was held in the evening. Headed by the University Band, a parade formed at the labratory at 9:30 and marched through the town giving vent to the general good feeling and gratitude toward the defenders of the orange and blue. After the parade, a large bonfire was started on the athletic field and a hundred or more antics performed around it.

But what was the cause of this? It was all just because the baseball team had severely drubbed Lehigh and more especially because the relay team had kicked the dust in the faces of five other college teams.

The confidence placed in the relay team was not betrayed for the fellows certainly did run a noble race, as the time indicates. In spite of the fact that they had sixth place and the farthest distance to cover they still won out in fine style.

A strong wind was blowing over the athletic field the entire day. Yet it was as fair for one as for the other and with this against them our team succeeded in lowering last year's record by 9 seconds and came out with the third best time of the day.

When the colleges of our class, Bucknell, State, Dickinson, Villa Nova, Carlisle Indians and Washington and Jefferson were called for, a generous applause went up. People of the sporting world recognized in these teams some fast men and were not disappointed in their expectations of seeing a fast race for the honor of their respective colleges.

When the order came to "toe the mark," the fact that Bucknell had sixth place didn't matter; it was alright with Goodal. The first quarter was evenly matched until near the last 100 yards when Goodall of Bucknell and Cummings, of State shot out of ranks and engaged in a battle royal for first place. Although Cummings had the pole and Goodall the outside, our first relay man tied the veteran State sprinter. In the second relay Tiffany led his man over the tape by three yards and Marsh in his turn gained two yards more in the third relay. These were fine exhibitions of running and head work. But the greatest event perhaps was in the last relay.

As Marsh touched the waiting hand of Pearse, that emulator of his famous brother, was off on the race of his life. He was merely an apparation as he sprinted around the course in 51 2-5 seconds and generous was the applause when he crossed the line ten yards ahead of his nearest rival. The other colleges came in as follows: State, second; Dickinson, third; Villa Nova, fourth; Carlisle Indians, fifth; Washington and Jefferson, sixth.

Championship pennant was then presented to the wearers of the Orange and Blue. It will be on exhibition in the window at Dr. Heiser's drug store.

Lehigh Badly Beaten.

The hoodoo that has been following in the wake of the 'varsity base ball team since the opening of the season was broken with a vengeance on Saturday afternoon, when a most unmerciful beating was administered to Lehigh. Score 23 to 7. Starting from five successive defeats, Captain Milligan's men went at the wearers of the brown and white with a determination that would have won from any collegeteam. The home players had on their batting clothes and the way they went at Mr. Farabaugh was a caution. They had 22 hits with a total of 27 bases, most of which came when most needed. Ten of these bingles came in one inning, the fifth, when the spectators were treated to a clever exhibition of consecutive hitting and heady base running. In this inning Weidensaul, Smith and Teufel distinguished themselves by getting two hits each, the two former scoring twice each. Each Bucknell player got one hit or more during the game.

All the time that the orange and blue was straightening out Farabaugh's curves, Veil was making the boys from South Bethlehem pound the air. He had them at his mercy, registering 12 strike-outs and allowing but 6 hits, three of which were of the scratch order.

It was evidently an off-day for the visitors, for, aside from their inability to hit, they could not field the ball; and they obligingly sandwiched their errors between Bucknell's hits. A redeeming feature of their playing was the work of Lilley behind the bat and a sensational one-handed catch of Davinson of a fly ball which he had misjudged. The entire Bucknell team played a steady, consistent game, which, if kept up, will win ninety per cent of the games yet to be played.

To tell how Bucknell made her runs would be tiresome indeed. The boys seemed to be ableto hit the ball almost at will and, scored as they pleased. Lehigh earned two of her seven runs. Veil eased up in the ninth and the visitors scored four of the unearned variety.

The score:

Fine Music For Commencement.

The Twelfth Regiment's crack band has been engaged to furnish the music for the 52nd commencement of Bucknell University, June 16, 17 and 18th.

Two twilight concerts will be given on the college campus on the first two days, beginning at six o'clock. Special music is being prepared for these concerts.

The band will constitute thirty-three men, under the leadership of Mr. Benj. A. Gaskins. They will arrive in Lewisburg June 16th and during their stay here will be quartered at the Cameron House.

This band is one of the leading military bands in the state and has a great reputation for playing live up-to-date music.

Baseball Coach.

Renewed interest in baseball was created last week by the appearance of a coach in the person of "Eddie" Lee, who has played on various minor league teams and on some of the best independent nines in this and adjoining states. Even though the 'varsity had lost five games in succession, everybody was willing to admit that the material for a team here was never better; that the only thing that the players lacked was "ginger" and team work. The services of Mr. Lee were secured with a view of instructing them in their weak points, and that the management was justified is shown by the improved form of the team in the few days that Coach Lee has had charge. There is no reason why Bucknell should not have a winning team from now on. If the work of the players so far is to be taken as a criterion, the institution was never represented by a better battting team, and the nine can field well on good grounds.

Field and Track Schedule.

Manager Walkinshaw announces the following schedule for the track team.

May 10.....Inter Class Meet.
May 17.....Dickinson at Carlisle.
May 24 Carlisle Indians at Lewisburg.

Bucknell has a fast lot of men for the turf this year. The fact was demonstated at Philadelphia on Saturday. There is no reason why we should not win both of these college dual meets. Let every one come out for training.

Track Subscriptions.

The track management wishes to thank those who have paid their subscriptions and request that all those who have subscribed to try to see the manager as soon as possible. After such noble work on Saturday the department surely is deserving of support.

The Fourth Year Soiree.

On last Saturday evening the final social event of the season was held at the Seminary by the class of 1903 of the Institute. This event was what has always been known as the "Soiree" and it may be truthfully said that this evening party was a delightful one in every respect.

The programme on this occassion was made up of two parts. The first was a varied one, consisting of music and the reading of essays, which showed much preparation.

The guests who began to arrive at about quarter to eight o'clock were met in the reception hall by two young ladies who directed them to the cloak rooms, whence they passed up stairs where again they were greeted by two young ladies in evening dress. At this point the guests were presented with folded programmes, which were both unique and neat in appearance. Then the guests were ushered into the Seminary chapel, where the first part of the programme was rendered.

In the chapel the guests found themselves in a room filled with the sweet aroma of flowers and salubrious extracts. The platform on which the members of the class of 1903 were to sit was hedged in with palms and flowers. From the corners of the ceiling to a point above and in front of the platform large streamers of the class bunting, orange and white, were to be seen hanging in a graceful way.

At eight o'clock Miss Aiken began to play the Danish March, when the faculty of the Institute, headed by Dr. Harris, Dr. Aviragnet and Miss Stanton ushered in the six members of the class—Misses Mary Seaman, Mary Campbell, Theora Campbell, Louise Mattis, Sarah Mitman and Helen Houghton.

The programme which then followed was:

Our Royal German Visitor, Mary Seaman; Vision of Sir Launfal, Mary Campbell; The Typical Indian in Art and Poetry, Theora Campbell; To an Indian Lodge, To a Wild Rose, (MacDowell,) Miss Davis; Ivanhoe—A Picture of the Times, Louise Mattis; The Service of Sanitary Science, Sarah Mitman; The Rose Song, (Kroger,) Miss Bacon; Silas Marner's Blessing, Helen Houghton; Kamenoi Ostrow, (Rubenstein,) Miss Florin.

Miss Aiken again played a march when the Misses Davis and Church ushered the young ladies of the class into the parlor.

The guests now left the chapel and were received in the parlor by Miss Stanton and the members of the class. This makes the second part of the programme. Here a most delightful reception was held. The parlor was beautifully decorated with large and massive palms and fragrant flowers.

To congratulate any one in particular upon the success of the entertainment would be unjust, for all concerned deserve an equal commendation. To all who were present, to say the least, it was an evening well spent and one in which "bliss and hospitality were well known guests."

For some reason or other there has been of late a gradual lack of interest taken in our literary societies. Not only has the general attendance been extremely poor in proportion to the size of the student body, but it seems even those who generally attend succeed in making it necessary to absent themselves the very evening their name appears on the programme. We acknowledge that there may by occasions when such absences are unavoidable, but the old practice of procuring a substitute should not be abolished.

Very few are they who fully realize the value of the training that can be obtained by doing active work in these societies. It has been said by many of our literary society men that the training gotten in these societies in one year is of far more practical value to a person than any one study offered in a college curriculum. It should be remembered that if a person wishes to make a success in life he must not only have the knowledge of the subjects of his profession, but in addition he must always be able and willing to express this knowledge clearly, agreeably and forcibly. True, all men will not be required or expected to make public addresses, and for this reason many students may think that this literary work will never be of any benefit to them. But on the other hand the public will surely favor the college graduate who is able to express himself before an audience.

The class basketball games are all played and the championship decided. The Seniors won the cup. The Seniors, Sophomores and Freshmen were to play off the tie. The first game in playing off was won from the Freshmen by the Seniors and the Sophomores forfeited their chances, leaving the Seniors the winners.

Prof. J. C. Carey, '95, is concluding his first year as principal of the Danville High School. He has accepted the invitation to play as the Alumni base ball nine, next commencement.

The Reformed congregation will worship in Bucknell hall until their new edifice is completed. The first service was held there on Sunday morning.

Prof. Warren Marts, '94, Vice Principal of Perkiomen Seminary, has been elected Principal of South Jersey Institute, Bridgeton, N. J.

Major G. G. Groff was in Washington, D. C., last week reading a paper before the American Social Science Association. The Washington papers speak of his paper as one of the most interesting before the Association this year.

Students who attend ball games should not allow their enthusiasm to run away with their common sense. Rooting for the home team does not consist in "roasting" the opposing players. This sort of conduct does not help our own players, but gives Bucknell a bad reputation among other colleges. Some of the remarks made during the Lehigh game were anything but courteous to the visitors, and should have resulted in the ejectment of the persons who were responsible for them. Fortunately such conduct is confined to a few, who care neither for their own reputation nor that of the institution.

Literary Societies.

THETA ALPHA.

The regular literary program was not rendered on Friday evening because there was not a sufficient number of the members present. Instead of the program the members present conducted a parliamentary drill, which was very much enjoyed.

EUEPIA.

Although the attendance was small nearly all the members whose names were on the program appeared at the meeting on Friday evening.

In the absence of the secretary, Hayes, '04, was appointed secretary pro tem. The following program was then rendered. Current events by Bostwick, '05. The speaker had his material well arranged and covered the week's happenings in a pleasing manner. Livezey, '04, then read an essay, which was appreciated by all. The debate followed. The question discussed was: Resolved, That a nation advanced in civilization, is justified in the interests of humanity at large in enforcing its authority over an inferior people. The speakers on the affirmative were: Shaw, '05, and Reilly, '02; on the negative; Robinson, '04, and Bartholomew, '03. The question was very well discussed and in a way that was pleasing to all present.

The manager of the base ball team will put a subscription paper in circulation this week in order to raise funds for that department of sport. Every student knows without being told that it is his duty to respond to this call as he can. He should not expect a winning team of any kind unless he gives it his support. It costs money to equip a team and keep it in the field. Baseball is not self-supporting at Bucknell and cannot be made so under the existing conditions; hence the necessity of a large subscription. In addition to the usual expense this year, the services of a coach are to be paid for. Give what financial assistance you can.

ANOTHER VICTORY.

Gettysburg Loses to Bucknell in the Fastest Game of the Season.

That coach Lee now has the team down to clock work system was shown to the spectators on Friday. The strong aggregation from Gettysburg, who had defeated Franklin and Marshall the previous day came here with full intention of dangling another scalp from their belt. But Capt. Milligan's men were not to be abused for that purpose. Every one present felt that it would be a fine exhibition of ball playing after they saw the preliminary, and they were not mistaken.

Shortly after four o'clock Umpire Griffin called the game. Grimminger was the first one to pose at the plate for Bucknell. When he was given a ball to his liking landed it across the cinder walk for a home run. It was one of the plays of the game that set the fans wild. McCormick singled and advanced to second but was caught at third. The next two men were out at first. In Gettysburg's half, White walked and stole second. Bingaman hit safe to left and brought in the run, tying the score, but was himself caught napping at first. The other men were out on flies.

No more scoring was done till in the fourth. White for Gettysburg repeated "Jimmie's" stunt in the first and made a very nice hit across the walk for a home run.

In the eighth the baloon ascended. McCormick made a phenomonal drive across the rail road for a three bagger. Milligan hit safe and "Mac" came home. Weidensaul made a base hit and Cockill brought both runs in with his two bagger. This ended the scoring.

A great deal of credit is due to Veil's pitching. In the ninth with a Gettysburg man on second and one on third he struck out the last man. So wild were the college fans over the event that they rushed to the field and carried him off with enthusiastic yells.

Gettysburg's outfield is certainly fast. Many fine plays were made especially by centre fielder. The local enthusiasts were undoubtedly treated to the finest game of baseball this season. The only thing that marred the exhibition was the continual kicking of Gettysburg. This is sometime justifiable but if prolonged, grows monotonous.

Lock Haven Too Easy.

Captain Milligan's braves journeyed to Lock Haven on Saturday and administered a severe whipping to "Prof." George Ritter's Normal School team. Score 27 to 4. The Clinton county institution turns out some good athletes occasionally and the most sanguine never dreamed that the collegians would win a victory so easily. The home team was so far outclassed that the game was not interesting after the first inning. At second base for the Normal School was another Bucknell graduate who has assumed the dignified title of "Professor"—"Ben" Griffith. In the few chances that he had, Ben demonstrated that he has not forgotten how to play the game and his work at the bat was the one redeeming feature of the home team's playing. He came to bat five times and each time he reached first base, twice on hits, twice on errors and once on called balls. He scored two of the four runs made by his side. In the field he had three chances, two of which he accepted cleanly. Another player who did well for Lock Haven was McNeal, who once play with Dickinson.

Bucknell was without the services of Stanton and Tuefel, but their places were filled creditably by Deats and Veil respectively. The former showed up remarkably well behind the bat accepting thirteen chances. A passed ball and a muff of a difficult third strike were his only mistakes. At bat he had two hits in five times up.

The orange and blue won because she hit the ball almost when she pleased and owing to the inability of Lock Haven to bat either Jaekel or Epler. The German battery—Jaekel and Deats—were at the points for five innings and during that time the best the Normal School boys could do was four hits and four runs, but one of the latter being earned. Ten men fanned the air. Epler was given a chance during the last four innings and did well, allowing the home team but two hits, neither of which resulted in anything. He also struck out five men.

In the batting line the stars were McCormick, who had two singles, a triple and a home run; Weidensaul, who had three singles and a double; Grimminger, who had four singles; Cockill, who had four singles and a double; Veil, who had a single and a home run. Veil and McCormick each put one over the fence, and the latter hit one that struck the fence on the line, bounced back, and was fielded to second in time to hold the runner on first.

The Reserves Victorious.

The Bucknell reserves still have an average of 1000. They added another victory to their list on Saturday by defeating Sunbury in a close and interesting game.

The score at the end of the seventh inning was tie. But in the eighth, two additional runs put the reserves out of danger. Taylor pitched his usual nice game having thirteen strikeouts. Johnson was behind the bat for the first time this season. Culp had good control and fooled twelve of our men at the home plate. Both teams played very fast ball.

Academy Defeated

The Academy team was at the mercy of Susquehanna Reserves on Saturday. This was especially so in the first inning. But yet the boys deserve credit for holding the team down as well as they did. During the past few weeks much work has been done on the campus in order that it may present a more pleasing and attractive appearance. Besides the usual routine of work of raking and taking off the leaves, additional work in grading, building a drive way and the planting of trees has been done.

The grading and drive way near the gymnasium will add much to the appearance of the campus. This part of the grounds has heretofore been somewhat neglected. By its nearness to the street and railway this is one of the most conspicuous parts of the campus and the improvement of it will add much to that part seen by those passing by. The work being done between the main college building and the street in the way of establishing a uniform grade is also such as will help to improve the surroundings.

Then, too, the trees on the campus are being carefully looked after. The small ones which were planted last season and failed to grow as well as the defective ones, are being replaced by others. The vacant spaces on the hill are also being filled up with small trees, in order to make the grove more dense.

While the work along the lines indicated is not extensive, and it is not the intention to give to the campus an artificial appearance, it is of such a nature as to improve the rough places and thereby add to the appearance of the whole.

At all the ball games on the home ground the management is much annoyed by certain classes of persons.

There are three classes of these characters. First there is a crowd of boys who are a source of annoyance to the spectators as well as to the athletic management. These chaps locate themselves about the diamond where they often interfere with the game and when they are asked to keep back they feel that their dignity is offended and often they refuse to move. This annoyance would be more tolerable were it not that these boys do not pay any admission to the game.

The second class is the delegation that lines up along the railroad.

The third class is composed of students. At every game a number of students are upon the ground and refuse to purchase a ticket, generally excusing themselves by saying that they are going away in a few minutes. But they generally forget to go away until the beginning of the tenth inning.

For the youngsters, there ought to be a policeman to keep them away from the ground. Boys are boys and like to see a baseball game but they ought not be allowed to occupy reserved seats. They should at least be kept beyond the walk that leads to the gymnasium. The only remedy for the second class seems to be a canvas and this would be some interference to the game. If by some means these persons could be persuaded to purchase tickets it would mean quite an item to the association.

As to the student, every student knows that it requires heavy guarantees to bring good teams to Lewisburg and that there is no financial profit in home games. Every student ought to have enough college loyalty to prevent him from trying to cheat the association out of the price of admission to the games. If any one cannot afford to attend the games he would show more manliness by being honorably absent than otherwise present. These annoyances should be removed and whatever method the management takes to remedy matters will have the support of the student body.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

The Y. M. C. A. presidents from the various schools and colleges met in convention at Franklin and Marshall, Lancaster, last week. The convention lasted from Thursday until Sunday evening, April 24-27.

The meetings were very interesting and instructive. Nearly every phase of work in connection with the Y. M. C. A. was taken up and discussed. The speakers were well informed as to the needs of students. These speakers were: Williams, Secretary of New York State, Rugh, of Ohio, Evans, of the University of Pennsylvania, Bard, Miller and Harvey of our own state. The delegates were entertained royally by the Franklin and Marshall boys, who are worthy of much credit for the excellent treatment given their visitors.

Two of the speakers Miller and Harvey will have charge of the meeting at Bucknell to-night (Tuesday.) Good addresses are anticipated. All are invited.

The Lehigh Game.

Veil's masterly pitching allowing but two hits was the chief cause of Lehigh's defeat. Only these two balls went out of the diamond. His fielding was also fine. Milligan and McCormick also played in fine form, the former having 3 hits and accepted 13 chances.

THE FORDHAM GAME.

The first game of the trip was played at Fordham college, N. Y. After defeating Cornell they expected an easy thing of Bucknell but were disappointed. Only Bucknell's costly errors lost the game. The score should have been 4-2 in Bucknell's favor. Two errors in the fourth inning allowed Fordham four runs. The features of the game were: Veil's pitching and the fielding of Cockill and Teufel.

THE MANHATTAN GAME.

In the game with Manhattan College on Friday Bucknell fell victim to the umpire, Mr. McPhillips, who is a pitcher on the team. The game was simply handed to the New York players by their fellow-student and coworker. This claim of "robbed by the umpire" is not made without justification or as an excuse for poor work, for Bucknell played all around the Manhatanites, and had the game won fairly.

It is the boast of Manhattan that she has not lost a game on her own grounds in four years, defeating annually such teams as Villa Nova, Holy Cross, and others. This year her pride was raised a notch higher by defeating Yale. Little wonder it is then that the player-umpire, McPhillips, refused to allow Bucknell to spoil their fine record.

In spite of the unfairness of McPhillips, the visitors succeeded in holding the score in seven innings to 7 to 6 in favor of Manhattan. And in the eighth they "opened up" on pitcher Kerin when the smoke cleared away it was found that Bucknell had scored 6 runs and was leading Manhattan by a score of 12 to 7. It was here that the umpire came to the rescue of Manhattan. Kerin, the first man up in the home team's half of the eighth inning, hit a foul several feet outside the left field foul line. In attempting to get it Teufel fell down and hurt himself so badly that he was unable to get up and go after the ball. Kerin made his way around the bases and as he rounded third base, McPhillips declared the hit fair. Mullins, the next batter, got a scratch hit, and in his attempt to steal second was caught five feet off the base, Stanton to Weidensaul, but the umpire said "safe." With this captain Milligan refused to continue the game unless a change of umpires was made and at the expiration of two minutes McPhillips gave the game to Manhattan 9 to 0. It was the only logical course for the captain to pursue for Bucknell could scarcely have won with such umpiring.

After the game many unprejudiced persons gathered around the Bucknell players, congratulated them on their work and said they did the proper thing when they left the field.

The feature of the game was the batting of Bucknell. The best individual stick work was done by Weidensau who had three singles and a triple; Stanton, who had two doubles and a single; McCormick, who had a single and a home run and Smith, who had a triple and a single. Smith played well in the field, and Jaekel pitched an excellent game, Manhattan getting but three earned runs.

Dr. Whitman's Lectures.

On last Monday afternoon and Tuesday forenoon the students were addressed by Dr. Whitman. Three lectures were given, which were a rare treat to all. Dr. Whitman's manner is pleasing and he captivates his audience from the beginning. The student's appreciation of him was shown by the large attendance and the rousing cheers given him at the close of the course. We hope to have the privilege of having Dr. Whitman with us many times in the future.

The subject of the first lecture was "Giving the Spiritual the Right of Way." It is legitimate that we appreciate the surrounding beauty, which greets us. Honoring the physical as the agent of the spiritual.

If we are free from appetites and desires, we do not grow strong, but the man is made strong by overcoming these appetites and desires and life itself becomes the stronger on account of them.

If we build strong this life within, this spiritual life, we are building a life that cannot be interfered with. The life within is the one which settles the great questions. The body is simply the home of the soul. As the soul is, so is the meaning of that which the soul looks upon.

We ourselves make a success or failure It does not depend upon circumstances. We should make the most of self and live trying to fill God's purpose in us. We are impressed and stimulated by lives whose personality touch and thrill us. Such lives make up the greatness of a nation. Personality, manhood, womanhood, life, is that which counts.

The subject of the second lecture was "Duty." The hardest place in which to live up to high ideas is where it is one's business to do so. In college where it is one's duty to live up to high ideas, one grows indifferent. Our business in college is that of the ideal, but evil exists as well as elsewhere.

In duty lies power. The power that follows duty is the greatest power that can be obtained. It consists in using one's life where it counts for most.

In duty lies beauty. Burdens help one to grow beautiful. They are the forms which duty sometimes takes.

In duty lies the secret of attainment. If we do what it is our duty to do, we shall attain the end sought. The man who does his duty attains what he needs or may desire.

The subject of the last lecture was, "Providence." The elements of chance make one feel that he is helpless and that things will happen nature's way just the same.

By learning to yeild and not resist nature's way will not seem to be simply elements of chance. Our success is likely to vary according to our skill in adjusting our way to nature's. By doing our task gladly we become wise to nature's ways by a change of purpose.

Jesse Donald Evans.

Jesse Donald Evans, class of 1900, died at the home of his parents in Mahanoy City on Friday morning last. He was stricken with cerebral meningitis on Sunday two weeks ago in Washington, D. C., where he was employed as an enumerator in the Census Department.

On Saturday a week ago, by advice of his physicians, he started for home and was met in Philadelphia by a relative, but before reaching Mahanoy City was seized with delerium on the train. Although there were lucid intervals, each recurring attack of delerium became worse until he finally succumbed. The Record, published at his home says:

"The deceased was born in Mahanoy City, September 7, 1879. He was graduated from the borough school in June of 1896. In September he matriculated at Bucknell University, graduating from that institution with the class of '00. He was a prominent member of the "Sigma Alpha Epsilon" fraternity and was the editor of the College News during his senior year. He was a bright and spicy writer and did reportorial work on the Record. While at Washington he attended the lectures at the Columbian Law School by night and had he lived would have graduated in his chosen profession in June of 1903. He was a young man of high scholastic attainments and brilliant promise, but he made the mistake of applying himself too closely to study, overtaxing his brain and bringing on the attack which cut short his career at the threshold of his success."

The members of the Faculty and all students who knew him will endorse these words of his friends and sorrow greatly at his departure just when the goal, for which he had worked so long and well, was in sight. His funeral to-day at Mahanoy City and burial at Tamaqua were attended by his fraternity brothers Leroy Butler, J. E. Heidenreich, O. J. McNitt and Harold Perrine, and by Registrar Gretzinger representing the University.

Rev. William Morris, of Wales, who is visiting the United States to study its institutions, will lecture in Bucknell Hall on Thursday evening next, at 8 o'clock. Mr. Morris has been pastor of one church for thirty-three years, taking it as a feeble mission upon his graduation from the Theological Seminary and developing it into one of the largest churches in Wales with a meeting house having a seating capacity of over two thousand.

There will be two games played on the home ground this week. Let everybody turn out, your support is needed. Cheer for the team it encourages the players and spectators like to hear good cheering. Cheer good plays of the opposing teams, it shows good spirit and will be appreciated by the visitors. Visiting teams are composed of gentlemen and they enjoy kind treatment. Those not familar with the rules of the game should not criticise the umpire and players, it will expose their ignorance of the plays.

The Bucknell baseball team last week played Fordham, Manhattan and Lehigh on foreign grounds and although two of the three games were lost it was demonstrated that the orange and blue has one of the best college teams in the field. In the three contests Bucknell outbatted her opponents and with a fair share of that element known as luck, would have returned home with three scalps dangling to her belt instead of one. The game with Manhattan was practically won by Captain Milligan's men, but since it was declared forfeited to the home team it must count as a defeat against Bucknell. The Pennsylvanians opened the eyes of the New Yorkers in the quality of ball they put up against Fordham and Manhattan, two of the strongest college teams in the country. The Fordham supporters claimed that Bucknell is superior to Cornell or any other team that has appeared on Fordham field this year.

The Juniors won the interclass Mirror cup on Saturday. The points were divided among the classes as follows: Seniors 27, Juniors 54, Sophomores 24, Freshmen 36.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

Instead of the regular Y. M. C. A. meeting on Tuesday evening there was a students mass meeting in Bucknell Hall. Dr. Harris presided. The chief speakers were C. W. Harvey, '00, state field secretary and W. J. Miller, Jr., state student secretary. The subject was, foreign missions and their needs. Prof. Hamblin will lead the meeting tomorrow evening. All are invited.

The guests at the Institute Friday evening were Misses Wilson, Callender and Fiske.

Miss Sara Barber will favor the aluminae meeting Tuesday evening with some selections.

Institute Elocution Contest.

The delicate odor of the lilac bloom greeted us as we entered the Hall Saturday evening and were shown seats by one of the bevy of the ushers from the Institute. The stage was very simply and tastefully decorated with screens and large jars of lilacs. The young ladies appeared very much composed as they took their places on the stage and rendered their selections with much credit. The selections were all classic and quite difficult and very well chosen to suit the purposes of a contest. This fact is too often disregarded in choosing selections for a contest. The very large audience seemed well pleased with the contestants. We append the program. Military March, Misses Florine and Hoover; Invocation; Music by the Institute Mandolin and Guitar Club; Lilly Servosse's Ride, Martha Myers; Execution of Lady De Winter, Lucy Wolfe; Violin Solo, Mr. Hillard; Brita's Wedding, Edna Loeb; The Story of Genevera, Esther Lenore Lydic; The Death of Steerforth, Emma Alder Nesbit; Vocal Solo, Miss Pross; The Boat Race, Irene Emma Barton.

BUCKNELL OUTCLASSES DICKINSON.

The Orange and Blue too Fast for the Red and White.

All of Bucknell's sympathizers were amazed when the report came in Saturday evening that the track team had won from Dickinson by a margin of fifty-six points. Of course they expected a victory but anything so decisive was never thought of. It is of special interest to note that the opponents did not take a first place in any event while Bucknell took thirteen firsts and five seconds.

Glaspey, Marsh, Goodall and Elliott certainly did fine running in the track events as the summary shows, Gillis, McMahon and Pearse were champions of the field. Gillis put the 16 pound shot 39 ft. but in doing so his toe barely crossed the circle and the judges declared it a foul.

The boys who brought back the beautiful Red and White pennant are loud in their praises of the good treatment shown them. The starter was especially fair in getting the men off. Altogether it was a very successful day and the result goes to show the team up on a nearly equal ground with Indians whom we meet on the home grounds next Saturday.

Summary.

First place counts five points second place, three points.

100 yard dash, won by Pearse, Bucknell; second, Tiffany, Bucknell. Time 10 2-5 seconds.

By an Amendment to the Medical Practice Act, passed in March of this year by the Legislature of New York, recognition will be given in that state to the Medical Preparatory work in literary colleges not having medical departments.

The Dickinson Game.

In the game on Wednesday afternoon, the strong Dickinson team found Epler a hard proposition to solve while he was on the slab for Bucknell. It was the first entire game the south paw had pitched and the way he handled the ball completely obliterates the memory of that windy day at F. and M. But he also had excellent support from the whole team. The fellows perhaps never worked in better harmony and with one exception, used better headwork. Although coach Lee has gone, his spirit lives after him.

"Grimmy" put up a nice game at third, accepting eight out of nine chances. The one he refused was a grounder from the Indian and in fact too hot to be handled except with asbestos gloves. Smith at short put up a nice game. In the sixth he figured in a nice double play to second to first. But to comment further is mere repetition. Both the infield and out field put up as a nice game as one would care to see.

For the visitors, "Teddy" Carlin, when he knocked his three bagger, showed the Bucknellites that he had not forgotten how to bat since he left our team. Bender, their swarthy aboriginal pitcher, started in with an almost invisible ball. But Powell found trouble in holding him so the speed was cut down and the Bender bent them with wonderful agility. Dickinson's out field was especially sure and covered ground like the wind. The rooting was done in a gentlemanly manner.

The line up:

"Junior Ex."

On Friday evening the brilliant rays streamed from the open windows of Bucknell Hall; merry voices were heard about the campus as darkness settled among the oaks and the balmy evening welcomed the harbinger of the mirthful commencement season. Students thrust aside their books and town folks their cares to gather in that place where for years they have assembled to witness the contest of the chosen few of the Juniors. The front of the Hall was decorated with beautiful screens and fragrant flowers and 1903 pennants of scarlet and steel gray adorned the walls. The room was filled to its utmost capacity when at 7:45 to the "Triumphant March" played by Miss Hoover and Florin, the participants led by Dr. Perrine and Prof. Morris marched to their place in the front of the room. The exercises were interesting and instructive and well rendered. Every number is worthy of mention but space forbids individual comment. Following is the program:

"Triumphant March Bierman Misses Hoover and Florin,

Track Team to Be Recognized.

At a meeting of the Athletic Advisory Board last Wednesday evening, a resolution was adopted permitting the track men to wear their B on a jersey as in the other branches of athletics. The conditions by which a man may be eligible to wear it and as follows: Anyone taking second place may wear a cap with the monogram B. T. T.

Those who take first and second places may wear both cap and jersey. The men who ran on the relay team are considered as having won a first place. Sub on the relay team is entitled to second place.

This is an expedient resolution and places the track men on an equality with the other departments of athletics.

Gallaudet Defeated.

Something new and novel in the line of base ball was shown the people of Lewisburg and the college last Saturday. The novelty was the deaf mute baseball team of Gallaudet School for Deaf Mutes, Washington, D. C. Handicapped as they were by not having the power of speech, they were able to put up a very nice game of base ball. The reason for their defeat was that they were simply in too fast company.

Many were the murmers of sympathy that went up over the bank when they would resort to jesture language in the dispute of some point. It was an odd contrast to some other teams. But they were gentlemanly and played their game well, especially certain individual players.

Their batting was considerably better than most other teams that have played here. But the hits failed to come at just the right time, and consequently they had several men left on bases.

Rosson pitched a nice game and Waters in left field accepted seven out of eight chances. The infield, however, was not so good, and lost many opportunities through errors.

Bucknell on the other hand was at her best. Only one error was made during the game. Her batting was simply fine, and for all around team work would be hard to excel. Veil pitched his usual game, and the following line up speaks for the other players:

On Saturday the field and track men again demonstrated their ability as athletes. The opinion of Bucknell's supporters seemed to be that Bucknell would defeat Dickinson, yet the fact that Bucknell took away all the first places and five of the second was rather unexpected, but a pleasing surprise.

Two other meets have been arranged. One with the Carlisle Indians and the other with Lafayette both to be held on Bucknell's field. The one with the Indians will be held on next Saturday, May 24, and, judging from comparative scores, will be an interesting and close contest. The two meets which Bucknell has had with the Indians have been close scores, one resulting in a tie and the other won by Bucknell by two points. This year Bucknell has the strongest team she has ever had and Coach Warner is also much pleased with the work of the Indians, so, a fine contest can be expected.

On account of the heavy expenses an admission of thirty-five cents will be charged. Let every one turn out and cheer the team to victory. Every one should help to support a team which is doing such excellent work.

In a previous issue mention was made of the improvements made on the campus. But it is to be regretted that while some parts are being improved other parts are abused. It has been noticed that every day a crowd of boys collect and play ball on the lawn at the foot of the hill, while the space across the track from them, set apart for athletic purposes, is vacant. By this constant playing the grass on this particular part of the campus is greatly abused and in places entirely destroyed, and if it is intended to be a lawn, it would look better without being thus used. We do not wish to convey the idea that the boys should not play ball, but think that it would be just as well for the boys and better for the grass if they were to use the athletic field.

This is the term above all others when the student finds difficulty in applying his mind to his books and indoor work. We find this especially hard midst surroundings so beautiful and enticing as those at Bucknell.

One can find interesting employment by observing nature on the campus to say nothing of the many beautiful walks and places of interest in the surrounding country. Many times perhaps we take advantage of these opportunities to the seeming neglect of our regular work. But whether we neglect our real duty by so doing, all will not agree. Surely, the student who confines himself to his room and and does not go out and learn to appreciate the beauty of nature is not getting the most out of his course. While it is essential that we do our classroom work, it is also essential that we learn to know something of the surrounding life.

We cannot call a man educated in the highest sense of the word who does not have at least an intelligent knowledge of that which surrounds him on every side. After devoting a part of each day to such outdoor recreation, the student will be able to enter upon those duties, which must be performed in the study, with a greater zeal and perform his tasks more cheerfully than if he is constantly confined to them.

Reserves again Victorious.

The Reserves, confident of victory, journeyed to Northumberland on Saturday and realized their ambitions. Northumberland's crack team proved an easy proposition for captain Barrett's men who were not regulars, only volunteers.

Taylor again distinguished himself by striking out eleven men. The game was full of interesting plays, on both sides.

VOL. VI. LEWISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, MAY 27, 1902. No. 32

The Indians Scalped.

It is the unexpected that always happens. While all enthusiasts expected a very close meet with the Indians on Saturday, they were in this respect disappointed. But from the standpoint of excellence in athletic feats, no one would care to see a prettier exhibition. It was an ideal day and a large crowd, reveling on the umbrageous campus, gazed on the panorama of contending athletes.

During the contest four Bucknell records were broken, one by the red men and three by the white. Bradley for the Indians broke the 120 yard hurdle record by 3-10 of a second. Marsh broke Goodall's record in the 440 yard dash by 2-5 sec. Theiss overreached his former height in the pole vault by one inch, and McMahon threw the 16 pound hammer six feet ten inches beyond his former limit. At no time was Bucknell in any danger. They took the lead in the start and kept it throughout the contest. The final score was Bucknell, 75; Carlisle Indians, 29.

The summary:

The first place counts 5 points; second place 3 points.

100 yd. dash—won by Pearse, Bucknell; second, Tiffany, Bucknell. Time, 10 1-5 seconds.

120 yd. hurdle—won by Bradley, Carlisle; second, Glaspy, Bucknell. Time, 16¼ seconds.

440 yd. dash—won by Marsh, Bucknell; second, Goodall, Bucknell. Time, 53 1-5 seconds.

1 mile run—won by Hummingbird, Carlisle; second, Slifer, Bucknell. Time, 4.48 3-5.

220 yd. dash—won by Pearse, Bucknell; second, Tiffany, Bucknell. Time, 23 2-5 seconds.

Half-mile run—won by Marsh, Bucknell; second, Antell, Carlisle. Time, 2.10 4-5.

220 yd. hurdle—won by Glaspy, Bucknell; second, Charles, Carlisle. Time, 23 3-5 sec.

2 mile run—won by Hummingbird, Carlisle; second, Elliott, Bucknell. Time, 10.35.

Height, 10 ft. 4 in.

The Dickinson Game.

Superb pitching and gilt-edged fielding were too much for Dickinson at Carlisle on Friday and the Cumberland county boys went down before the orange and blue by the same score by which they were defeated here the week before—7 to 1. Two hits off Epler was the best the home team could do, making their total for the season off the south paw seven. Epler had benders and speed and fooled his opponents at all stages. During the game just 31 men faced him and of these but 6 got to first, 2 on hits, three on balls and one on being hit. But six hit balls went out of the infield.

Bender also pitched in fine form and there might have been a different story to tell had he received perfect support.

Epler's support could scarcely have been better. Stanton's excusable error, which let in Dickinson's only run, being the sole misplay. Perhaps the best individual work was done by Weidensaul and Grimminger. The former accepted ten chances clean, being mixed up in two fast double plays and making assists on balls that would be fair nine times out of ten. Grimminger was on the end of a fast double play, broke down a hit, caught a foul after a hard run, besides accepting two other chances. The whole team fielded in just this style also.

For five innings but one hit was made, that a three bagger by Cockill; but Bucknell took advantage of the home team's misplays and scored twice during that time. In the sixth Dively got Dickinson's first hit. Carlin got the other in the seventh.

Bucknell scored in the second on Teufel's life and Cockill's triple. Milligan's life, a sacrifice and an out netted another in the seventh.

The ballon ascended in the sixth, when four runs were made, although had Carlin not dropped Milligan's fly the side would have been retired without a tally. With two out Milligan got a life. Weidensaul singled. Smith doubled and Milligan and Weidensaul scored. Smith came home on Veil's hit. The latter made a clean steal of second and by fast sprinting and good head work scored on Cockill's infield single. Stanton foul-flied to Bender.

Spencer relieved Bender in the seventh, but did not stop Bucknell's run-getting. A single and two errors netted a run in this inning. Two men were caught at the plate.

Dickinson's sole tally came in the fifth as a result of Dively's single, a steal, a sacrifice and Stanton's error.

Teufel was not feeling well and retired in favor of Veil in the sixth.

Veil, academy, returned Thursday from Altoona where he spent several days visiting friends.

The Lafayette Game.

In the game against Lafayette at Easton on Saturday Bucknell showed a reversal of form from that displayed against Dickinson on Friday. The visitors played a listless game and at no time looked dangerous to the Eastonians. Bucknell has not played more poorly this season, while the work of Lafayette was gilt-edged. Barring his wildness Veil pitched a good game, but his support failed him at critical times.

Bucknell's poor showing is more likely attributable to her poor start than anything else. The visitors were first at bat and Grimminger drew a base on balls. McCormick followed with a double, on which Grimminger went to third. With second and third bases occupied and no one out, things looked rosy for Bucknell, but Milligan's pop fly and a fast double on what seemed a base hit, spoiled the chances of the visiting team. Bucknell seemed to hit the ball as hard as Lafayette, but could not get them safe.

The home team put up a fast and snappy game. Johnson did not fool one Bucknell batsman to the extent of a strike out, but his support was exceptionally good. The orange and blue was lucky to score, Brown's poor work on McCormick's single in the eighth allowing Grimminger to travel home from third, giving Captain Milligan's men their only tally.

The students of Bucknell as well as those of other institutions where Bucknell has played base ball, would do well to take some pointers from Lafayette in regard to rooting. Their yelling is strenuous, but no abuse is flung at the players of the opposing team, whose good plays are applauded almost as heartily as those of their own men. And in Saturday's game when Stanton was temporarily knocked out by a pitched ball, he was given a cheer when he resumed playing. It is indeed pleasant to encounter such rooting. The work of the umpire was very good.

Senior Reception.

The annual reception given by Dr. and Mrs. Harris last Tuesday evening to the Senior Class was truly one of the most pleasant social functions in the eventful history of the class. It was then that the college seniors clad in cap and gown, the senior students from the Institute and School of Music, the Institute faculty, all forgetful of the busy work of the class-room, joined in enjoying the proverbial hospitality of the President's home.

Soon after eight o'clock the guests began arriving and in a short time the capacious parlors were filled. In the hearty reception which each one received from Dr. and Mrs. Harris everyone felt doubly welcome. In the absence of all formality self was entirely forgotten and all entered fully into the spirit of the happy occasion. This seemed a fitting time for the renewal of old acquaintances and the forming of new ones. The merry groups in the parlors, the smiling faces and bright conversation showed that Nineteen Hundred Two has not become so ardently devoted to books as not to find keen pleasure in a "night off." Several of the ladies from the Institute lent an added charm to the evening's entertainment by rendering vocal and instrumental selections while for a part of the time all joined in singing familiar Bucknell songs.

At 10 o'clock the guests adjourned to the dining room where refreshments were served. All the rooms were tastefully decorated with works of art and spring flowers, while a dainty bouquet of violets graced each table. After doing ample justice to a tempting repast the evening's pleasures in the parlors were resumed, but ere long the hour for departure had arrived. The guests then said farewell to their hosts and retired feeling that another bright page had been made in the history of Nineteen Hundred Two.

Reserve's First Defeat.

The reserves journeyed to Shamokin on Saturday where they met their first defeat this year. The game was lost largely through errors and inability to do the hitting at just the proper time. Out of Bucknell's seven runs, four of them were earned while Shamokin earned but one out of the seventeen. It was a fast, snappy game with much enthusiastic rooting for the home team.

The score by innings:	H.	E.
Bucknell 0 1 3 0 0 0 2 0 1—7	6	9
Shamokin 0 0 2 0 6 8 0 1 *—17	10	5

Subscriptions are now due.

The Seniors have selected a very excellent play, "The Professor's Love Story," to be given on Tuesday morning of Commencement week.

Students who owe for tickets or who have not yet paid their subscription to the relay team or baseball, will kindly do so at once.

Owing to the present condition of the finances of the Athletic Association, the finance committee has decided to limit the free list for the balance of the season, only to newspapers in exchange for advertising.

It is with a feeling of regret that we again call attention to the misuse and destruction of the university property. Space does not admit of our detailing all incidents of the nature referred to, but permit us to mention a few instances that will make clear the meaning of the above statement. Recently, the marker at the tree planted by the class of 1901 was removed and no one has been able to advance any good reason for the action. Conduct of that kind is almost beneath notice, but suffice it to say that it does not require much bravery to misuse the property of a class when its members are not here to protect it.

When the workmen were about to complete the cement funnels at the entrance to the several surface drains some miscreants persisted in adding a specimen of their artistic ability on the undried cement. These improvements were designed to fulfil the demands of both beauty and utility and we dare say the inscriptions did not enhance either.

During the past week the plate glass in one of the chapel doors was broken. Now we are willing to make all due allowance for accidents but the facts in the case indicate that this deed was committed by some person or persons whose age and environment are such that they should be able to guard against accidents of this nature.

The lamp post in front of the Academy has also suffered at the hands of the gang. Everyone will frankly admit that our lamp posts are not the most artistic on the market and would not be suitable in the streets of Paris. But we are glad to say this is not Paris and the posts answer the purpose for the time being. The University will be at the expense of installing a new system of lighting in the near future and it is the duty of every one connected with the institution to encourage this idea by caring well for the present system. Kindly remember that the time is here when we desire the entire property to look as beautiful as possible and if any present appearance grates upon your aesthetic nature kindly petition the management and they will make such changes as are consistent with their means.

F. and M's. Hard Fall.

Perhaps one of the finest exhibitions of batting that has ever been seen at Bucknell, was put up by the home team against Franklin and Marshall last Thursday. The Bucknell boys seemed to bat at will and always made their hits at valuable times. Treichler, F. and M's. crack pitcher, was unable to check the numerous eruptions of hits that so often burst forth, while with their men there was simply "nothing doing" in that line.

Until the fifth inning the game was decidedly interesting, and one would have hesitated which team to pick for the winner. But in the sixth Bucknell took a brace and began their batting. With two men on bases Cockill made a long drive for a home run and brought in the other two. In the ninth he repeated the act of the sixth inning.

McCormick also had a home run, and brought in six runs in all. Weidensaul, Griminger and Jackel each put up a fine game, Jackel having eleven strike outs and allowing only two hits.

Mr. Newcomb at once began the organization of all the manufacturers, both east and west, outside of the American and Independent trusts. Recently he visited Muncie, Ind., the result of which was the information of the Federation Co-operative Window Glass Trust, which was incorporated at Trenton last week. Institute Items.

The Phi Beta Phis enjoyed a picnic to Blue Hill Saturday.

Misses Judd and Scott were guests at the Institute Friday evening.

Miss May Bidelspacher entertained her mother and brother last week.

The Bucknell College Girl's Mandolin and Guitar club, composed of nineteen young ladies under the leadership of Prof. Aviragnet, gave a most delightful concert as the ninth number on the Y. M. C. A., course, in the association hall last evening. The music was of a high order, while a vocal solo and recitations interspersed the programme with pleasing variety. From the Milton Evening Standard, May 14th.

Last Friday evening the Elocution class of Nineteen Hundred Two gave the graduate recital in the Institute chapel. A large and appreciative audience of invited guests assembled. The programme was well rendered to say the least and the music in itself was a rare treat. The success and talent of the performers not only speaks well for the girls but reflects credit on Miss Schillinger's ability as an elocutionist.

Both the young ladies were entirely unlike in their delivery, yet each in her line showed evidence of extraordinary ability. Miss Fike's rendition of her role was much appreciated especially the pantomine, while Miss Secrist succeeded in making the audience feel the effect of every word, especially the Cathedral Scene from Faust. The programme as rendered was as follows:

Duet Eyranthe, Ravina: Misses Aiken and Peck.

Mice at Play, Nell Forest: Culprit Fay, Joseph Rodeman Drake: Hazel Fike.

Scotch Poem, McDowell; Miss Aikin.

The Confessional, W. W. Story; Mrs. Bean's Courtship, Clara Augusta: Pantomime "The Bells," Muschikie; Hazel Fike.

How Ruby Played as told by "Jud Browning," Loy Secrist.

Vocal Solo, selected: Miss Pines.

Martin Relph, Robert Browing; Mark Twain and the Interviewer, Mark Twain: Loy Secrist.

Columbine Minuette, Derahaye: Miss Peck.

The Cathedral Scene from Faust, Goethe; Marriage of the Flowers, S. H. M. Byers; Loy Secrist.

Each Won One.

The 'Varsity base ball team played a double-header with the Harrisburg Athletic Club on the latter's grounds on Memorial Day, and broke even, Bucknell taking the morning game and Harrisburg the afternoon contest. Both games were loosely played and both were practically decided in the first inning. Bucknell fielded poorly in both games, and the victory was due to Jaekel's pitching and the batting of Captain Milligan's men. In the afternoon game Bucknell was up against Bender, the Indian, who was borrowed from Dickinson College, and aided by good support, the red man walked off with a scalp.

Hess, a star of the defunct State League, twirled for the home team in the morning contest and the visitors took his measure for 12 safe hits, with which the Harrisburg boys obligingly combined their errors. The best batting was done by McCormick, who had a single, a double, a triple, and a home run in five times up. It is the record for Island Park. Bucknell practically won the game in the first inning on two errors, Smith's sacrifice, two singles, a double and a triple. The home team was unable to solve Jaekel except in the third inning, when two bases on balls, an error, two singles and a double netted four runs. The other runs scored by the home team were the result of Bucknell's poor playing.

In the field Stanton and Griminger did the best work for Bucknell.

THE AFTERNOON GAME.

Bucknell's poor work in the field was responsible for the loss of the afternoon game, although Veil lacked in effectiveness. The home team scored six runs in the opening inning on three hits, two errors and a base on balls, and after that the game was never in doubt. Bender had all his speed and curves with him and was very effective when hits meant runs. The Indian also fielded his position in fine form.

The attendance at the afternoon game was about 1,500 and they seemed to enjoy the contest in spite of its one-sidedness. Smith, '05, whose home is in Harrisburg, was given a hand on each appearance at bat in both contests.

The Lafayette-Bucknell Meet.

On next Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, the Lafayette and Bucknell Track and Field Team will hold a meet on the college campus. The contest promises to be close and exciting.

The expense of holding this meet is quite considerable and in order to make ends meet the entire student body should give their hearty co-operation and aid the Finance Committee in every way to make the affair a success from the financial point of view. Besides there should be a large crowd of rooters on hand to cheer our team to victory—and above all it should be "rooting" and not "hooting." Let it be above all things and at all times said that Bucknell students maintain a high degree of courtesy and deportment, and on Wednesday, please remember that we are hosts and that Lafayette men are our guests, and that we should treat them as such.

Be on hand to cheer,—but be sure to get a ticket first.

Freshmen Victorious.

The freshmen team succeeded in gaining a very nice victory over New Columbia on Saturday. It was a nice game throughout but Whitaker's batting and fine fielding deserves special mention. Steinhilper, a new man, also deserves special mention. Buhl pitched a nice game having twelve strike outs. The score was 11 to 5 in favor of the freshmen.

The Price of Liberty.

The following is the outline of Mr. McCracken's oration on Memorial Day.

(1) The price that has been paid for liberty. Here a contrast was drawn between the condition of the human race a few centuries ago and that of to day, and mention was made of the great struggles which took place in the development.

(A) In the study of the subject of human development it is necessary to view the history of the world as a complete whole. Just as an architect sees his building as a completed structure and lays his plans and specifications accordingly, so the Great Architect of human character has perceived the perfected race and laid the plans and specifications. These are the great laws of nature. The man who would develop a noble character, or the nation that would attain true greatness must conform to these laws.

Just as the stones must be hewed to fit the building, so the principles must be discovered and developed to fit the structure of human character. Every war in the history of the world has been the conflict of two opposing principles, and every great victory has been the triumph of one. Thus to fix the place of any war it is necessary to view history as one completed whole.

(1) Magna Charta wrung from the hands of King John, the Bill of Rights, the Act of Settlement, the guarantee of the Writ of Habeas Corpus, all were the fruits of struggles for the principles of liberty and gave the foundation for constitutional government. All those struggles between the king and Parliament bore rich fruit and developed the spirit which afterward gave to the world the American Declaration of Independence.

(2) The American Civil War was needed to proclaim to the world that if all men are born equal they must be free. The world had not yet learned this great truth. Men and nations could then be found who were willing to apply the principles of freedom to themselves, and at the same time hold their fellow men in bondage. It took the great war of 1861 to make the principle general.

II The price that is being paid and must be paid in the future for human liberty.

(A) There are great questions arising daily that must be solved by our people.

(1) There is the great question of capitol and labor. This has baffled the wisdom of all our races.

(2) Our nation has taken her rightful place as a world power. Her citizens must determine her policy.

(3) There is the shipping trade, the isthmian canal and thousands of others that must be settled by our voters.

It becomes the imperative duty of all to study the public questions as they arise, settle them for ourselves and cast our ballots accordingly. The man who gives of his talents, time or wealth to educate the youth of our land is making a sacrifice for the principles of liberty.

(B) There is no reason to be discouraged in the matter, for there are great forces which may be used and are being used to educate our people.

(1) The family. This is the basis of our whole social system and is a mighty power for good or evil, as it is used.

(2) The schools. The principles of patriotism and good citizenship are being taught in our public schools, and men are being educated.

(3) The church. This is a mighty factor in the education of our youth.

(4) The State itself.

With all these we have no room for fear. Viewing history even for a short period we can not but see advancement. Thus it is clear that the race is making rapid progress in development.

III It is impossible to estimate the cost of liberty. The mind of man can not comprehend it. If you have suffered the hardships of the battlefield and army life, if you have lost a father, son or brother in the great conflict, you know what it has cost you. But you are a single individual and know only the cost of one principle. Multiply the principle by thousands and the individuals by millions and we fail to comprehend it. When the great structure of how a character has been completed, the Great Architect alone will know its cost.

Since there will be but two more numbers in this volume of the ORANGE AND BLUE, and the columns are likely to be crowded, it seems fit and proper at this time to make mention of the fact that Professor Stewart will soon sever his connections with the University. On June 14th he will leave on a European tour that will extend into September. On returning he will go to Colgate University at Hamilton, New York, as an instructor in the department of Latin; a position which he accepted recently.

He was graduated from Bucknell University in 1876, and after teaching a few years and serving several terms as County Superintendent in Delaware County, he came to the Academy as an instructor in 1888. Since then he has been directly affiliated with the University as an instructor, most of the time in the department of mathematics. His work as an instructor has reached a high standard of perfection and will speak for itself. The disposition he manifested toward his students both in the class room and out of it has always been that of a sincere friend. The students taking work in engineering will keenly feel the loss they sustain by his departure, because his work along that line was so thoroughly practical and whenever a difficulty presented itself he was always open to an approach in order to meet it. Because of his numerous duties, he has been unable to give much of his attention to the religious organizations of the University, but judging from his convictions and actions, we feel quite certain his interests have always been deeply centered in the spiritual welfare of every student. The high degree of popularity he has attained among the students will speak louder and live longer than anything we might write in this article, but to say that we deeply regret his withdrawal from our ranks, both as an instructor and friend, expresses our sentiments but mildly.

Professor Stewart has not belonged to the University alone. His influence for good has been felt in the town and throughout the county.

For many years he has had some share in the Sunday school work in the county as a helper in its Conventions and Institutes, and also as one of the county officers. Being an active worker as the superintendent of the school of his own church for a long time, he was fitted to help other schools by his counsel and experience, and did not refuse when called upon.

For the past five years he has been the presiding officer of the Lewisburg Sunday School Teachers' Association, which was held weekly meetings for the study of the current lesson, filling the place with honor to himself and profit to those attending the meetings. His absence from the town circle in which he was active will be keenly felt.

The ORANGE AND BLUE wishes him abundant success in his new field of labor.

The Reserve's Trip.

The reserves broke even at Lewistown. Friday's game was lost in the first inning when Lewistown scored seven runs on 4 hits 2 errors 2 base on balls 1 man hit by pitched ball, after this inning the boys settled down letting the home team score 1 in the second and one in ninth.

In the last eight innining Taylor allowed them 4 scattered hits. The reserves tied the score in the ninth but Lewistown coming to the bat won out on a three base hit and an error score.

FRIDAY'S GAME.

During Friday's game Taylor claimed that pitchers box was greater than the required distance but being unable to convince the home team of the fact on Saturday before opening the game he had the measurement taken which proved it to be six feet too much. This game opened much as did Friday, Lewistown scoring 10 runs first inning, 5 in third the boys settled down playing gilt edge ball both at field and bat tying score in sixth and winning out in next.

The 12th regiment band, which has been engaged to furnish music at Commencement, participated in the great Knight Templar parade at Scranton this week, and headed the famous Mary Commandery, of Philadelphia. A Popular Novel by a Bucknell Man.

From the press of the Fleming H. Revell Company comes a popular novel depicting life in the anthracite coal regions, by William F. Gibbons, Bucknell, '89.

This novel combines the conditions that compelled Jacob Riis to depict city slum life, and Ralph Connor portray his Rocky Mountian miners, and we have the problem with which Mr. Gibbons has wrestled as faithfully as either of those pioneers.

It is a startling, realistic and sympathetic story of that life whose poverty has its riches and whose brutality has its gentleness. Recklessness, wantonness, riotiousness and tragedy are a foil to a sweet humanity, heroic devotion and an unconscious humor.

Here are the grime, the sulphurous suffocation, the sinking earth, the burning breaker, and the crash below grown in the thick darkness. Here too, is human sympathy and self-denying love. This many-colored life made up of heterogeneous nationalities, Mr. Gibbons, out of his fifteen years experience, has depicted with insight and dramatic power. The motive is uplifting, the action constant and the story altogether absorbing.

ACADEMY vs. BLOOMRBURG.

Preps Defeat Their Rivals in the Annual Debate.

The Normal Auditorium at Bloomsburg was filled with a large and appreciative audience Saturday evening to hear the third annual debate between Bucknell Academy and Bloomsburg State Normal School. Chairman K. B. Abbert called the meeting to order promptly at 8.15 and announced the following program:

1. Piano solo—Miss Grace Housel.
2. Debate: question—Resolved that all trusts and general combinations tending to banish competition should be prohibited by law.

Affirmative—Miss Julia Smigelsky, F. Herman Fritz, David Spencer.

Negative—John Owens, Howard Griffith, Samuel J. Black.

3. Vocal solo—Miss Florence Stump.
4. Decision of judges.
5. Quartette.

The musical part of the program was excellent but all interest centered in the debate. The speakers all showed careful preparation and were at home on the stage. Miss Smigelsky was very strong in her first speech especially in delivery. Mr. Black in his second speech captured the audience by claiming that trusts originated when Noah had a monopoly of the circus business.

In a witty and entertaining speech Chairman Carter announced that the judges had unanimously decided that Bucknell had excelled in argument and arrangement, while both were equal in delivery, so the negative won.

The judges were Lewis B. Carter, Esq., of Scranton; Prof. Geo. Sterner, of Bloomsburg, and Prof. Edward Bell, of Lewisburg.

The Academy boys report a royal good time and the most generous and hospitable entertainment by their friends, the defeated.

Mrs. Katharine B. Larison will deliver an address at the luncheon to be given by the Institute Alumnae Club, at Commencement. During her stay here she will be the guest of Mrs. A. T. Loomis.

Senior Class Day Play.

The Senior Class will offer at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning, (June 17), of Commencement week, in the Lewisburg Opera House, "The Professor's Love Story" as their Class Day play for this year. The class plays have grown in favor very much during the past few years. Everybody who is acquainted with the exercises of the week looks forward with especial interest to the class play. The one to be given this year promises to out do all others. It is a late play and has met with the warmest welcome wherever given. It was played for many weeks in Chicago and New York. Many praises have been given in the press from these cities. The persons who will execute the play have good mastery of their parts and the brightest hopes are entertained for its complete success.

The tickets will be on sale for the general public at Baker's Drug Store on Market street. The board will be opened promptly at 10 o'clock a. m. Saturday, June 14th.

Persons living at a distance and desiring tickets can send their orders to J. W. Snyder, Box 477, Lewisburg, Pa., who will present them when the board is opened.

Admission 50 and 35 cents.

THE GETTYSBURG GAME.

Bucknell should have won the game with Gettysburg College on Friday. The visiting team had the game won and stowed away, only to lose it on stupid plays in the field and the wildness of the pitcher. Bucknell found no trouble hitting Plank and the big country lad may thank his infielders that he was not put out of the business. James and Rinard at second and short, respectively, played in a sensational manner, breaking down what would ordinarily have been safe hits; and these plays came at times when they were most valuable to the home team. Taylor pitched his first game for the 'Varsity and his wildness cost him the game, although at times he performed like a seasoned twirler. His wildness was no doubt due to nervousness, the crowd keeping up a continuous din from the first inning to the last. The work of the Bucknell fielders was decidedly off color. Their errors cost several runs.

Senior Banquet.

In the course of human events there are many pleasant and enjoyable occasions. So in one's college course.

On Thursday evening the last, but not least, of these pleasant occasions was enjoyed by the members of the class of 1902. At 8:30 the members of the class began to assemble in the parlors of the Baker House. The ladies being chaperoned by Miss Maud Hanna of the Institute. A pleasant hour was spent in social intercourse. The usual senior dignity was laid aside, and the beautifully decorated parlors echoed and re-echoed with laughter and merry voices. At ten o'clock the class was invited into the dining room and here for the last time in their college course the class of 1902, gathered around the banquetboard. The room was artistically decorated with the class colors, Red and Blue, and with such a profusion of flowers as to rival the Hanging Gardens of Babylon. Here the class for two hours tried to do ample justice to the excellent five course menu which was served in the best style.

The toast master C. E. Goodall after a few instructive remarks presented J. W. Snyder who responded to the toast "How We Won Our Sheep-skins," E. P. Heckert then took a glance into the future, and in a manner characteristic of Eli told the class what we will be "When We Lead Chapel," Miss Edna Bacon rendered a vocal solo after which, L. J. Ulmer responded to "Ex-'02" and showed how the class had contributed famous men to all the leading educational institutions on the western continent. Miss Frances Race then in true poetic style presented the Class Poem. The lucky "Thirteen" was ably responded to by Lamar Williams, and John Davis with all the oratorical force that "Johnny" could put forth did honor to "Our Athletes." G. W. English then paid his tributes to "The Faculty" after which, Miss Margaret Runyan in a most excellent and pleasing manner did homage to "Old Bucknell." The class then united in singing the "Class Song" and the last banquet of the class of 1902 was brought to a close.

During the evening the class decided to publish a class Annual and elected J. W. Snyder as editor-in-chief. It was also decided that the present class officer should remain in office till the first re-union.

The Princeton Game.

Bucknell was easily outclassed by Princeton on Wednesday. The Tigers played as though they were pitted against the hated Eli and succeeded in rolling up a total of nineteen runs against the visitors' one. Captain Milligan's men put up a poor game and greatly aided the home team by their errors both of commission and omission. At bat Bucknell could do scarcely anything, although her total might have been three and probably more had the umpire been at all inclined to give her a close decision or two. With the score 11 to 0 in favor of Princeton the umpire called Epler out for cutting third base when it was very evident that he did not see the play. Underhill pitched the first five innings for Princeton, and Bucknell failed to get a hit. Dunscomb, however, was easier, although Bucknell could not bunch her hits, except in the ninth, when Cockill's triple was followed by Weidensaul's single. Epler was wild and ineffective. Jaekel relieved him in the eighth after two men had been sent to first on balls.

The entire Princeton team played with snap and vim and they outclassed Bucknell by big odds. Aside from Cockill's long triple and a sensational scoop of a grounder by Weidensaul, Bucknell's playing was featureless.

The score:

The Game on Thursday.

The team were up against a stiff proposition in Lebanon Valley College at Annville on Friday, but succeeded in winning by a score of 9 to 4. The Lebanon Valley team had won 10 out of 15 games, defeating such teams as the Indians, Penn Park and Mercersburg, and with their star pitcher, Shenk, whom they had saved for Bucknell, in the box, they expected to administer a defeat to the orange and blue. And the visitors had to play ball to keep from losing, although the absence of two regular outfielders, McCormick and Teufel, was felt. The score at the end of the seventh was tie at four, but in the eighth Bucknell forged ahead, aided by the home team's misplays.

Jaekel twirled for Bucknell and was very effective. He had the heavy hitting Annvillans guessing from short to finish. Other features were the playing of Weidensaul and Stanton. Anderson made good at bat, getting two timely singles. Miller caught well for Lebanon Valley.

The score:

With this issue the present staff of editors relinquishes its control of the ORANGE AND BLUE. During the term it has been the aim of the staff to present such news about college and of alumni as would be of interest to our readers. In the editorial columns it has been our endeavor to offer comment on up-to-date topics, and to formulate a sentiment in harmony with or in opposition to various actions and movements being made within our observation. Some of which deserve commendation and others censure. We have endeavored to treat the topics impartially and honestly, and with this, our last issue, we extend our best wishes to the incoming staff.

The 52nd Annual Commencement of the University promises to be the most successful thus far in the history of the institution. The program is designed to show the spirit and character of the institution, and whilst apparently lengthy it is, nevertheless, free from all tiresome formalities, so characteristic of many commencement programs. A glance at the recent history of Bucknell shows a very rapid increase in her alumni as well as her endowment and this plainly shows that the circle of friends is being rapidly extended. For these and numerous other reasons, this commencement will have a more profound significance. any than of its predecessors.

Owing to the fact that the reports of managers were not given at the meeting of the Association Saturday, manager of Basket Ball, Robinson, begs leave to submit the following brief statement of the finances for season of 1902.

Track and Field Team Again Victorious.

Manager Walkinshaw has just closed the most successful season of track and field events known in the history of Bucknell. The team has captured all of the events entered and has added five pennants to the athletic collection of souvenirs. The closing event of the season was the meet with Lafayette on last Saturday. In this contest the Bucknell team was exceedingly fast and full of vim. Two new records were established. Gillis put the sixteen pound shot 37 ft. 3 in. which was eight inches better than his former work. Theiss surprised the people by cleverly vaulting eleven feet, overreaching his former limit by eight inches. Lafayette succeeded in taking only one first place and if our own men had all reported they would not have gotten that. The final score was Bucknell 74, Lafayette 23.

The summary:

First place counts five points second place three.

100 yard dash, won by Pearse, Bucknell; second, Tiffany, Bucknell. Time 10¼.

120-yard hurdle, won by Glaspy, Bucknell; second, Class, Lafayette. Time 17¼.

440-yard dash, won by Goodall, Bucknell; second, Raub, Lafayette. Time 53¾.

One mile run, won by Slifer, Bucknell; second, Elliott, Bucknell. Time 4.56¼.

220-yard dash, won by Pearse, Bucknell; second, Tiffany, Bucknell. Time 23¾.

Half mile run, won by Marsh, Bucknell; second, Flood, Bucknell. Time 2.19¼.

220-yard hurdle, won by Glaspy, Bucknell; second, Griffiths, Bucknell. Time 27 3-5.

Lafayette did not enter the two mile race.

Running high jump, won by Edwards, Bucknell; Bradley and Shelly, Lafayette, tie for second place. Height 5 ft. 3¾ in.

16 pound hammer throw, won by Trout, Lafayette; second, Gillis, Bucknell; second, Trout, Lafayette. Distance 110 ft. 2¾ in.

16 pound shot put, won by Gillis, Bucknell; second, Trout, Lafayette. Distance 37 ft. 3 in.

Pole vault, won by Theiss, Bucknell; second, Raub, Lafayette. Height 11 ft.

Whereas, God in his infinite wisdom has seen fit to remove from the cares and trials of this world our dearly beloved friend and sister Nellie Conrad, and

Whereas, we feel that her place among us can never be filled, and

Wheras, we, her sisters in Pi Phi hereby desire to attest our appreciation and love for our dear sister.

Therefore, be it resolved, That in this her hour of deepest sorrow, we extend to her mother our heartfelt sympathy.

Our grief though great cannot be as great as hers, be it further

Resolved, That a copy of resolutions be indorsed and sent to her mother in behalf of the Pi Phi fraternity of Bucknell University and that they be published in the ORANG AND BLUE.

THE STEELTON GAME.

Bucknell had no license to win at Steelton on Saturday. The home team was made up largely of old college players and they outclassed the orange and blue both in the field and at the bat. Berry, formerly of Harrisburg, was a stumbling block for the visitors, striking ten of them out. Captain Milligan's men were able to hit him in but one inning, the fifth, when six hits netted five runs, Weidensaul making a double with three men on bases. Bucknell had other chances to score, but could not hit the ball. The game was played in a steady downpour of rain, making good playing impossible.

The score by innings:

Steelton	0 0 0 3 1 3 2 0 *—9

The Reserves Beaten.

The reserves suffered another defeat at Watsontown on Saturday afternoon. But yet it was not a serious fall. The absence of the regular pitcher, Taylor, who was with the 'Varsity on their trip, somewhat weakened their forces. Gilbert, however, pitched a nice game and held them down to a few hits. Deats caught a very nice game. The entire team played an excellent game and made the opponents work for the two additional runs. Captain Barrett and his men are loud in their praise of the good treatment accorded them.
